FORD SAYS NATION SAVED FROM GREAT CALAMITY

False Prosperity Hurt Country but Business Now Recovering on Sound, Healthy Basis

In the following interview Henry Ford gives his viewpoint on business conditions of the moment. He says the country has been "saved from a great calamity of false prosperity," that it "has ceased being sick, is now well, and will soon be strong and active again."

[Copyright, 1930 by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

BY A. M. SMITH

DEARBORN (Mich.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—"Business will get better but we won't know it when it does," was Henry Ford's cryptic reply to an inquiry regarding his impression of the business outlook.

"A sick man either dies or gets well, and usually he does not know when the crisis is past and recovery has begun," said Mr. Ford. "In society there is no 'either-or'; society always gets well again. So we have the fact as an anchor. There is no doubt as to the outcome; we are going to become as well as we were before.

"But we don't know in this country when business is sick or well. We have a curious method of interpreting economic signs the wrong way.

"For example, last year at this time everybody was plunging into the stock market with the notion that a great wave of prosperity was flooding the country and that almost anybody could get a lot of something for nothing.

SICK LAST YEAR

"Well, that was the time when we were really sick and didn't know it. Since then the country has been crying about business depression and hard times, but as a matter of fact, hard times are the road to recovery from the bad condition we mistook for prosperity.

"Recovery from any kind of sickness is always a good thing, even if it is accompanied with considerable pain and inconvenience. But everybody is mistaking the recovery for the sickness.

"The country is far better off today than it was a year ago when the people were fairly crazy with stock speculation fever. We are better today than we have been for three or four years.

"It was a mighty good thing for the nation that the condition which we misnamed 'prosperity' could not last. It was only the forerunner of adversity. This country was terribly sick a year ago, but nobody knew it. The flush of stock speculation fever was mistaken for the glow of health.

"Yet now, when we think the country's business is very sick, it is really getting well; it is in fundamentally healthier condition than it was a year ago.

ECONOMIC SALVATION

"The time to feel sorry for a man is when, in the waste of his powers, he is making himself sick, not when nature has laid him on his back to make him well. That is what has happened to society. What we call the depression is our economic salvation. The invisible law simply would not let the country proceed any farther along the road to ruin.

"You can't dodge the truth that nobody gets something for nothing. For years past most Americans have believed they could. The belief in Santa Claus has been erected into a philosophy of business. And when that fails we fall back on sentimental sorrow for hard times. The same writers who were telling us how prosperous we were a year ago are telling us how hard up we are now. They are wrong both ways.

"We are moving into a healthier

R-100 TRIP SPURS PLAN OF AIR LINE

Dirigibles for Regular Service to Canada to be Constructed by British

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance)

LONDON, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Having completed a successful round trip across the Atlantic the British are preparing to build another sister-ship to their great dirigible, the R-100, which already has a mate in the R-101.

In addition plans are already under way for the construction of several larger dirigibles, which can carry on a regular service between this country and Canada.

These are the chief results of the voyage which has made Britain a rival of Germany in the airship field.

It was known here today that the R-100 is not to be permitted to rust at her moorings. As soon as possible she will be made ready to go back to Canada and bring over R. B. Bennett, the new Prime Minister of that country, to attend the imperial conference in October.

As for plans for the larger ships Sir Denniston Burney, designer of the R-100, said today that vessels capable of carrying 100 passengers and of making eighty-five knots an hour are necessary for a regular schedule and he expects to see it established.

KING CAROL CORONATION POSTPONED

Queen Helen Plans Trip; Ceremony Will Take Place Some Time Next Spring

BUCHAREST (Rumania) Aug. 17. (AP)—The coronation of King Carol II was definitely postponed today until the spring of 1931. Queen Helen plans a prolonged absence on a journey.

The reasons for postponing the ceremony are said to be personal as well as political and economic.

Ecclesiastical and civil officials have been making elaborate preparations with the understanding that the coronation ceremony would be held October 15. Carol desires services more closely approximating those of the Greek Orthodox rite than were used in the last two coronations. The patriarch Miron Cristea has been studying old scrolls in an attempt to satisfy Carol's wishes.

COLLISION KILLS ONE

FRESNO, Aug. 17. (AP)—One man was killed and five others were injured in a head-on automobile collision on the Golden State Highway several miles north of here early today. Al Barron, Chowchilla garage employee, died instantly.

Will Rogers Remarks:

TAHOE TAVERN, Aug. 17. [To the Editor of The Times:] If you want to read the most beautiful thing that's been written in years, it is not a poem, it's not an editorial, it's a will. You wouldn't think that so much love for all mankind could be so practically expressed as it is in the will of ex-Senator Phelan. Most of you will only read that he left Helen Wills $20,000, but get a paper with a copy of the entire will, and you will say, "Why, there is a man that wanted to do some good." For pure charity and tolerance toward all races and creeds it's a masterpiece, it makes me feel ashamed that I ever knocked a Senator.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

CLARK MAY BE MORROW SUCCESSOR

Name of Envoy's Aide in Mexico Most Frequently Mentioned for Post

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Selection of a successor to Dwight W. Morrow, Ambassador to Mexico, is one of the problems now before President Hoover for solution. Several names have been mentioned for the post, the most frequent being that of J. Reuben Clark, former Undersecretary of State, and now the private assistant of Mr. Morrow at the American Embassy in Mexico City.

President Hoover appointed Mr. Clark special Ambassador for the inauguration of President Ortiz Rubio, while Ambassador Morrow was absent in London at the naval conference. Since that time friends of Mr. Clark have been urging his selection as permanent Ambassador.

It has been reported that President Hoover looks favorably on Mr. Clark's selection, but inquiry at the White House today failed to elicit any information regarding how the Mexican post will be filled.

VILLAGERS ON LOOKOUT FOR STORK

Visitors Peer at Castle Where England's Royal Baby will Make Debut

GLAMIS (Scotland) Aug. 17. (AP) Visitors from near-by towns and two sight-seeing busses from Aberdeen crowded the village street leading to the towering castle where Great Britain's new royal baby is awaited. The visitors peered through the gates at the castle entrance, and jammed a spot on the road whence a clear view of the castle could be obtained through a gap in a belt of trees. Some climbed Hunter's Hill to inspect the forty-foot beacon which awaits a signal from the castle to flash news to the surrounding countryside when the Duchess of York gives birth to the child.

Princess Elizabeth rode her pony around the Glamis grounds today, but the Duchess remained indoors. The Duke attended divine services in the castle chapel. Home Secretary Clynes attended church at Kirriemuir, the "thrums" of Barries' stories.

Young Chang did not even bother to spring the well-worn occidental joke that the report of his death had been greatly exaggerated.

The young Manchurian war lord is determined to remain neutral through the present phase of Chinese warfare if he has to play tennis all summer to do it. As a golfer he also has a private links to fall back upon when war scares are rife in Manchuria.

The owner of the plane told authorities the craft as well as the pilot were unlicensed.

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Aug. 17. (AP)—Eddie Schneider, 18-year-old flyer seeking to establish a junior transcontinental flight record, was forced to land near Anton Chico, 100 miles east of here, late today, en route from Wichita, Kan., to Albuquerque.

The flyer telephoned airport officials here he will remain overnight at Anton Chico and take off at daybreak tomorrow for Albuquerque. He is expected here about 6:30 a.m.

Farm Home Fire Fatal to Four

THREE HELD IN FLORIDA DEATH PLOT

Asserted Conspiracy to Slay Governor Told by Jacksonville Sheriff

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) Aug. 17. (AP)—Sheriff Cahoon tonight announced the arrest of three men in what he said was a conspiracy against the life of Gov. Carlton of Florida.

The men are Fred O. Eberhart, publisher of the Tallahassee State News, and Frank Ralls and Henry Halsema, both of Jacksonville.

They were arrested last night and are in jail. Sheriff Cahoon said he will swear out warrants tomorrow charging the men with conspiracy to procure the assassination of Gov. Carlton.

The Sheriff declined to divulge details of the asserted conspiracy, stating he "will furnish the evidence upon which the charges are based at the trial."

The Sheriff said he also seized about forty gallons of liquor at the Halsema residence.

The Sheriff said the arrests were the results of several days' investigation.

Earls' Deaths Prove Costly to Title Heir

LONDON, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—The effect of death duties on ancestral estates in England was shown yesterday in the publication of the settlement of the inheritance by the fourth Earl of Durham, who died four months after the death of the third holder of the title, thereby imposing two taxes on the family holdings in less than a year.

The estate was valued at $7,718,000, but the two assessments amounted to $3,500,000, even though the clause halving the second tax in the event of two deaths in the same year was applied. The present Earl's inheritance, therefore, was cut in two.

Bomb Rain Routs Afridi Tribesmen

PESHAWAR (India) Aug. 17. (AP) Chastened by a daily rain of bombs from British planes, raiding Afridi tribesmen today were reported in full retreat to the hills of the northwest frontier, and the menacing situation here was considered relieved.

Despite the decreased tension, martial law regulations proclaimed in the city yesterday were officially published today. The Haji of Turangzai, a consistent border troublemaker, is reported to be still trying to persuade the powerful Mohmands to take the field against the British.

Coste's Atlantic Flight Delayed

ALL RESCUED FROM TAHITI AS STORM RACES ON SHIP

Passengers and Crew Removed to Ventura Without Mishap Despite Rough Seas

By The Associated Press

In one of the lonesomest corners of the world today was written one of the most thrilling chapters of maritime history with the rescue of the 175 passengers of the disabled and helpless liner Tahiti by the Matson liner Ventura.

The 142 members of the Tahiti's crew also were taken aboard the Ventura, which radioed it was proceeding to Pago Pago, Tutuila. The steamship advised the S.S. Tofua, which had been going to the rescue, to resume its course as further help was not needed. The Tahiti was left abandoned.

RAIN SOAKS MIDWEST

Corn and Cotton Benefited

Entire Drought Area with Few Exceptions Gets Good Wetting

River Stages Unaffected; Canal Flow Increased for Sanitation

CHICAGO, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Widespread and copious rains in the last few days have effectually broken the drought in all but a few isolated spots in the corn and cotton belts, the Weather Bureau announced tonight.

More than three inches of rain soaked Aurora, Ill., most of Kane county and adjacent Du Page county over the week-end, nourishing the crops of truck farmers who supply a good portion of Chicago's vegetable market.

Lower Illinois and Indiana, numbered among the acutely stricken areas in President Hoover's drought survey, soaked up showers today ranging from 3.10 of an inch at Mt. Vernon, Ill., to a trace at Cairo, Ill.

Heavy showers revived pastures and truck gardens in the vicinity of Pana, but came too late to benefit corn, alfalfa and soy beans, farmers said.

RIVERS UNAFFECTED

Steady drizzles sprinkled most of Indiana all day and are continuing tonight. Although Hoosier dairymen have already begun to cut corn to supply fodder for cattle starving on the burned pastures, there is hope that fields still standing in the midlands might be saved.

While considerable rains have fallen also over Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota in areas tributary to the Mississippi River, neither the precipitation nor the increase of the water flow through the Chicago drainage canal has as yet begun to affect the river stage.

With low water conditions menacing public health and navigation, Secretary of War Hurley Friday ordered the flow from Lake Michigan through the sanitary canal increased from 6500 to 12,000 cubic feet per second until levels of the Illinois and Mississippi rivers are restored to normal.

EXTENT OF RAINFALL

The extent of the area benefited by rains since midweek is indicated in a table prepared by W. P. Day, government meteorologist at Chicago. Following are precipitation figures in decimal inches:

Springfield, Ill., 1.15; Peoria, Ill., .88; Des Moines, .43; Keokuk, 1.40; Omaha, .34; Valentine, Neb., 1.58; Terre Haute, 1.24; Evansville, .96; St. Joseph, Mo., 1.73; Kansas City, 1.69; Columbia, Mo., 1.24; Springfield, Mo., 2.23.

Crop experts estimated that the late corn yield in Iowa will be increased at least ten bushels an acre as a result of the week-end rains. That the entire State received plentiful precipitation is demonstrated from the following rainfall figures:

Fort Dodge, 1.18 inches; Ottumwa, .32; Storm Lake, 2 inches; Davenport, 1.6, and Boone, .18 of an inch.

Scattered showers in Minnesota and the Dakotas improved conditions in the corn, late wheat and potato fields.

Not a single life was reported lost in the rescue of the passengers, although they traveled in open lifeboats from the water-logged and badly listing Tahiti through a rolling sea to the Ventura.

HELP ARRIVES

The Ventura, smoke belching from her funnel from forced fires under her boilers, reached the Tahiti at 9:30 a.m. Monday (3:30 p.m. Sunday, Pacific Coast time) after a 700-mile sprint through desolate waters of the South Pacific.

Wireless reports intercepted by the Mackay Radio Company at San Francisco detailed the swift voyage of the Ventura southeast from Suva, Fiji Islands, to the hulk of the Tahiti. Racing against an impending storm, the Ventura was pushed at sixteen knots an hour through a virtually uncharted portion of the South Pacific. Hidden shoals and reefs were disregarded.

Since last Friday the Tahiti has wallowed in the heavy swells about 500 miles southwest of Rarotonga, Cook Islands. One of her propellers fell off, her tail shaft was damaged and water rushed into her holds, rendering her helpless. Engineers sought vainly to repair the damage so the vessel might proceed on one engine.

PUMPS MANNED

Capt. A. T. Toten of the Tahiti, rather than risk a double transfer of his passengers to the Penybryn and then to some other vessel, set the crew to work at the pumps. Dispatches described their valiant work against the inrushing water and they kept the Tahiti afloat long after it seemed she was doomed.

The Penybryn has ample room to accommodate the passengers and crew of the Tahiti, but lacks food and sleeping accommodations.

Another vessel rushing to the aid of the stricken liner today was the United States Shipping Board freighter Antinous. It is believed her assistance will be unnecessary except for an emergency.

HEROIC EFFORTS OF CREW BALK DISASTER

LONDON, Aug. 18. (AP)—(Monday) Dispatches to the Daily Herald from Brisbane, Australia, this morning reported that heroic work at the pumps of the disabled British steamer Tahiti had saved the ship from foundering before rescue arrived.

Twice before the Norwegian freighter Penybryn came alongside, Capt. Toten of the Tahiti ordered the passengers into the lifeboats. He did not inform them that a great storm was brewing.

On each occasion, however, furious work by the crew at the pumps gave the Tahiti another chance to ride out the heavy swells. Each time the passengers were ordered back on board again lest the boats be scattered in the impending storm.

Conditions at sea were reported to have been too difficult to allow transhipping of the Tahiti's passengers to the Penybryn before the Ventura arrived.

PASSENGERS BOOKED FOR BAY CITY LISTED

WELLINGTON (N. Z.) Aug. 17. (AP)—Passengers aboard the disabled liner Tahiti booked for San Francisco, in first and second classes, were published today as follows:

POODLE IN OTHER TWIN BED

Dog, Sole Companion of Aged Spinster Heiress, Eats and Sleeps Beside Mistress

BY EDNA FERGUSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—In the bedroom of America's richest spinster, the 76-year-old mistress of $100,000,000 or more, two ancient high-backed twin beds stand side by side. One is for the fabulously wealthy heiress, Miss Ella Wendel, last of her line, and the other is for the creature now dearest to her—her ever-faithful dog.

The entire routine of the Wendel mansion revolves around the needs and comforts of this pampered animal, a small white poodle, it was learned today. For today, the shuttered, sequestered Wendel mansion, at Fifth avenue and Thirty-ninth street, decaying symbol of a bygone age in a district now otherwise given over entirely to business and long an object of curiosity, opened its doors to a reporter for the first time since its erection in 1856.

While Miss Wendel, sole survivor of the family of six sisters and one brother, remained secluded in the rock-walled fastnesses of her Irvington estate, a reporter was conducted by a trusted caretaker through the ancient Fifth-avenue house, during which she learned of the life that goes on behind its tightly bolted doors.

No caller comes to pull the bell cord of the stately front door, nailed and bolted for a decade, and nobody but the dog and an occasional veterinary ever shares the glories of the magnificent first-floor dining-room.

Here, the last of the Wendels, mistress of vast estates built up from the days 200 years ago when the first John Gottlieb Wendel

LID RIPPED OFF FUNGI SEX LIFE

And That's More Important than it May Sound

Parasites' Effects on Food Fought by Science

Insects and Mold Join in Pestiferous Alliance

BY DR. FRANK THONE

CAMBRIDGE (Eng.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Sex life among the fungi is being discussed by learned scientists attending the fifth international botanical congress here at one of England's oldest universities. This may sound frivolous but the subject is really of profound practical and economical importance. Fungi are the germs of the worst crop and orchard diseases and they are the spoilers of food, clothing and other things used by man.

Prof. J. H. Craigie of Winnipeg announced to the botanists that he has discovered that black stem rust of wheat, a serious disease of that cereal, hybridizes and originates new strains of that fungus.

This is unhappy news to wheat growers since it may mean that the new rust resisting wheats that plant breeders have developed through hybridization may find the disease that they were bred to escape evolving to catch up with them. Growers of the new hybrid wheats given them by science may find them attacked by new rusts and the battle between scientist and fungus will need to be renewed.

Pink mold such as sometimes grows on the housewife's bread follows the laws of heredity as discovered by the monk, Mendel, in his monastery garden. Dr. B. O. Dodge of the New York botanical garden told the congress that three species of pink bread molds that he had cross bred showed typically Mendelian hybrid behavior among their offspring. One kind of mold that has two protoplasmic hearts or nuclei, keeps its love-making within its own particular group, but another strain adventurously marries out of its species every chance it gets.

Piratical partnerships between fungi and parasitic insects preying on trees were described by Dr. J. N. Couch of the University of North Carolina. The scale insects that suck the sap of trees live in shelters formed by the fungus. They raise large families of young insects which crawl away carrying the fungus with them and planting it in new unworked locations. Thus the children pay the fungus for the service it rendered to their parents.

Sometimes, however, there is double crossing among these parasitic gangsters. The fungus will infect and devour some insects instead of housing them and at other times an invading fungus is merely used as food and digested by insects.

Friends, just a novelty. Last week I received more compliments as a columnist writer than as a restaurant keeper. Don't think that I have a publicity manager. No, I write my own stuff. You can tell by my wop-American vernacular.

ENDURANCE HOP ENDS SUDDENLY

tion of their sustained record contest in the St. Louis Robin a year ago, "only it was ten days longer."

Warm in praise of the refueling crew, Bill Brewster at the controls of the Patsy Ann, and P. V. Chaffee, who worked the gasoline hose, the endurance champions said the refueling work was the "most remarkable thing of the flight."

"It was remarkable. Every one of the contacts was perfectly made; no trouble experienced at all; not even a scratch on either ship. You can't beat that crew at handling a ship."

A medical examination was given the flyers after they returned to earth. The twenty-seven days aloft had not affected them physically in any way. Hearing of both is normal and neither shows any great change in weight.

DIFFICULT TASK

"Tired? No, not very. The first three or four days passed slowly, but after we got used to it the time seemed to pass swiftly," said the champions.

"The hard part, and the most interesting, was to get up past the 553-hour mark set by the Hunter brothers. After that it was easy sledding—just coasting down hill."

Mrs. Sally Jackson and Mrs. Elsie O'Brine, the flyers' wives, who prepared the food for their husbands, were at the field when the plane landed, and accompanied them to the hotel.

Congratulatory messages poured in tonight from all sections of the country.

FEW CONTRACTS

To date, financial returns include only a few contracts for exhibitions at State fairs. The first appearance will be at the Missouri State Fair in Sedalia, Mo., next Saturday. Contracts also have been arranged for appearances at State fairs in Iowa, Ohio, Minnesota and Indiana.

Finances for the venture were provided by subscription from St. Louis citizens, aided by Jackson and O'Brine. The cost of the record-breaking flight, exclusive of investment in planes and equipment, was approximately $1000 a week.

Contracts for appearances at the fairs approximate $23,000; advertising contracts amount to $1800 and the flyers were given $7000 by an oil company which furnished the oil and gasoline for the flight. They earned about $40,000 for their flight last year.

RANKIN BROTHERS TAKE OFF IN OREGON

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 17. (AP)—The six-passenger Stinson monoplane, On to Oregon, manned by three brothers, Tex, Dick and Dud Rankin, took off from the Rankin Airport at 1:50 p.m. today in an attempt to break the endurance refueling record established at St. Louis by Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine. Several thousand spectators saw the start of the flight.

In order to establish a new record, the Rankin brothers must remain in the air until 3:18 p.m. September 13, next.

WICHITA PAIR START AFTER AIR RECORD

FORD TALKS ON BUSINESS

economic condition, but, as I said, people generally will not be able to recognize it. We shall not know sound, well-established prosperity when we first see it, because most of our standards of judgment are wrong. But there is one thing about real prosperity—it is not the prelude to another panic, as false prosperity always is.

NO SANTA CLAUS

"We should get enough experience out of a stock market collapse such as we had last year to convince us that in business and industry and real prosperity there is no Santa Claus. We get what we honestly work for, in the long run—just that and no more. So far as employment and ready money are concerned, we got just what was best for us in view of our general notion about earning money and enjoying prosperity.

"There is a world of difference between making money and creating real wealth. Wealth is not money. Real wealth is in use, not in possession. Wealth is not money, but the facilities for a secure and comfortable life.

"Real prosperity is the uninterrupted flow of commodities from those who make them to those who use them. Money has nothing primary to do with it. If money assists to maintain a sufficient flow, it is useful; if it stops the flow, it is a detriment. There is no other meaning of prosperity except the ministry of supply to the use of need. Money simply goes back to the realm of statistics, or counters, or wooden pegs—something you count with.

HONEST PROSPERITY

"Now, with this in mind, will you say we had prosperity a year ago? I think not. The present situation is vastly preferable because it is a step toward an honest prosperity which honest men can share and which gamblers cannot disturb. The country was on the wrong track and mighty sick at the very moment when it thought high prices and quick returns for little or no effort were a sign of great prosperity. That was merely the high temperature of a bad fever. But now there is every sign of returning health. But the people don't know.

"Let our people clearly perceive that they were absolutely deceived in their general impression that we were at the peak of economic health when, as a matter of fact, we were suffering severe economic derangement, and the wailing over this period of recovery will cease. There is great cause for thankfulness that we can recover from such prolonged and violent economic bad living.

"Of course, you can't persuade mere money-makers or speculators of the truth of this. To their distorted minds fever will always appear as health. Their wrong slant can never be corrected until they are inoculated with the germ of healthful, honest work.

CURED BY REAL WORK

"Well, some of them have been inoculated during the past year. They have been compelled to take a dose of that fine, old-fashioned medicine, real work. But they are still convinced that the medicine is worse than the disease. They still have their very unhealthy point of view. They will go on in this delusion until an unwise generation permits another fever to come along. Then they will rejoice with the mock feeling of false prosperity, and not know that then they are sickest.

"This nation will never go forward on a gambling basis. If you can get that into the heads of capitalists and speculators you will be a great doctor. But I doubt it can be done. The only hope for this country is that gradually the common people will learn there is no economic Santa Claus, and stick to their honest jobs.

SAVED FROM CALAMITY

"I suggest to the people and newspaper writers and clergy to take the view that this nation has been saved from a great calamity of false prosperity. It is now the duty of citizens to see that this period of return toward a sane basis of living is used to the utmost. It is just as foolish to follow the cry of 'depression' as it was to follow the cry of 'prosperity.'

"Some people called us pessimists when we did not praise the prosperity of the last three years. Now they call us stronghearted because we do not join in the mock griefs of the publicists over what they call hard times. I personally am very hopeful, because I think the country has ceased being sick, is now well, and will soon be strong and active again."

Four Executed in Russia for Hoarding Coin

MOSCOW (U.S.S.R.) Aug. 17. (AP) Stern action to end the recent hoarding of silver coin in Russia has been taken by the soviet police.

Four men, convicted of counter-revolutionary activities, were arrested and shot. They were a speculator, a cashier and two traders.

Many other persons have been sentenced to various terms of imprisonment for encouraging the hoarding of silver, which recently has caused the government some embarrassment.

Mine Rescue Fight Goes On

BLAKEBURN (S. C.) Aug. 17. (AP) With the fire which caused a temporary cessation of work Friday night sealed off, rescue parties are working twenty-four hours a day in an effort to reach the level of the Blakeburn mine where forty-two men have been entombed since an explosion Wednesday night.

As the mine filled with poisonous gas immediately after the explosion, all hope that any of the imprisoned men may be found alive has been abandoned.

SWIFT'S SUICIDE CAUSE TRACED

Brooding Over Ill Health Given as Reason

Widow Sends Instructions on Funeral Plans

Effort to Balk Fatal Deed Told by Nurse

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (AP)—With a self-inflicted bullet wound in the heart, the body of William E. Swift, 33-year-old member of the wealthy meat-packing family, today is in an undertaking establishment awaiting arrival of relatives from Chicago, where burial is expected to take place.

Swift's suicide, which occurred last night in a Park-avenue sanatorium, was described by Chicago friends and by Dr. Edward S. Cowles, head of the hospital, as due to despondency over ill health. He had entered the institution nearly a year ago.

Sanatorium officials today explained how Swift had in his possession the revolver with which he shot himself after being restrained by his nurse from jumping out of his fifth-story window. Swift was permitted to come and go as he pleased, they said, and on Thursday was away from the sanatorium.

REVOLVER SEEN

Saturday a nurse of Dr. Cowles's staff reported seeing what she believed to be a revolver in Swift's room. Rudolph Heitmarek, Swift's private nurse, was instructed to get the gun as soon as possible. Officials said he was planning to take it away from the patient last night before the latter fell asleep. But while the nurse was out of the room he heard a shot and rushed in to find Swift dead.

Dr. Cowles issued a statement saying Swift had been in ill health for more than two years. He entered the hospital last October and was believed to be progressing favorably when stricken several weeks ago by pneumonia, from which he recovered only slowly, the physician said. Shortly after the suicide, police said he had been under treatment for brain inflammation, alcoholism and pneumonia.

It was on the same floor of the same sanatorium that Jeanne Eagels, star of "Rain" and other plays, died on October 2, 1929. She was seized with a convulsion while awaiting one of her regular examinations and succumbed.

MESSAGE FROM WIDOW

At the morgue, where Swift's body was removed from the sanatorium officials received a message from a woman in Baltimore who said she is his widow. The message, taken to the morgue by an official of a pressed beef company here, directed that the body be removed to an undertaking establishment and said relatives will arrive here from Chicago tomorrow. The message gave Mrs. Swift's address as Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore.

Widely known as "Billy," Swift was an athlete and sportsman. He was the son of Louis F. Swift, president of Swift & Co. His wife was Miss Helen Morton, daughter of Mark Morton, salt manufacturer.

He leaves besides his widow and his father, a son, William, 5, and two brothers, Alden Swift of Chicago and Louis F. Swift, Jr., of Denver, and a sister, Mrs. James Minotto.

founded the family fortune in real estate, dines daily with her dog except during the summer, which she spends at her Irvington-on-Hudson estate. At the long red velvet-covered banquet table she eats her simple meals, surrounded by hand-carved panels of black walnut and the massive furniture of the 80's.

Beside her at a specially constructed table the beloved animal nibbles daintily at his calf-liver rations, according to the caretaker.

"Sometimes the dog eats too much liver and then we have to call the veterinarian," the old servant explained.

The aged woman is alone always, now, with her dreams of the past. She never leaves the house except in an emergency such as to visit a dentist for work that cannot be done there, or to make her annual summer pilgrimage to the equally stern, walled-in country home at Irvington.

Although no guests have used the ten guest bedrooms on the third and fourth floors for twenty years they are kept scrupulously clean and the beds freshly made. The ancient service bells that no longer ring are carefully polished, and woe betide the servants if dust be found on any window sills.

Even the clocks throughout the house are wound regularly once a week by a worker who calls for that especial purpose.

GREENLAND BARS FRENCH EXPLORERS

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 17. (AP)—The scientific expedition financed by Le Journal of Paris must leave Scoresby Sound, Greenland, the Danish government decided today. The expedition, headed by Dr. Downbroya, landed on the sound despite the government's prohibition, and orders have been forwarded to the authorities there to oust the explorers. The government objects to the expedition's presence, it is said, because on previous visits to Angmagsalik and East Greenland Dr. Downbroya failed to comply with the conditions laid down by the authorities.

NATION'S CHIEFS 'IN CONFERENCE'

President and Aides Debate Pressing Problems

Drought and Aeronautics on List of Subjects

Lindbergh Among Guests at Virginia Camp

ORANGE (Va.) Aug. 17. (AP)—The mountain lodge of President Hoover was the scene today of further conferences on the drought situation between the President, Secretary Hyde and Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board. No conclusions were announced.

Word from the camp said the President expected the governors of thirteen States originally included in the relief organization to have completed their set-up of State relief committees by Tuesday and that the complete program will be well under way soon afterward.

The appointment by Gov. Pollard of former Gov. Byrd as chairman of Virginia's relief committee was the only one officially to come to the President's attention today.

CONFERENCES HELD

Between walks along the near-by mountain trails the President continued his conferences today with departmental air chiefs on problems confronting commercial aviation and possible Federal steps to awaken greater interest in the industry.

The Chief Executive has been informed this industry is lagging somewhat and he is anxious that it be speeded up through expansion of air-mail services, principally to Latin-America, closer co-operation between the government and those engaged in the industry and other means.

F. Trubee Davison and David S. Ingalls, air chiefs, respectively, of the War and Navy departments, flew back to Washington today from the camp, leaving Clarence M. Young, assistant Secretary of Commerce in Charge of Aeronautics; W. Irving Glower, assistant Postmaster-General in Charge of Air Mails, and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to return later by automobile.

The President and his large party of guests amused themselves variously over the week-end. Some took to the bridle paths, while others, including Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh, found diversion with indoor darts and picture puzzles.

MINIATURE GOLF

Miniature golf invaded the area adjacent to the Hoover camp for the first time this week and was available for those of the party enthusiastic enough to go a mile to play. United States marines constructed the course.

Allan Hoover, younger son of the President and Mrs. Hoover, was said to have tried his luck at the new pastime, but Col. Lindbergh was engrossed in the improvised flying-field near by, also built by the marines to facilitate the Hoover mail delivery from Washington.

The Presidential party will leave tomorrow morning for Washington.

TRIO GRAB CHILD AND FLEE IN CAR

Mysterious Actions of Motorists Reported by Woman Arouse Police

Grabbed from the street, where he was playing, by two men and a woman and then spirited away in an expensive sedan, a four-year-old boy was the object of a city-wide search early today after citizens in the 500-block on North Hayworth avenue reported the case to police.

Residents were first attracted to the child when he ran screaming in front of a man who had stopped his car in the middle of the street. A few minutes later the second man in the car shouted to his woman companion and they both joined in the chase.

Finally the child was cornered between two apartment house buildings, grabbed up by one of his captors, placed in the car and hurried back to the street.

The speeding machine was chased by a citizen and the license number obtained but a check on the address given by the Motor Vehicle Department revealed that no one had lived at that address for several weeks.

Mine Bombers Escape Arrest

MURPHYSBORO (Ill.) Aug. 17. (AP)—Sheriff Flanigan of Jackson county, said today two Zeigler miners sought in connection with the aerial bombing on mining property at Providence, Ky., last week, escaped arrest Friday night by jumping from the second floor of a lodge hall at Zeigler.

Flanigan said no trace of the men, Ed Heckelbeck and Ray Edmond, had been found since then. He had warrants for both men and refused to discuss the case further.

SOVIET FACES SEVEREST TEST

Class Struggle Becoming Increasingly Bitter

Says Communism Holds No Peril for America

BERLIN, Aug. 17. (AP)—America, in the opinion of Dr. Samuel N. Harper, professor of Russian history and institutions at the University of Chicago, has nothing to fear from soviet Russia, industrially, politically or socially.

The professor was interviewed today as he passed through here on his way back to America after two months of intensive study of present-day conditions in Russia.

"Although soviet Russia is making great strides industrially," the professor said, "it is doubtful if it will ever reach the high level of the United States because it lacks not only the necessary capital, but the engineering and administrative skill, and the natural initiative and enterprise, of Americans.

"In a political and social way, Bolshevik Russia holds no menace for us because in the thirteen years the soviets have been in power Communism has made virtually no headway in the United States. The present standard of life in Russia is so appallingly low that no American workman, however humbly placed, would adopt Communism."

SOCIALISTIC PERIOD

The class struggle in Russia, Prof. Harper believes, is becoming increasingly bitter. He thinks although this is the thirteenth year of the revolution, Russia now is facing its most critical and decisive period since the rise to power of the Bolshevists.

"In Stalin's last speech at the Communist Congress, there was a significant paragraph in which the Red Dictator pointed out 'soviet Russia is now' in the period of Socialism."

"Before, Russia was only on the road to Socialism. The concrete expression of the new stage is the famous five-year industrialization plan, now at the end of its second year, and the political and economic doctrines underlying the revolution are being put to a real test."

Living conditions, he said, have become much worse. Prices have reached such fantastic levels as to suggest deliberate inflation. In almost all the elementary needs of life an acute shortage exists. Bread, meat, sugar, butter and other foodstuffs are being sharply rationed.

SILVER HOARDED

Lines of people, he remarked, may everywhere be seen patiently waiting for their allowance of food. They are bluntly told by the government that for the sake of future generations they must suffer for another two or three years.

The peasants, he continued, are hoarding silver money to such an extent the metal has almost ceased to be a medium of payment in Russia. At the same time the city population is converting paper money into tangible articles of merchandise, which can later be sold or exchanged for foodstuffs if the ruble collapses.

He found a dearth of shoes, dress goods, paper, tobacco and other articles. A pair of new shoes in Moscow costs 120 rubles (the gold ruble is worth about 50 cents.)

He observed that most Americans who go to Russia now take their own food, though none of the American engineers domiciled there ever are in want, because the government gives them the preference over the native population.

"The coming winter will be a most serious one for the soviets, and may well try their entire economic edifice. But the crop promises to be one of the best in their history and may save the situation."

BARRYMORES PLAY BLACKFACE

Daughter to Make Debut with Mother

Ethel Barrymore Colt and Ethel Barrymore

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Somewhat counter to the original plans of her mother, Ethel Barrymore Colt will make her stage debut in Cleveland on the 29th inst., playing an important role in the dramatization of Julia Peterkin's novel, "Scarlet Sister Mary." Miss Colt's mother, Ethel Barrymore, will be the star of the play, which will come to New York October 13.

Although mother and the daughter are now agreed on the project, it was indicated today that there was just a little argument — or perhaps it was just discussion—before that agreement was reached. Miss Barrymore was willing her daughter should go on the stage, but had planned that Miss Colt, should spend another year abroad, completing her study of music and languages.

In June last year Miss Colt was graduated from Notre Dame convent, Moylan, Pa., with highest honors in music. She went then to the Villa Gazzola, a girls' school at Verona, Italy, to study singing.

Two months ago Miss Barrymore went abroad to join her daughter and they returned recently on the Berengaria. Miss Colt decided she would go on the stage with no further delay and has signed a contract with Lee Shubert. Ethel, the elder and Ethel the younger will play blackface in "Scarlet Sister Mary," the Pulitzer prize novel for 1928. It is the story of a Negro woman and her nine children, all but one of whom are illegitimate. Ethel the younger will play the part of Seraphine, Sister Mary's first child.

JULIAN WELL RUNS WILD

Homes in Vicinity of Oklahoma Field Periled by Uncontrolled Eruption of Gas and Oil

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 17. (AP)—An oil well of the C. C. Julian Oil and Royalty Company is running wild today in a residential section in the north end of the Oklahoma City oil field. Families were removed from homes in the immediate vicinity of the well, fires of other drilling operations were extinguished and roads were blocked.

The well, the No. 2 Houser, the second brought in by the Julian company in the South Oklahoma City field, broke loose this morning, when it was shut in after flowing its initial twenty-four hours. Its estimated oil flow is 175 barrels an hour, and it has a calculated gas flow of 50,000,000 cubic feet a day.

Control presents a difficult problem, as the break is below the master gates and engineers express belief that the oil and gas are coming up from between the six-inch and nine-inch casings. The master gates were opened to relieve pressure on the break and most of the oil is going into tankage on the Julian and T. B. Slick leases.

A score of residents fled from their homes when the menacing giant well broke loose and roared defiantly as oil-field workers rushed to pit their skill against the strength of nature.

Because of its location the well is considered more dangerous than the "Wild Mary" Sudik, which for more than eleven days recently sprayed the countryside with a shower of oil.

Tommy Vaughn, conservation officer for the district, after an inspection of the well, said workmen will experience difficulty in bringing it under control.

OPERATIONS PLANNED IN DEFIANCE OF STATE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 17. (AP) Defying attempts of the State to require him to comply with the oil proration and conservation program by stating his company has not entered into a proration agreement and does not intend to, C. C. Julian, oil operator, tonight announced he has completed a refinery here and will establish a retail market system of 100 service stations.

Atty.-Gen. King announced yesterday his assistant, W. L. Murphy, early this week will file suit against Julian's oil and royalty company to require him either to comply with the proration agreement, ratified by the State Corporation Commission, or throw his company into receivership.

King's announcement came after operators, all of whom King said had agreed to reduce their output of petroleum, had strenuously protested the flowing of a Julian well on a city lot in Oklahoma City. The well was shut in, however, after flowing seventy-two hours. A second well is out of control tonight.

Julian said he believes he is within his rights in producing from two wells he has drilled in the Oklahoma City field, regardless of State proration orders and agreements.

The suit will be the first test of the power of the Corporation Commission to order curtailment of oil production in the State.

FIVE KNOWN DEAD FROM SHIP BLAST

Another Man Succumbs to Injuries Received When Florida Tanker Blows Up

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) Aug. 17. (AP) The known death toll in last night's explosion aboard the Atlantic Refining Company's tanker Brilliant reached five today with the death of Joseph B. W. Jeffords, one of the visitors inspecting the engine room at the time of the blast.

One unidentified visitor is missing and believed burned in the tanker which was destroyed, together with its cargo of 378,000 gallons of gasoline. The five dead include one member of the crew and four visitors.

CATHOLIC CHIEFTAIN ON RADIO

Supreme Knight Carmody Gives Address as Feature of Boston Convention

BOSTON, Aug. 17. (AP)—A radio address by Supreme Knight Michael H. Carmody of Grand Rapids, Mich., was the principal event in today's activities of the forty-eighth annual Supreme convention here of the Knights of Columbus.

Carmody paid tribute to Catholic women in his talk, which was addressed to the Daughters of Isabella, Catholic women's organization. He especially thanked them for their service during the World War to the soldiers of all creeds.

Gov. Allen of Massachusetts and Mayor Curley also spoke over the radio on the convention's program.

At a dinner tonight of Fourth Degree members and their guests John E. Swift of Milford, Supreme Director, spoke of a league for truth against defamation. He said Cardinal O'Connell is heartily in favor of the idea and urged all K. of C. councils to make themselves units in such a league, combating mudslinging and defamation.

Zuta Scandal Promises to be City's Greatest of Kind

Officials and Politicians Face Quizzing of Prosecutor

State's Attorney Says More Clews Being Guarded

CHICAGO, Aug. 17. (AP)—Pat Roche, chief investigator of the State's Attorney's office, today indicated evidence uncovered in the investigation into the slaying of Jack Zuta may expose a political-criminal alliance without precedent in the city's history.

Records of Zuta already made public, showing receipts and disbursements of the Moran-gang vice lord, have resulted in a number of public officials and politicians being called to the State's Attorney's office for questioning.

"But we have much more than we have made public," Roche said. "Before we disclose the rest of it we must question many persons, and bring together every bit of evidence into a perfect pattern."

A corps of detectives competed with anxious gangsters today in the search for the Zuta holdings still unfound, but believed to rest in secret niches somewhere in the city. Authorities say they have information that two trunks containing ledgers and a $250,000 emergency fund were hidden by Zuta before his death. Authorities also sought to locate a number of persons and offices named in the papers already impounded.

LEGION SESSION TO AID JOBLESS

Meeting will be Opened in Sacramento Today

California Convention will Try to Find Solution

Exclusion of Aliens May be One Measure Urged

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 17. (AP)—The California department of the American Legion, opening its three-day twelfth annual convention here tomorrow, hopes to suggest some solution for the unemployment problem.

Clarence L. Kincaid, Hollywood, department commander, said today an authoritative estimate was that [illegible] California ex-service men are unemployed and that of this number, 6000 men are members of the Legion.

"These comrades are looking to us for assistance in the solution of this problem," Kincaid declared. "After a thorough discussion, the department executive committee determined upon the appointment of a committee to study this question, its recommendations to be submitted to this convention."

PLANS SUGGESTED

The commander said the committee is expected to suggest means of alleviating the pressure of unemployment on those who served the United States in time of war.

More than sixty resolutions have been filed urging better enforcement of immigration laws and quotas reducing entry of the number of Filipinos, Japanese, Mexicans and other aliens. It is not known how many of these resolutions will reach the convention floor, for they have yet to be passed by the resolution committee.

THOUSANDS ATTEND

The majority of the more than 20,000 delegates expected to attend the convention arrived here today.

About 1500 members of the American Legion Women's Auxiliary are here to conduct their own business sessions in conjunction with those of the veterans. Margaret Kaeding of Glendale is president of the auxiliary.

INDIAN BRAVES GATHER FOR PAGEANT

Albuquerque Will Stage Drama of First American

Southwest Tribes to Re-enact Ceremonials, Dances Centuries Old

Photo shows descendants of the First Americans in the Eagle Dance of the Tesques, one of many such colorful ceremonials to be produced at Albuquerque the 19th, 20th, 21st and 22nd inst. when hundreds of Southwest Indians will perform in the pageant of the First American.

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—The Indians of the Great Southwest again will reign supreme in the territory they once ruled when tens of thousands of visitors assemble in Albuquerque to witness the four-day pageant of The First American on the 19th, 20th, 21st and 22nd inst. All summer in the council kivas of a score of Southwest tribes the headmen have met, old songs and chants have been rehearsed, ancient ceremonies and dances have been revived.

On the level mesa to the east of Albuquerque a four-story pueblo, duplicate of the communal pueblo village, has been constructed and it is here that that drama of The First American will be unfolded under the direction of Mike Kirk, whose name is a byword in every Indian home in the Southwest. Hidden lights will illuminate the scene at night and a large grandstand will accommodate the thousands who come to witness the colorful pageantry of the earliest American races.

In the canyon of the Rito de los Frijoles, near Albuquerque are caves hollowed from volcanic rock, blackened with the smoke of fires cold 6000 years—but a thousand years is a yesterday on the great plateaus of the Southwest.

Beyond history and beyond speculation, a race of hardy people has lived and loved and fought up and down the valley of the Rio Grande. When Columbus stumbled upon the Indies and news of "great white birds upon the water" crossed the continent by the invisible telegraph, the Pueblo Indians had built their communal homes, developed their religion and were irrigating their lands with the same ditches which carry the life-giving water today.

Nowhere upon the North American continent is there a race with the tremendous background of the Southwest Indian. Conquered and conquering for untold centuries, pillaged by the Spaniards, thrown into the great American melting pot, the Indian of New Mexico is today even as were his ancestors when the eyes of Coronado first swept their peaceful villages.

It is the story of this race, acted by its surviving members, which for two years Albuquerque has told to the world in The First American and which again this year will draw its tens of thousands of visitors.

GYPSY GIRL LYNCHED BY SLAV MOB

Victim Stripped, Beaten and Strangled for Raid on Peasant's Hen Coop

BRATISLAVA (Czecho-Slovakia) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—The long-standing hatred of the peasantry in and around the town of Atha in Southern Czecho-Slovakia against thieving gypsies culminated in the lynching of an 18-year-old gypsy chief's daughter after a summary trial in the village square. She was stripped naked and dragged through the streets to a death by slow strangulation.

The trial was conducted by adults and the horrible execution was carried out by half-grown farm boys, while a howling mob of women and girls trailed the cortege and beat and stoned the victim.

The girl had been caught red-handed in a raid on a chicken coop and the enraged peasants set up an impromptu court and passed the death sentence on her.

The gendarmes arrested five lynchers and are seeking others.

GALE MADE BY PLANES HALTS FIRE

Propellers Used to Keep March Field Grass Blaze from Reaching Ships

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—A gale produced by a series of airplane propellers recently prevented damage at one of the auxiliary fields near the Army Air Corps primary flying-school, March Field, Cal., it was revealed in official reports to the War Department today.

The fire had started in the dry grass and was sweeping down the field to where several planes were standing on the line. One nameless hero thought of throwing the fire back on itself.

Backing their observation planes, the flying instructors held them stationary by means of the wheel brakes and tuned up their powerful 420-horsepower motors to their maximum revolutions. Such a gale was created that the fire did not come within twenty feet of the planes, and cadet flyers and mechanics beat the flames out.

Trio Waylay and Beat Physician

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (Exclusive) Three mysterious assailants, after making a careful study of the personal habits of Dr. Julius Bloom, eminent Bronx nerve specialist, attacked him early today and beat him so severely that he may die. Obviously informed that the doctor, who is 50 years of age, was wont to go for a midnight stroll for an hour or so, alone each night, the trio waylaid him at 2 a.m., as he returned to his home.

Mrs. Bloom indicated that the doctor had been under surveillance by his assailants, but insisted that so far as she knows her husband has no enemies.

BOURBONS GET NEW HARD SLAP

Representative Wood Hits at Continual Knocking

What Would You Do? Asks Republican Official

Offensive Being Taken Away from Democrats

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—The leaders of the Democratic party were challenged today by Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, to stop criticising the Hoover administration long enough to offer the country a constructive program of their own.

"You have been knocking long enough; now tell us what you would do," Wood demanded in effect.

It was another fighting statement akin to that put out yesterday by Robert H. Lucas, new executive director of the Republican National Committee, and it indicated further that the Republicans are wearied of the passive policy they have had in effect and now intend to take the offensive in the campaign for control of Congress.

Lucas's statement yesterday charging the Democrats with obstrucing President Hoover and playing for political advantage out of the nation's economic adversities, brought an immediate and somewhat plaintive denial from Democratic national headquarters. The Wood statement promises to place the Democrats in the same defensive role tomorrow. If the rejuvenated Republican machine can keep on consistently beating their foes to the punch it will be a great thing for Republican Senatorial and Congressional candidates. More aggressiveness at national headquarters is what these candidates have needed.

STINGING STATEMENT

Declaring the Democrats have done nothing but criticise and misrepresent, Representative Wood said:

"This propaganda may have served until the advent of the Congressional campaigns, but now that the voters must choose between candidates and parties, they naturally expect something more than glittering generalities, abuse and plain efforts to obstruction and destruction.

"Having listened for months to attacks; having seen the Democrats in Congress use every means at their command to delay the administration program and so contribute to economic depression and business uncertainty, the American people now demand that Mr. Shouse and his party come forward with a program.

"Through the months they have waited in vain for the Democratic leaders to do so. Nay, they have waited in vain for even so much as a single constructive proposal from the Democrats as to how they would attain the millennium which they so adroitly indicate would be present were they only in power.

WHAT DO THEY OFFER?

"Mr. Shouse and the other Democratic spokesmen have assailed the farm relief program—which the Democrats supported in Congress—but what have they offered in its place? They merely have made a pious pretense of favoring the export debenture scheme of relief, a scheme which even they must recognize to be both uneconomic and destructive of the very industry it would pretend to assist.

"In one breath they denounced the new tariff bill as a 'robber' measure and in the next they demanded that its rates be 'frozen' upon the country through repeal of the provisions under which the President through the Tariff Commission might rewrite rates to correct inequalities and meet changing economic conditions.

"That about sums up their offerings to the country down to the present, except that they did make an effort to impose their theories in respect to industrial tariff rates. Had they been successful in this they would have added to unemployment and retarded industrial recovery for many months and perhaps years by letting in a flood of foreign goods made under wage scales and living standards far below those in the United States.

ADVANCES LISTED

"The plain truth is that Mr. Shouse and his cohorts have one purpose only: To assail, to slander and to malign the President of the United States and to attempt to block his every effort to carry forward the great task to which he has set his hand.

"This is made abundantly clear by the literally hundreds of statements which have emanated from the Raskob-Shouse propaganda bureau under the names of Mr. Shouse and a long list of Democratic Senators and Representatives. In them is found not even the slightest reference to the fine constructive program the Hoover administration has accomplished in the past sixteen months.

"One hears no mention of a reduction of the income tax; of an economy which enabled the government to end the last fiscal year with a surplus of $184,000,000; of further reduction in the public debt of more than $1,000,000,000; of an expansion of the American merchant marine; of a comprehensive plan for early completion of the great Mississippi inland waterways system; of an enlarged public buildings and road program to relieve unemployment; of more generous aid to and additional hospitals for disabled veterans; of a definite program for conservation of the nation's oil resources; of prison reforms and extension of prison buildings; of better law enforcement; of the reorganization of various government bureaus and the many other constructive achievements of the Hoover administration."

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

GOV. TAPIA IS COMPLIMENTED

Head of San Diego Chamber Writes Letter

Executive Praised for His Progressive Policies

Work of Statistical Bureau Highly Praised

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 17.—Over the signature of Hal G. Hotchkiss, president of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, Southern California today sounded a message of congratulation and well wishes to Gov. Tapia of Baja California.

Tapia was congratulated by Hotchkiss for his outstanding success in the upbuilding of Baja California during the short period of his administration. Hotchkiss then particularly stressed the good work being effected by the Governor's new statistical bureau, under the direction of Santiago Reachi.

This for the first time, is revealing a host of facts for the benefit of Southern California business men, which are certain to make still more cordial trade relations between Mexican and American California.

For instance, figures of both the Mexican government and the United States Treasury indicate that Tia Juana and Mexicali have monthly imports from Southern California of approximately $1,200,000.

This, says Hotchkiss, is a tremendous buying power for communities of the size and a particularly important asset as a trade area for Los Angeles, San Diego and other Southern California manufacturers, jobbers and merchants.

Tia Juana's new $250,000 high school is an architectural triumph, which would do justice to a metropolis, says Hotchkiss, and this, despite the fact that Tia Juana's population increased more than 300 per cent during the decade from 1920 to 1930.

The new Tia Juana-Ensenada highway will not only open up to general travel "Lower California's Riviera," but will add another to the celebrated scenic drives radiating throughout and from Southern California. Hotchkiss says that the ability of Southern California, soon to advertise a good road into the heart of this adjoining foreign land with its mountains, deserts, beaches and world-famous hunting and fishing grounds, will still further the enormous tourist travel throughout Southern California.

Hotchkiss commends the efforts of Gov. Tapia and his staff in seeking increased travel to Lower California, thus opening up the little-known and appreciated interior to American observation and capital; he also commends the construction of the new Playa Ensenada Hotel at Ensenada by the group of influential American and Mexican capitalists headed by Martin J. Healy, Gene Normile and Jack Dempsey; also other efforts to make more accessible and enjoyable this near-by picturesque Mexican coast village, which already this year has purchased commodities from Los Angeles manufacturers, jobbers and merchants totaling well over $3,000,000 with imports from San Diego exceeding $1,000,000.

Expert Sees New Industry

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 17. (AP)—Important mineral elements for cattle, hog and chicken feed are to be drawn from the huge kelp beds off the Southern California coast, according to a prediction made by George A. Cavanaugh, professor of agricultural chemistry at Cornell University, following his arrival from New York in the Panama Pacific liner Virginia.

Harvesting of the kelp on a scale which will eclipse the operations here during the World War, when the kelp was used in munitions manufacture, was hinted by Cavanaugh, who has devoted four years to intensive research in regard to the kelp.

"We have discovered that many agricultural products produced inland are deficient in certain chemicals which are very valuable for the feeding of cattle, hogs and chickens," Cavanaugh said. "The kelp beds off the Southern California coast supply this highly necessary ingredient, the supply is unlimited, and if our plans are successful, as there is every reason to indicate that they will be, this industry will become one of the greatest of its kind in the United States."

ROBBER TAKES AUTOMOBILE PARTS

UPLAND, Aug. 17.—Someone with an automobile that didn't have any spare parts and an empty gasoline tank, was sought by police today.

This person with the scantily equipped automobile forced his way into buildings on the H. L. Manker ranch, 1248 West Twelfth street, and got his car well equipped.

A large quantity of gasoline was stolen. Other loot included two automobile jacks, several wrenches, a grease gun, and several other things.

The thief was on the job for quite awhile, it is believed, as he waited while the gasoline was siphoned from a large tank.

GIANT SWORDFISH IS FISHERMAN'S PRIZE

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 17.—After a three-hour battle waged over the side of his own boat, the Tot, Tom Bruce of 718 Maple avenue, today caught the first Marlin swordfish of the season here. It measured nine feet seven inches and weighed about 250 pounds.

Other notable catches made off Municipal Pier today included a 345-pound Jewfish, two yellowtail and two striped bass. The latter are rarely taken in this vicinity.

PARK PROJECT INDORSED

Letter from Army Officer Indicates that the Government is Greatly Interested

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 17.—Official indorsement by the United States War Department of California's State park program reached San Diego today in a letter from Thomas M. Robins, lieutenant-colonel of the engineering corps and division engineer in charge of the South Pacific division.

The War Department will be pleased and gratified if the State park bond issue is carried in this county the 26th inst., the letter indicates.

The War Department is not interested, officially, in pleasure resorts for the public, and has only an unofficial interest in the "save the beaches" movement. But the Federal government is interested vitally in protection of its sea coast and for that reason, is cordially in favor of the program on which the voters must decide.

Writing the State County Parks and Beaches Association, Col. Robins says: "I am glad that steps are being taken in San Diego county to raise funds for the acquisition of beach areas for State parks. State control of as many California beaches as possible will be of great assistance to the War Department in carrying out the investigations and studies recently directed by Congress with a view to devising effective means of preventing erosion of our sea coast by waves and currents. Please express to the directors of your association my appreciation of the many courtesies extended during the session in your vicinity of the American Shore and Beach Preservation Association." With the "save the beaches" idea foremost in the minds of the public, less attention has been directed to the mountain and desert part of the county program included in the State park bond issue to be voted on next week.

Four parks will be established in the county if the $435,000 bond issue is voted to match a like amount offered by the State. The Coronado Strand and the Agua Hedionda sites have drawn the most comment, while interest in the Palomar Mountain wooded area and the Borego Desert Park have been given less consideration.

TRIO SAVED FROM DEATH IN RIP TIDE

Guards Rescue Man, Girl and Boy After They Get in Trouble at Manhattan

MANHATTAN BEACH, Aug. 17. Three swimmers, caught in a small rip tide off here were rescued by life guards yesterday after a battle with the waves.

Louise Pierce, 18 years of age, of 924 La Brea street, and William Senkenwics, 25, of 609 Mysotis street, were brought ashore by Lifeguard Campbell, after the two fought a losing fight against the outgoing tide. They were unconscious when reached by the guard, but rapidly recovered after reaching the beach.

Hubert Malone, 12, who failed to give his address, following his rescue by lifeguards, was easily revived after his brush with the waves.

Legion Plans New Streets for Redlands

REDLANDS, Aug. 17.—Two plans for improvements around the library and the bowl are before the City Council. One by the American Legion, suggesting a great boulevard, 200 feet wide, from Olive avenue to the Bowl, and the other for a wide boulevard in front of the library from Fourth to Eureka streets and the paving of Vine street from Fourth to Eureka.

The Legion recommendation was presented by Frank Godshall, commander of the post. He says that because of the beautiful prosellis and the use of the Bowl for so many things, it would be wise at this time to purchase a strip 200 feet wide for a boulevard, lying between Eureka and Grant streets and extending from Olive avenue to the Bowl. Councilmen are doubtful that such a thing would be feasible unless all the property were bought, because the block is only 300 feet wide. To buy it all would mean the purchase of fourteen pieces of property. The committee investigating consists of H. E. Cromas, W. L. Fowler and F. A. Alexander.

Dr. W. J. Morris and E. E. Rowe urge that Vine street be paved from Fourth to Eureka streets and the City Engineer has been ordered to bring in plans and specifications for this work. It would be paved with macadam. Dr. Morris says that the pavement is not bad, but that the crown makes it almost impossible to park autos on the street.

City Engineer Hinckley also has ready a map for the realignment of the drive in front of the library, made necessary by the new wing. This will be a wide drive from the present drive into Eureka street on a straight line.

HUNDREDS WATCH HAY-BARN FIRE

ALTADENA, Aug. 17. — Traffic was tied up for an hour here last night while more than a thousand persons watched the local unit of the County Fire Department battle a spectacular blaze which destroyed an old hay barn in the rear of 2288 Lincoln avenue.

The loss will amount to less than $1000, Fire Captain R. H. Franklin reported.

By the time the firemen arrived, flames were shooting fifty feet high from the burning hay and tinder dry lumber, and the department was forced to work fast to save near-by buildings. The fire was of undetermined origin. The barn was owned by B. S. Morris, and was an old landmark in this community.

CHAMBER IN EFFORT TO CLEAN UP LOTS

SAN FERNANDO, Aug. 17.—An intensive campaign to rid all vacant lots in this city of dead citrus trees is to be launched next week by the Chamber of Commerce with the co-operation of city officials. All residents are to be urged to clear off dead trees from their property with particular attention given to abandoned subdivisions which are covered with dead trees once part of flourishing orange groves.

It is the contention of Chamber of Commerce officials that the trees not only constitute a fire hazard, but detract materially from the appearance of the residential sections. Sale of ten acres of property here last week was blocked because the prospective buyer found the property covered with the dead trees, according to a local real estate man.

The campaign to beautify the residential district will continue until all dead trees have been removed, it was said today.

They are equipped with the latest type of Boeing navy fighting planes.

The navy flyers will stop tonight at El Paso; the next stop will be to Dallas for tomorrow night; Wednesday night the squadron will be in Kansas City and the next hop is planned to make the official entry over Chicago at 2 p.m. on the 22nd inst., for an exhibition starting the races.

Olsen has filed divorce proceedings in the Superior Court against Ludwig Olsen, truck mechanic.

The couple separated July 6, last, after living together for more than nine years. The woman asks alimony.

PASADENA, Aug. 17. — Struck down by a backing automobile as she was carrying a tray of food to occupants of a car parked at the Rite Spot Cafe, 1500 West Colorado street, Miss Daisy Vincent, 20 years of age, a waitress, was injured at 12:35 a.m. today.

The city ambulance rushed the victim of the accident to the Pasadena Emergency Hospital, where she was given first aid by Dr. Howard Hatfield for lacerations of her legs.

FRUIT THIEVES GUILTY

Two Los Angeles Youths Before Justice at Ontario; Campaign to Continue

ONTARIO, Aug. 17.—Determined to stop the thieving of fruit in this district, growers and packers are making effort to apprehend those who can't pass groves without helping themselves to oranges or peaches.

Dan Leary, 19 years of age, of 1637 Eighty-fifth street, Los Angeles, and Jack Wright, 18, 9005 Cedar street, Los Angeles, felt the sting of the courts when they were arrested here on complaint of George Stensgaard, who charged them with stealing five boxes of Kelsey plums from the Stensgaard orchards on Fifth street, between Ramona and Monte Vista avenues.

Taken before Judge George R. Holbrook in the Ontario court, the boys entered pleas of guilty and were given the alternative of paying $50 fines each or spending fifty days in jail.

The boys were apprehended in Narod by Deputy Sheriff Henry Marquette of Narod, who investigated the theft. The fruit was part of a shipment Stensgaard had ready for shipment to New York.

Cannery officials have united with growers in their campaign against fruit thieves. Although signs are posted conspicuously about groves in the district, they are frequently ignored, and reports of petty thefts are frequently made.

The Ontario-Cucamonga Fruit Exchange offers a standing reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons stealing fruit. This includes motorists who, while driving along boulevards, cannot refrain from stopping their cars and helping themselves to one or two oranges or peaches from trees.

Within one season's time these small thefts make a deep impression in each individual grower's crop.

BUTTERFLY COUNT COMPLETE

Expert Issues Booklet About Insects

Jeane D. Gunder

Who has made a scientific study of the colorful flying bugs.

PASADENA, Aug. 17.—Workers who recently completed the task of counting human beings in the last census may think they had a hard job, but according to Jeane D. Gunder of 310 Linda Vista avenue, who announced today completion of the first census of butterflies ever made, their work was child's play.

Mr. Gunder yesterday completed a sixty-page booklet, "The Butterflies of Los Angeles County," which will be issued as a supplement to the regular bulletin of the Southern California Academy of Sciences. He is a nationally known entomologist who is devoting his money and time to the collection and study of papilionidae (butterflies.)

By a scientific testing of the density of various types of butterflies in all parts of the county, he has estimated the total number in Los Angeles county as 2,706,528,200.

From the economic standpoint, he asserts that the most important result of his years of effort is his discovery that the 1,500,000,000 small white butterflies in the county are increasing at the rate of 5 to 10 per cent annually due to increased growth of foliage and damp areas.

Due to the fact that the white butterfly does more damage to crops than the more beautiful and rare species, he believes it will be only a matter of time, before drastic measures will have to be taken to reduce the white papilionidae population.

"The small whites," Gunder asserted, "are the most common by far and they do great damage to alfalfa and garden truck. All other varieties are of no economic importance."

Many persons may be surprised, Gunder believes, to learn that there is a butterfly immigration problem. By careful work, he has estimated that 200 butterflies reach this county annually from Central and South America, and 3,000,000 immigrate here from Orange and San Diego counties, most of these being "painted ladies."

"There are more kinds of butterflies in this county than in any other county in the United States. This is correct from a scientific count of known varieties, of which there are 178. Of course, the actual number of existing individuals is estimated, but probably is roughly correct and is the first census attempt of its kind.

"The butterfly population in the county is increasing steadily. As cultivation and homesteading expand so do the planting and vegetation afford new territory for additional butterfly families. The domesticated kinds take the place of the wild or native sorts, and in most cases the newcomers are a burden on vegetation, whereas the disappearing ornate species kept down the parasites and added beauty and color to the outdoors."

The rarest butterfly, found in sufficient numbers to count in this vicinity, is the yucca variety, a small, velvety black species. Gunder estimates there are less than 3000 of these left.

Next to the small white species, the most common is the "skipper," of which there are approximately 600,000,000.

The fact that there is a record number of butterfly varieties in this section is due, Gunder asserts, to diversified topography and varying conditions of altitude and climate.

CREW WINS FIGHT WITH BRUSH FIRE

Blaze in La Canada Area Conquered After Close Call for Homes

PASADENA, Aug. 17.—One hundred fire-fighters, under the direction of Deputy County Fire Warden Percy, with United States Forest Service men from the Arroyo Seco station, battled a stubborn brush fire for more than three hours before it was extinguished, one-quarter of a mile from the La Canada school, this afternoon.

More than fifteen acres of brush and trees were burned and the hilltop home of Leo M. Harvey was saved by a matter of yards, it being in the direct path of the fire. The blaze was started by a resident burning brush, authorities said. The flames got away from him. Several other homes were threatened, but were saved after desperate efforts on the part of the fire-fighters.

Big Tonnage of Antelope Valley Hay to Go East

LANCASTER, Aug. 17.—Alfalfa growers in Antelope Valley are beginning their first move to ship, under order, 300 tons of alfalfa to Atlantic seaboard points, via Los Angeles Harbor and the Panama Canal. Hay produced in this section is said to be the finest in the United States, and brings a premium in the eastern markets. About $15 a ton is expected. All growers in the valley are interested, and committees from the co-operative association have been appointed for some time to promote the shipment. By sending its vast amount of fine hay to the East by boats Antelope Valley hopes to stabilize the Southern California markets, which are often glutted with alfalfa oversupply.

MAN ARRESTED FOR CHILD STEALING

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 16.—Los Angeles police officers arrived here today to return Richard Schrader to their city for trial on a charge of child stealing. The man was arrested here yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Blake Mason.

Schrader and a divorced wife have figured for months in a spectacular contest for possession of their child. Mason was told that Schrader recently took his child to New Jersey, only to be pursued by his wife, who returned the youngster to Los Angeles. Schrader followed, the story goes, and the child disappeared from its mother's home again. Schrader did not have the youngster with him when apprehended.

Auto Man's Wife Seeks Divorce

VISALIA, Aug. 17.—W. H. Richards, Visalia automobile dealer, was named defendant in a divorce complaint filed in the Tulare County Superior Court by Mrs. Vera Brundage Richards, through her attorney, Walter C. Haight.

Mrs. Richards asserts in her complaint that her husband frequently absents himself from his home all night, and refuses to tell her what he is doing when he is absent. She asks a monthly allowance for the support of their three children, Veda, Lucille, 11; William Henry, 10, and Alice Mary, 8, all of whom she asks custody as well.

He came to California from Texas.

POWER-HOUSE IS LANDMARK

First High-Tension Line Built Near Ontario Forty Years Ago

UPLAND, Aug. 17.—Built forty years ago to produce electricity for the world's first high-tension line, the power-house in San Antonio Canyon will be preserved as a local historic landmark, if present plans of the Upland Lions Club are carried out.

Success of the small power plant in the canyon, housed in a structure 20 by 30 feet, was instrumental in development of the Southern California Edison Company, now one of the largest electric transmission organizations in the world.

According to A. W. Burt, pioneer of this community, C. G. Baldwin, president of Pomona College at that time conceived the idea of high transmission possibility over long distances, and obtained a small electric plant, gained the support of a few backers, and started the power-house in the canyon which give rise to the San Antonio Light and Power Company in July, 1891. The first high-tension long-distance electric company ever organized for commercial purposes came into being, and the transmission of high voltage electricity over power lines followed.

The small structure has fallen into depreciation considerably, but part of the Lions' program is to rebuild the small power house to its original condition as closely as possible, and the original motors and other equipment are to be sought out and replaced in the structure.

The power-house will then be permanently maintained and cared for.

Glenn D. Smith, district manager for Southern California Edison Company, with offices in Ontario, is a pioneer in electrical development in the west end of San Bernardino county, and will assist the Lions in their program of restoration.

REDLANDS CONSIDERS NEW LAW

Regulations for Plumbers Being Investigated by City Authorities

REDLANDS, Aug. 17.—Redlands may have a new plumbing ordinance, one very similar to that in use in San Bernardino and then again it may not. For the committee appointed to investigate consisting of Gordon Donald, G. Huizing, M. E. Armstrong, G. S. Hinckley and Henri Fisher, reported yesterday and presented an ordinance which was designed largely on that used in San Bernardino. It was introduced and is likely to occasion considerable argument pro and con before it is adopted.

Mr. Fisher stated that from the plumbers' viewpoint, the present ordinance is most desirable, it requires an examination and the best quality of workmanship and he does not believe the fact that wiped joints, or lead, increased the cost a lot in the average building, although this is where criticism has been made and real estate men have said that building costs here are considerably higher because of it.

Councilman Cromas flatly stated that he saw no advantage in changing a new ordinance so as to get cheaper work and that he felt such an ordinance should not be introduced until thoroughly investigated and especially until it has the support of the plumbers.

Others spoke and said they had heard criticism of the Redlands ordinance as being too severe. Mr. Hinckley says the chief change is to cut out an examination and Mr. Armstrong reported that many cities are now adopting this feature in order to be sure that any plumber working in the city knows his job.

Fruit Packer Returns from Long Auto Trip

REDLANDS, Aug. 17.—C. M. Brown, leading independent fruit packer, has returned from an automobile trip to Seattle, accompanied by Mrs. Brown and friends, where they went to attend the fiftieth wedding anniversary of his sister, Mrs. J. S. Clark.

From Portland they went to Seattle and then down to The Dalles and to Crater Lake and then back home. Mr. Brown says that business is quiet, but that there are some indications it is on the upgrade.

Robbers Visit Rural District

CUCAMONGA, Aug. 17.—Two week-end robberies in this district caused authorities to seek bandits who might try to dispose of a number of cameras, fountain pens and a rifle.

Two places were entered and robbed. One was the Hunter Pharmacy at Cucamonga, and the other the Owl Cafe at Etiwanda.

Loot valued at more than $400 was stolen from the pharmacy, together with $52 in cash from the register of the Motor Transit office located in the store.

Entrance was gained by forcing open the front door with a bar. Practically all of the cameras in the place were taken, as were all fountain pens. Candy and trinkets were also included in the loot. Deputies from the Sheriff's office obtained several fingerprint specimens. The theft is laid to youthful amateurs.

A rifle and small amount of cash were obtained from the cafe in Etiwanda. Fingerprints obtained in the cafe will be compared with those found at Cucamonga, in belief both robberies were committed by the same gang.

WANT-AD USED IN NEW WAY

Angry Owner Asks Neighbor to Return Borrowed Lawn Mower

VAN NUYS, Aug. 17.—The efficacy and sure-fire result of the ordinary newspaper want ad again has been demonstrated. Here's one with the proverbial new "slant."

Philip Prell, manager of the Hollywood Country Club who resides at 7044 Kester avenue, took a three-weeks' vacation with his wife. When they returned they found the family lawn mower gone.

Prell inserted a small want ad in a Van Nuys newspaper asking the neighbor guilty of borrowing the machine and failing to return it, to bring it back.

Two days later the lawn mower came rolling home. The apologetic neighbor explained that he had thought the Prell premises deserted until his wife had read him the want ad.

Large Paving Award Made in Burbank Area

BURBANK, Aug. 17. — The widening of Olive avenue between the Southern Pacific tracks and the Los Angeles River bridge, a distance of several miles, is soon to begin following the award of contract to J. L. McClain of Los Angeles.

The cost of the huge paving improvement of this most important north-and-south artery of Burbank will be more than $237,000, on the basis of the figures bid. Under the contract, the work must start not later than a month following the award. It is stated it will take about four months to complete the project. Extensive excavation, water-main installation, grading and other engineering work is involved in the improvement.

Olive avenue runs from the Burbank foothills, crossing San Fernando Road in the Burbank business district, and thence across the railroad tracks to the First National motion-picture studio in the southeastern part of San Fernando Valley.

The response was by Col. Alfonso G. Fonseca, president of the Southern California Canadian Society. A musical program was a feature, the Santa Monica Municipal Band leading the music. A feature of the afternoon was the flag raising. Miss Anna Hayden of Santa Monica was presented as Miss California when the American flag was raised and Miss Corrine Coleman, also of Santa Monica, as Miss Canada when the Canadian flag went up. Miss Mary Chapelle of Los Angeles, represented Miss England, and was presented when the British flag was unfurled.

BOOK DEALERS LAUNCH DRIVE

Economist Engaged to Make Survey of Industry

Widest Distribution will be Aim of Publishers

Dollar-Volume Sale May be Reason for Quest

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (AP)—An economist has been engaged to make a thorough survey of the book industry and to seek means for the widest possible distribution of books, the National Association of Book Publishers announced today.

Edward H. Miller, president, said O. H. Cheney, former Superintendent of Banking in New York State, has been employed to conduct the survey, financed by the book publishers, the Book Binders' Association of America, and book dealers, paper manufacturers and allied interests.

Mr. Mills foresees as a result of this research "a new period of growth and extended markets, and reduced costs through standardized manufacture."

No mention was made in the announcement as to whether recent severe cuts in book prices by several publishers prompted the survey, and four houses which are after the "dollar book" trade characterized their venture as still an experiment.

Spokesmen for Doubleday-Doran, Farrar & Rinehart, Simon & Schuster and Charles Boni said the dollar-book experiment will require a year's trial to determine its financial success.

Publishers who have maintained the $2 and $2.50 price on popular novels said they have no immediate expectation of following competitors into the dollar-book business.

"We're going to wait," said Cass Canfield of Harper & Brothers. "About three times as many dollar books as $2.50 books must be sold if the publisher is to make the same profit—and we don't believe that can be done."

"ENOCH ARDEN" WIFE ONCE THOUGHT DEAD

Mrs. Catherine R. Packard

PUZZLE OF DEAD WOMAN UNSOLVED

Vermont Officials Make No Progress in Case of Wrong Identification

SPRINGFIELD (Vt.) Aug. 17. (AP) Atty.-Gen. Carver came here today to confer with State Detective Brown in a further effort to pierce the mystery surrounding the identity of a woman buried as Mrs. Catherine R. Packard, who reappeared last week.

When the conference was over the Attorney-General returned with the detective to Montpelier after saying that the State has no intention of dropping the case, which was described as either homicide or suicide.

There was little progress made today but Brown will return from Montpelier in a day or so. Meanwhile Catherine Packard remained in a hotel under arrest here with Robert B. (Romeo) King, her companion on a trip west, after she had disappeared from the home of her husband, George J. Packard, more than a year ago. Packard has since married again.

Persia Denies Entry by Turks

TEHERAN (Persia) Aug. 17. (AP) The Persian Foreign Office today officially repudiated reports that Turkish soldiers had made an incursion into Persian territory. The announcement also denied that another note of protest had been received from Turkey.

The Turks have been urging Persia to allow their armies to operate on Persian soil in a campaign against the Kurdish rebels, who had access to Persia after being cornered on Mt. Ararat.

UNIFORM PILOT LAW FOR STATES SOUGHT

CHICAGO, Aug. 17. (AP)—A model air license act to require all pilots not having a Federal license to obtain a State license was adopted yesterday by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws. It will be recommended to the various State legislatures for enactment. The act aims to supplement Federal regulation which applies only to interstate aviation.

FUAD SCHEMES FOR MONARCHY

Egyptian Coup d'Etat Said to be Planned

King and Premier to Make Startling Changes

Constitution Completely Rewritten by Pair

LONDON, Aug. 17. (AP)—King Fuad of Egypt and Premier Sidky Pasha are said in an article contributed to the Daily Mail today to be planning a coup d'etat that will make Fuad an absolute monarch with a restricted Parliament.

The King and the Premier, according to the writer, have drafted a completely new constitution, which the King is to sign Tuesday. The Constitution will be operative immediately and entail the dissolution of the present Parliament with its heavy Wafdist majority.

The plan is said to include radical revision of the Egyptian electrical law. Two-thirds of Parliament will be chosen on a modified democratic principle, based on the view that universal suffrage is not suitable for a country almost wholly illiterate.

The other third will be chosen by the government. Under the government of Premier Sidky Pasha, bitterly opposed by the Wafd, this third will really be chosen by King Fuad himself. Incidentally the number of Deputies will be reduced from 240 to 100.

The writer says the most remarkable feature of this sensational plan is that the British government, though it must be fully informed of the proposed changes, is ignoring them on the grounds they do not concern Great Britain.

ROAD BUILDING CHIEF ACTIVITY

Leading Construction Item of Government

Average Annual Outlay for Highways $90,000,000

Unemployment Conference Issues Survey

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Road building has become the leading item of expenditures by the Federal government, according to the survey on the planning and control of public works issued today by the committee on recent economic changes of President Hoover's unemployment conference.

From a level of only $3,752,750 spent by the Department of Agriculture on Federal highways in 1919 the outlays on that account were shown to have risen to an average of more than $90,000,000 in the last five years. A total of $101,212,186 was spent by the Federal government on new road construction last year.

During the last eleven years new construction by the various Federal departments aggregated $3,280,065,000, while repairs and maintenance during the same period amounted to $763,286,000, making a grand total for all additional construction during the period of $4,033,351,000.

Federal government funds for construction are dispensed mainly in connection with the following: Inland waterways, irrigation and flood-control projects in the West, maintenance of channels at ocean ports, river and harbor improvement, the ten-year building program for postoffices and other Federal buildings throughout the country, floating and land equipment of the Navy, army posts, road systems in national parks and forests, Veterans' Bureau hospitals, Federal penitentiaries, custom-houses, immigration stations, Indian schools, the Alaskan Railway, the Panama Canal and the public works of the District of Columbia.

New buildings and ground improvement costs last year were $45,537,094; drainage, irrigation, power, water and dams, $29,726,305; floating equipment, $50,221,130; waterways and water-front improvements, $31,294,407; miscellaneous, $8,158,301.

LOS ANGELES LEARNED THE FACTS ABOUT FUNERAL PRICES

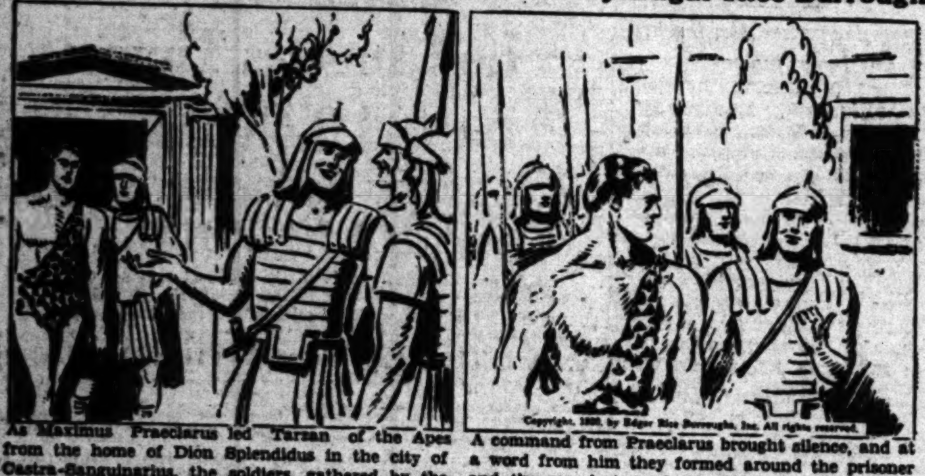
TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

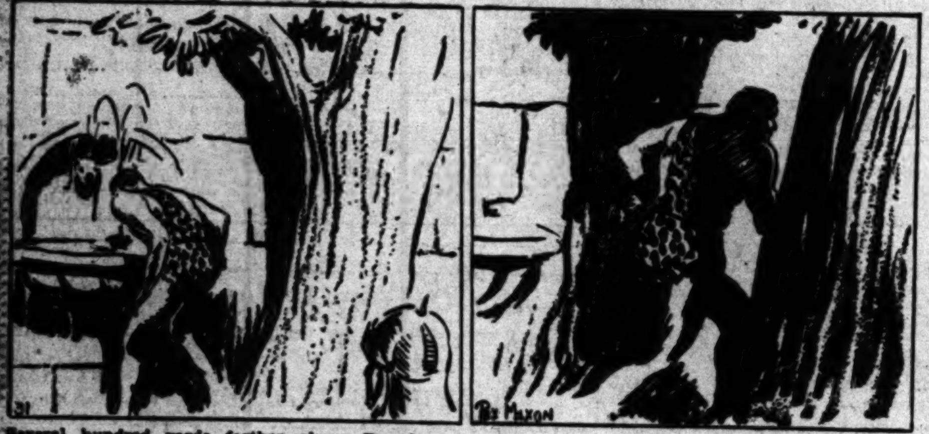
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Copyright, 1930, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

As Maximus Praeclarus led Tarzan of the Apes from the home of Dion Splendidus in the city of Castra-Sanguinarius, the soldiers, gathered by the doorway, expressed their satisfaction in oaths and exclamations. They liked the young patrician and were proud of his single-handed capture of the barbarian.

A command from Praeclarus brought silence, and at a word from him they formed around the prisoner and the march toward the Colosseum was begun. They had proceeded but a short distance when Praeclarus halted the detachment. His gesture indicated to Tarzan that this was the home in which the apeman might later find sanctuary.



Several hundred yards farther along, Praeclarus halted the detachment again, this time opposite a drinking fountain. Tarzan was permitted to cross the avenue to drink. Beside him was the bole of a huge tree; above him was leafy foliage that would conceal and protect him from missiles if he managed to make his escape.

Turning from the fountain, a quick step took him behind the tree. One of the soldiers shouted a warning to Praeclarus, and the whole detachment, immediately suspicious, rushed across the avenue, led by the young patrician who commanded them, but when they reached the fountain their prisoner had vanished.

Berkeley Bell, 1929 intercollegiate title-holder from Austin, Tex., and Eddie Jacobs, Baltimore, carried off the men's doubles with a straight-set victory over the English team of H. G. N. Lee and S. J. Perry. The scores: 6-4, 6-1, 7-5.

After Mangin had won the first set in the finals of the men's singles, the southerner came back with an exhibition of almost perfect tennis to take the second and third sets before the rest period. Showing improved form, the Jersey star soon evened up the match after taking the court again, but he was no match for Sutter in the final and deciding session.

The second heat was a different story.

Always spectacular, Loynes, after misjudging the time left before the start, veered widely for fear of crossing the line too soon, then all but overturned as he swung his

NATIONAL WOMEN'S NET CHAMPIONSHIP STARTS TODAY AT FOREST HILLS

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (AP)—Shorn of much of its brilliancy by the absence of Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Miss Helen Jacobs, America's No. 1 and No. 2 stars, respectively, play in the national women's tennis singles championship opens tomorrow at Forest Hills.

BETTY NUTHALL.

With Mrs. Moody not defending her title and Miss Jacobs out of competition because of poor health, the lot of favoritism has fallen on Miss Betty Nuthall, 19-year-old English star. Miss Nuthall is making her third attempt at the American title, having been defeated once in the finals by Queen Helen and last year in the semifinal round by Mrs. Molla Mallory.

Twenty-five first-round matches will be play tomorrow with all of the seeded stars except Miss Josephine Cruickshank, Miss Marjorie Morrill and Baroness Giacomo Levi of Italy getting into action. The other seeded players include Mrs. L. A. Harper, Miss Eleanor Goss, Miss Sarah Palfrey, Miss Ethel Burkardt, Miss Mary Greef, Miss Edith Cross and Miss Nuthall.

HITCHCOCK IN GREAT SHOWING

World's Foremost Polo Star Dominates Game

Directs Rally to Vanquish Reds, 18 to 15

Bostwick, Williams Shine for Losers

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

PORT WASHINGTON (N. Y.) Aug. 17. (AP)—In a vivid demonstration of why he has qualified as the world's greatest polo player, Capt. Tommy Hitchcock personally pulled a thrilling test battle out of the fire today for his American varsity "Whites."

TOMMY HITCHCOCK

As a result of Hitchcock's sensational hitting, the first-string team put on a great rally in the final period, scoring five goals and beating by 18 to 15 a combination of "Reds" that was aided for the first time by two members of the British invading squad.

Hitchcock scored five goals altogether, four of them in the last periods, and put the ball in position for his two forwards, Eric Pedley and Earle A. S. Hopping, to tally the decisive goals in one of the most severe tests the varsity forces have yet experienced.

The greatest crowd that has as yet turned out for the Sunday test matches of the American poloists, estimated at 8000, watched as close and exciting a game as has been played anywhere on Long Island this summer.

For the fourth straight game, Hitchcock rode into action with Pedley, Hopping and Winston Guest as his supporting cast, a combination that is favored to represent the United States against the British in September. Forming a thirty-four-goal side, they conceded six goals on handicap to the "Reds" but after a flashy first period getaway, Hitchcock's team was played to a standstill for six periods of hard-fought polo.

Most of the fireworks furnished by the "Reds" was due to the sharp shooting of young "Pete" Bostwick in the first half, in which he scored four goals; the sensational all-around play of H. W. (Rube) Williams, who was all over the field breaking up the varsity attack; and the clever work of Cecil Smith, who rode a fine No. 2 and tallied five goals.

Gerald Balding, burly No. 2 of the British challengers, rode at No. 3 for the "Reds" in the first half, and Aridan Roark, British substitute, went in at back in the final half. Both played well but showed the lack of practice in their first

Jelliffe Wins Bay District Championship

W. L. (Bill) Jelliffe of Girard, Los Angeles city golf champion, yesterday won the Santa Monica bay district title when he defeated Chester Coleman, 6 and 4, in the thirty-six-hole finals. The winner had approximate medal scores of 71 and 69, while Coleman carded 73 and 76, being 2 down at the turn. In first-flight finals, also played over thirty-six holes, R. Goddard defeated Ray Johnson, 5 and 3.

CUBS RALLY TO BEAT PHILLIES

Collard's Wildness Gives Chicago Game

CHICAGO, Aug. 17. (AP)—Taking advantage of Collard's wildness in the eighth inning to score two runs, the Cubs defeated Philadelphia, 5 to 4, today and retained their two-and-one-half-game leadership in the National League.

GUY BUSH

Guy Bush held the Phillies fairly well in hand, while Collard ruined his own cause in the eighth by walking two men and hitting another, which with a single and a fielder's choice brought in the winning runs. Frank O'Doul got a homer into the right-field bleachers in the first inning and Whitney got one in the ninth. Lester Bell played first base in place of Capt. Charlie Grimm, who was injured yesterday, got three singles and drove in a pair of runs. Around 35,000 spectators watched the contest. Score:

UPLIFTERS LOSE AT POLO

Santa Barbara Captures Series by Winning Third Victory Over Local Four

BY FRANK ROCHE

Making a clean sweep of the intercity polo series Santa Barbara horsemen led by Long Jim Colt rode to a 13-to-3 victory over Uplifters Club riders yesterday at the Rustic Canyon Field.

The game proved a walkaway or rideaway, whichever you like, for the visiting poloists. The Uplifters, badly out-mounted, proved little or no match for the flying Santa Barbara four. In winning yesterday's contest the Channel City mallet men demonstrated again that you cannot win polo games unless you have the right mounts. Santa Barbara was the winner in the first two games of the series because of the same reason.

JIM COLT

The Uplifters made a game fight of it during the first half of the game, but it was easy to see that they were outclassed by the visitors. Long Jim and his companions, Hale Marsh, Barney Schley and Henry Russell, had the mounts and besides they were on their game at all times yesterday. The Santa Barbara mallet swingers never seemed to miss an opportunity to score. At half-time they had the Uplifters 6 to 2 and as the game wore on they simply added to this, playing rings around the local squad.

A peep at the score sheet shows that only two Uplifters' players scored during the contest. T. Lyell Puckett, Alhambra automobile dealer who devotes his Sunday afternoons to King Horse, tallied in the first chukker and Lionel Pedley, brother of the famous Eric, scored once in the fourth and again in the sixth period for the only digits rung up by the beach poloists.

Russell was the high-point man for the visitors. He scored six times. Hale Marsh rang the bell five times, Colt once and Schley once. Colt, however, was the big shot of the Santa Barbara attack.

Long Jim was here, there and everywhere it seemed. He scooped the ball up from nowhere at times to send it down the field for his

JIMMY SHARP THRICE VICTOR

SAN JOSE, Aug. 17. (AP)—Jimmy Sharp of Los Angeles won the lion's share of prize money at the San Jose Speedway auto race program this afternoon with three first places including the thirty-lap main event. He also took first place in his ten-lap qualifying race and first place in the three-lap race for the three fastest cars on the track. Francis Quinn of Los Angeles was second in the main event and Mel McKee, third.

SHEIK STREAK STOPPED AFTER SEVEN VICTORIES

Shellenback Easily Defeats Tribe in Opener; Dutch Ruether Hurls Winning Ball in Nightcap

BY BOB RAY

After battering their way to an 11-to-1 triumph in the opener to run their winning streak to seven straight, the Hollywood Stars were stopped in their tracks by the good left arm of the veteran Dutch Ruether in the nightcap, which went to Seattle by a 3-to-2 score.

A crowd of 8500 fans turned out for the bargain bill that wound up the series between the league-leaders and tail-enders and that's considered quite a good Sunday turnout since night baseball started cutting down the day-game gatherings.

FRANK SHELLENBACK

The Stars captured six out of seven games from the Indians to make it a banner week, but because they only split even yesterday they had their margin cut to two games over the second-place Angels, who took a double-header from Sacramento.

SHELLY TOO GOOD

Frank Shellenback, who has regained his last year's pitching form once more after a late start, easily spitballed the Indians into submission in the first game to turn in his second victory of the week. Shelly kept the Tribe's eight hits well scattered, while the Sheiks battered out seventeen bingles to roll up a lop-sided score. Skipper Ernie Johnson used four hurlers in the opener. Rudy Kallio being shelled to cover in the third. Hanson, Kranse and Freetas followed with only the latter being effective. Freetas is a husky young southpaw whom the Indians signed out of Santa Clara High School.

Jesse Hill was the batting star of the afternoon with six hits out of eight times at bat to his credit. Hill got three for three off Ruether and had three other hits in the first game. Dave Barbee retained his home-run leadership by banging his twenty-ninth circuit clout in the second game after Mickey Heath had hit his twenty-eighth in the opener to gain a temporary tie with the big right fielder. Bill Rumler got the other home run of the twin bill.

Hank Hulvey opposed Ruether in the finale and pitched good enough ball to win but his mates couldn't get him any runs. Hank yielded only five hits but three of them were bunched in the third to give

TWIN BILL TAKEN BY SERAPHS

Wilbur Peters Blanks Solons in Afternoon Game, 7 to 0

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 17.—Drubbing the Senators in both Sabbath games, the Angels departed from here tonight with five games out of seven for the series. They took the morning game at Stockton, 9 to 7, and the afternoon game here, 7 to 0.

WILBERT PETERS

The Senators were leading at Stockton, 7 to 6, going into the ninth inning, but the Angels nosed them out when Gould, relieving Freitas, walked five men and hit a batter to force across three runs without a hit. Ray French, shortstop, went to the hill to retire the side.

Wilbur Peters, a southpaw, humbled the Solons in the afternoon contest, allowing them but seven hits, and keeping them away from the plate entirely. Thomas and Chesterfield worked for the Senators, the latter going to the relief of the big fellow after the visitors got to him for two runs in the first and four in the third.

Singles by Moore and Haney, a walk and Statz's single accounted for the two scores in the first inning, and the four in the third came on singles by Haney and Statz, doubles by Schulmerich and Skiff and Rawlings's triple.

A walk to Schulmerich and Statz's double gave the Angels their seventh marker. Stats played a whale of a game, getting three hits in four tries and pulling down some

DR. HIGBEE SCRAMBLES DOPE TO BEAT HATRICK IN AGUA CALIENTE RACE

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) Aug. 17.—The Midsummer Derby, 3-year-old feature of the summer race meeting of the Agua Caliente Jockey Club, provided a decided upset this afternoon when Dr. Higbee, Sanysidro-bred colt, owned by the Campcady stable of E. Byron Siens, defeated the favorite, Hatrick, by half a length.

Dr. Higbee, a well-regarded colt but next to the outsider in the small field of four which faced the barrier, went to the front at once and never relinquished the lead. He got the rail on the first turn and Georgie Woolf on the favored Hatrick rode just behind him to the stretch turn. Here he gave the long hope another notch and Hatrick moved up just slightly. But Dr. Higbee was far from through and hung on resolutely in the dash down the stretch to lead the way to the wire by half a length. Hatrick easily took the place. Lady Seth, figured as the leading contender next to Hatrick, stumbled on the first turn and never was a factor thereafter. Shasta Graft brought up the rear.

Time for the mile and one-sixteenth was 1:44 4-5 with the race worth $1495 to the winner.

Ironsides showed a decided improvement over his last race to win the Sangallo Handicap, secondary feature of the afternoon. He won by half a length fro mSunspero, going seven furlongs. Seth's Hope got the show. Ironsides ran the seven furlongs in 1:24 3-5. Results:

Senator's Winning Streak Stopped by Tigers

BROOKLYN, Aug. 17. (AP)—Dazzy Vance completely baffled the Pirates here today as the Robins, struggling to retain their grip on second place, celebrated a home stand of one day with a 5-to-0 victory over Pittsburgh. Vance fanned nine and allowed eight hits, which were well scattered except in the sixth, when three singles failed to score for the Pirates.

Larry French, who opposed the veteran Vance, became two down in the first inning when Babe Herman followed Frederick's single with his twenty-seventh homer of the season. French pitched the complete game and allowed ten hits. Score:

GIANTS SPLIT

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 17. (AP)—The Giants and the Cardinals divided a double-header here today, New York winning the first game, 14 to 4, and St. Louis the nightcap, 14 to 4.

The Giants hammered Wild Bill Hallahan from the mound in the sixth inning of the first game, but Burleigh Grimes hurled steadily in the after-piece to give the Cardinals an even break. Bill Walker, who started the second game for the visitors, lasted less than two innings.

The veteran spitballer, Clarence Mitchell, traded to the Giants by the Cardinals this year, was the winning pitcher in the first game. Lindstrom of the Giants and Frisch of the Cardinals hit homers in the first game. Scores:

The British Counter-Attack

IN THE WAKE of the Bobby Jones-Bill Tilden invasions of Great Britain, bringing back three of her finest cups, the British start their counter-attack on American turf this week.

This will be the first of four engagements on land and sea—referring here to the women's tennis championship at Forest Hills and Miss Betty Nuthall's chance to win. There are no one-sided favorites left—in fact, no distinct favorites, but Miss Nuthall at least has a first-class chance.

The next British counter-attack comes at Meadowbrook early in September against a young, hard-riding, hard-hitting American polo team that will be something to stop. The third moves from land to water as the races for the America's Cup get under way. The fourth will come at Merion, where Cyril Tolley, who carried Bobby Jones to the nineteenth green at St. Andrews, will be among those attempting to check the Jones rush.

A fifth counter-attack might be included in the visit of British track-and-field athletes who come to Chicago in a short while.

No Discouragement

No one can accuse the British of being easily discouraged as one of her poets wrote after a smashing German attack during the war—"We all went back at the seventh wave—but we wait for the tide to turn." This time they are not waiting for the tide. They have probably never sent across before as formidable a challenge list.

Her polo team looks to be a big improvement over the last set of challengers and Shamrock V will be a much harder boat to beat than Shamrock IV. Tolley will be too badly outnumbered at Merion to have much of a chance, but he may cause a lot of bother if he happens to hit one of his good weeks.

Almost everywhere you turn along the eastern border you will see invaders getting ready for the September wars that are now only a few weeks away. And they can be counted upon to sell their lives as dearly as possible for the glory and honor of the Union Jack.

In Other Fields

Strangely enough the main American deficit has come in a field where the United States has had almost a walk over. This happens to be in the heavyweight whirl.

There has been little to it except the United States since Sullivan, Corbett and Jeffries were supreme—Fitzsimmons being the sole interloper.

Now Max Schmeling, a German, holds the title and Carnera, an Italian, has the possibilities of being an even tougher menace. He is at least the game's big drawing card—something he has proved by attracting the populace in the course of meeting some of the softest set-ups of all time. Some of them have been worse than no opponents at all. The whisper has gone around that many of these programs were all arranged in advance. Even that hasn't stopped the rush for the gate.

If Campolo can beat Sharkey he will bring about a new element to be considered in the final disposal of the crown.

The women's tennis championship at Forest Hills this week should be one of the most interesting competitions of the season—for it will be close competition most of the way. Heretofore it has been mainly a matter of finding some survivor to go against Miss Wills in the final match and try to win a game out of each set. But the element of competition has been lighter than thin air for many years. This time it will be a scramble.

Most of these engagements last a day or a week. But the Babe and Hack have an argument under way that broke loose last April and won't come to a close until the last of September.

Today's Golf Dope

Those who have yet to learn the vital part that wrist action plays in almost every golf stroke should begin to make a study of the same. Lack of wrist action is largely due to tension—to tightening up. If the wrists are not working—the hands are not working—and the shoulders and body are controlling the swing—which is something the shoulders and body should not do.

STARS, TRIBE SPLIT PAIR

Sheiks Run Winning Streak to Seven Straight in 11-1 Opener, But are Stopped by Ruether

the Redskins all of their scores. Hulvey fanned eight Indians.

Taylor opened the Seattle third with a hit to center and Cox followed with a single to left. Ruether sacrificed and all hands were safe when Hulvey threw to Gazella too late to head off Taylor at third. Hill captured Knothe's short fly and held Taylor at third but Muller doubled just to the left of the light tower to score Taylor and Cox. Ruether counted with what proved to be the winning run when Lee threw out Holland.

Ruether, who evidently was pitching for his job because the Indians asked waivers on him Saturday, kept the Sheiks in submission in all but the fourth when Brannan singled and Barbee followed with a circuit clout over the left center field wall.

After that, though, the Stars weren't able to get a man past first off the big portsider.

Heath lofted one over the right-field screen in the second inning to start the scoring in the first game. The circuit clout brought Mickey's total for the season to twenty-eight and put him in a tie for the lead with Barbee.

Kallio was given a raking over in the third when the Stars clouted across five runs and drove the veteran right-hander to the showers. Six hits rattled off the Sheik bats in this inning with Rumler's home run with two men on climaxing the rally.

Gazella opened the round with a single but was picked off first by Kallio. Shellenback walked and singles by Hill and Lee filled the bases. Brannan dropped a Texas leaguer in right and Shellenback scored. Barbee forced Brannan, Hill scoring, and then Rumler followed with a line drive over the left-field wall to make it five runs for the frame. Hanson replaced Kallio and Heath singled, but was out stealing to end the round.

SHELL HANSON

The Sheiks sent Hanson on his way in the sixth, when they bunched four more hits to ring up another pair of tallies. Heath opened the stanza with his third hit, a single to right, took second on Bassler's bunt and scored on Gazella's sacrifice fly. Singles by Hill and D. Lee brought Shelly over the plate and then Krause replaced Hanson. Brannan walked but was forced by Barbee for the third out.

Seattle got its lone run off the Sheik spitballer in the seventh, when Gaddy, former Santa Clara outfielder, batted for Cliff Lee and doubled to right, took third on Owen's single and counted on Almada's sacrifice fly to Hill.

Rumler's third hit, Heath's fourth single of the afternoon, and a double play enabled Rumler to tally the eleventh and final Hollywood run in the home half of the seventh.

Freetas, recently picked up out of Santa Clara High School by the Indians, hurled the eighth for Seattle and blanked the Stars without a hit. Score:

PORTLAND AND SEALS DIVIDE

San Francisco Takes Series from Beavers

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17. (AP)—Portland and San Francisco split a double-header here today, but San Francisco emerged with the series, four games to three. San Francisco overwhelmed Portland, 14-9, in the morning, but the visitors nosed out the Seals, 5-4, in the second.

Portland used five pitchers in the first event, but were unable to stem the Seal barrage until the sixth, when a six-run rally came too late. The San Franciscans opened by slugging four runs in the first and went steadily down the line.

In the afternoon the visitors broke a sixth-inning 3-3 tie, by getting two tallies in the eighth. The Seals put over one lone run in the ninth but lacked the steam for a rally. The scores:

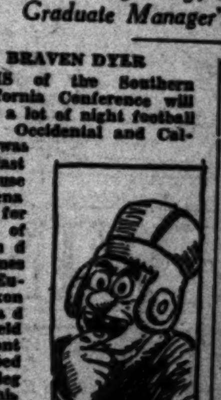
NIGHT FOOTBALL TO

Southern California Conference Teams Contests in a Big Way; Bill Mulligan Graduate Manager's Post

BY BRAVEN DYER



TEAMS of the Southern California Conference will play a lot of night football this fall. Occidental and Caltech, as was the case last year, will use the Pasadena Rose Bowl for a number of games. And now comes word that Eugene Nixon has had Alumni Field at Claremont fully equipped with klieg lights for his Pomona College eleven. Redlands, San Diego and Whittier are to be similarly equipped.

Night football will probably never displace the grand old afternoon game as has happened in the realm of baseball. For one thing it's colder in the fall; also football is played only once a week and nearly everybody can arrange to get away for Saturday afternoon. Then there's the attendant rooting and good fellowship which would never go over at night. With baseball the game's the thing in itself, but with football the whole spectacle combines to give it the lure which it has.

Pomona College should draw well with night games. The Sagehens get a good deal of attendance from farmers and ranchers who naturally can't do much work at night. Occidental drew good crowds to Pasadena last year and so did Caltech and now that the Coliseum is to be wired for after-dark engagements we may expect the attendance to grow by leaps and bounds. How well the Sagehens will do their stuff at night remains to be seen. Feathered birds, outside of owls, are not much given to cutting up after dark.

Old-timers among the baseball players complain that the game, as played under the lights, is not what it used to be in "the good old days" that veterans so love to chin about. They say the new crop of fans cheer plays and stops which the average hardened fan would Oakland Cops Two Contests from Mission

OAKLAND, Aug. 17. (AP)—Oakland copped the series from the Missions today, taking both ends of a double-header. The Oaks captured the first game, 3 to 2, and won the afternoon event, 4 to 2, finishing the series on the long end of a 4-3 score.

Oakland came from behind in the morning, getting three tallies by an eighth-inning rally, after the Missions collected one in the fifth and another in the sixth. Hufft, Mission left-fielder, got a circuit clout.

In the afternoon the slow-starting Oaks got three in the fourth to put the score at 3-2, and put the game away with another tally in the eighth. Knott was run out in the sixth and replaced by Johnson on the Mission mound.

SOX SLAPPED

BOSTON, Aug. 17. (AP)—Cleveland took a double-header from Boston here today, 9 to 3, and 2 to 0. The second game was called at the end of the seventh inning on account of the Sunday baseball law.

The Indians scored five runs in the sixth inning of the first game on only two hits, for Horace Lisenbee and Big Ed Morris could not find the plate and issued six bases on balls.

Clint Brown outpitched Danny MacFayden of the Red Sox in the second game, showing greater effectiveness in the pinches. Montague led the Indians' attack in the nightcap with three singles in as many times at bat. Scores:

The "Reds" led by 12 to 8 at half-time and were still in front by 15 to 13 entering the eighth and final chukker, although Smith's three goals represented their entire contribution to the scoring in the last half.

The climax was furnished by Hitchcock. Spurred by his aggressive influence and brilliant hitting the "Whites" put on the winning rally. Hopping and Pedley, whose forward work was erratic most of the game, tallied the tying and deciding goals on "set-ups" furnished by the captain. Score:

Lake Elsinore Outboards Set Five Records

LAKE ELSINORE, Aug. 17.—Five official world hydro records were set and one new one established in a bang-up race series here today. Events were run off under S.C.O.A. supervision.

Nick De Mark of Pasadena, who won his first event less than a month ago at Long Beach, was the Houdini of the day in Miss Pasadena, piloting the classy little Class C boat to a new Division 1 mark of 41.513 miles per hour, and then going out of his class right afterward to leave Al Thompson behind in Black Maria and set a new mark in Class F, Division 1, of 40.687, on water that was beginning to get a bit choppy.

Thompson, veteran war horse, with Black Maria, drove a nice race and surprising the Class E, Division 2, ten-mile event, when he left B. A. Wheeler in the lurch with Vagabond, and made another record of 40.449 miles per hour.

Title Captured by Penn Club

LIEGE (Belgium) Aug. 17. (AP)—The Penn Athletic Club eight today won the championship of the international rowing regatta, defeating Denmark and Italy in the final. The time was 5m. 27s.

Going to the post the favorites, the American crew took no chances, rowing hard from the start. At the end of the 2000-meter jaunt the Penn eight was two lengths in front of Italy with Denmark third. Great cheers greeted the Americans at the finish.

Italy made a great bid at the 1500-meter mark, reducing the Americans' lead from two lengths to less than a length, but the Pennmen had the race in hand, soon regained their advantage and finished strong.

CHAMPION MAY MEET NEW STAR

Gus Sonnenberg Likely to Wrestle One of New Local Sensations

Negotiations with Champion Gus Sonnenberg for a title match here some time next month or early in October with one of the young heavyweights who have proven sensations here this year will be opened by Promoter Lou Daro following Wednesday night's finish mat battle between Nick Lutze and Don George.

GUS SONNENBERG

Lutze was signed to meet Sonnenberg here a few months ago, but George knocked him out of that match by a two-out-of-three-fall victory over the Venice lifeguard. Since that match George himself has developed into a title-contender. His seven straight victories here in as many starts against some of the best wrestlers in the game has won him national recognition as a grappler.

Joe Malcewicz, the Utica mat panther, will clash with Dick Daviscourt, the giant Kansan, in the one-hour time-limit semi-wind-up. Both bouts are expected to be packed with wrestling and sensational mat work.

UPLIFTERS BOW IN POLO CLASH

team-mates to score on. Clair Brunson of the Uplifters declared after the game that Colt was just too much to cope with yesterday.

All of the Uplifters played good hard polo, especially Snowy Baker, who was a demon in breaking up Santa Barbara plays during the early stages of the game. But Colt and his team-mates were just one step ahead of anything attempted by the Uplifters and the result was never in doubt after the first half.

Hale Marsh, a man who has won a name for himself in the past as a gentleman rider was one of the biggest thorns in the side of the Uplifters. Marsh gave a splendid performance yesterday.

One of the peculiar things about the series was that Santa Barbara registered thirteen points in every game. The first contest ended, 13 to 6, for the visitors and the second, 13 to 9.

Next Sunday the Uplifters will stage a club game and the following week the Eleventh Cavalry will lock horns with a local team in a game sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles.

HARRY COOPER ANNEXES OPEN

the greatest ever carded on the Keller course, he clicked off five birdies and made every one of them count by playing par even on the rest of them. His great showing wasn't a fluke, either. He had to work and work hard for every shot, although he never was in trouble with the many traps and lightning fairways that caused many golfers to err in judgment of distances.

Instead of cracking when he heard that Manero had finished ahead of him with his 283 total, Cooper sailed right along and finished with another par-fracturing score, a 70, to clinch his triumph. Manero, leader at the halfway mark with a 139 total, shot par 72's on both his rounds today.

Horton Smith also shot a remarkable 68 on his final round to land third. The "Joplin Ghost" ended his third round seven strokes away from Cooper and if some of his frequent putts for birdies and a chance eagle had gone down he might have thrown the championship fight into a deadlock. It was a typical Smith comeback.

COAST LEADING REVIVAL FIGHT

Sea Trade Survey Results Cited by Authority

Early Return to Normal in Freights Predicted

Oil Movement on Sabbath Hits High Figure

BY WALDO DRAKE

The Pacific Coast is leading all shipping centers in the universal fight to relieve the world shipping depression of the past year, according to a traffic survey completed yesterday by Harold C. Smith, district manager of Williams, Dimond & Co. and a leading Coast authority on offshore trade.

Last spring Mr. Smith predicted that September 1 would mark the upward trend in all freight trades, particularly in the intercoastal and Pacific-Orient fields.

"The next fortnight will see a strong return to normal freight offerings, particularly in the oriental inbound and European outbound trades," he said yesterday. "The depression of the past six months has been largely due to absence of the regular canned and dried-fruit movements to the east coast and Europe and the unfavorable exchange rate in China.

"Fruit shippers who have been holding their last year's crops for better markets already are sending them to North Atlantic and European ports in rapidly increasing shipments, as a result of the appearance of this year's crop, coupled with unexpected demands from the market centers. In China the situation is clearing so fast that ships are coming home to the Coast loaded to capacity, with both delayed shipments and new business."

Mr. Smith declared Coast shipping leaders see little danger in the declaration of the Shipping Board that unless intercoastal operators patch up their differences over rates and practices the board will seek from Congress supervisory control over the coast-to-coast freight trade. Intercoastal stability, it is believed, will result from the conclave to be held in New York during the next fortnight between lines in the United States Intercoastal Conference and nonconference lines.

SEVENTEEN TANKERS LOADING OR OVERHAULING

The port's oil trade yesterday enjoyed the largest Sunday business of the year, with seventeen tankers, carrying approximately 1,300,000 barrels of oil, in port either to load or for overhaul.

They ranged in size from the tiny coastwise carrier Lake Miraflores to the giant new Sun Oil Company motor tanker Eastern Sun, sailing for Philadelphia with 110,000 barrels of gasoline loaded at the Standard Oil terminals. Among the fleet was the Italian tanker Literno, under charter to Royal Dutch Shell and sailing yesterday with a gasoline cargo for Curacao, Dutch West Indies.

Sale of S. F. B. Morse's ninety-seven-foot auxiliary schooner yacht Temptress to Stanley G. Harris, San Francisco yachtsman, was announced yesterday. The Temptress, brought here from British Columbia several years ago by John Gilbert, will be delivered to Mr. Harris in mid-September.

Five-thousand tons of sulphur arrived from Texas City yesterday morning aboard the Mallory freighter Malang, for discharge at the outer harbor terminals. On Wednesday, 2500 tons of the chemical will come in from the Gulf on the Redwood freighter Dio.

Three racing yachts will go north today aboard the American-Hawaiian liner Georgian for participation in San Francisco's first Race Week, to be held from next Thursday to Sunday. They are Tommy Lee's six-meter sloop Caprice, recent winner of the San Diego Lipton Trophy; Commodore Al Rogers's six-meter Synnove, holder of the Nordlinger Trophy, and the San Francisco eight-meter sloop Hvide.

Dollar Line's around-the-world liner President Harrison will arrive tomorrow from New York, two days behind schedule on account of a fire in her cargo holds while in port at Gotham. She has aboard 100 passengers for this and world ports and 1500 tons of cargo.

Edward N. Tormey, district manager for the new Interocean Line in European-Pacific trade, yesterday was in receipt of a statement by Commissioner Jefferson Myers of the Shipping Board, stressing the need for such an American-flag service.

Mr. Myers says, in part, it is of "the utmost importance to the commerce of the Pacific Coast that adequate American-flag services be established and maintained to carry the products of that broad empire to the ports of Great Britain, Ireland and Continental Europe."

"It is exceedingly unwise," the statement continues, "to have the commerce of so large a section of our country almost wholly dependent on foreign-owned shipping lines. If, through some crisis, the refrigerated foreign ships were to be withdrawn from Pacific Coast service, the vast fruit crop, which amounts to millions of dollars, would be left without any transportation other than by rail shipment from the Pacific to the Atlantic."

Lazard Lippman's 102-foot sloop Talayha, third to return of the four local yachts in the San Pedro-Honolulu ocean race, is due back from the islands late today after a seventeen-day passage.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17. (AP)—A further reduction in sailing time from San Francisco to Far East ports was announced today by the General Steamship Corporation, Pacific Coast agents of the Kerr Line. With elimination of Colombo as a port of call on the run to Rangoon and Calcutta, six days will be cut from the former forty-one-day schedule, according to officials. Heavy refrigeration shipments necessitated the cut, they say.

SEATTLE, Aug. 17.—Offices of the Percy S. Laing Shipping Company in Seattle and Tacoma will hold an informal celebration next Tuesday on the occasion of the third anniversary of the establishment of the Dimon Line in intercoastal trade.

The company started with three ships in 1927 and now operates a fleet of eight carriers, making regular sailings on a twelve-day basis. The Willmotor, the only motorship of the Dimon Line, now is loading lumber on Puget Sound for return soon to the Atlantic Coast.

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 17.—A comparative study of domestic exports during 1929 as prepared by the United States Department of Commerce shows the value of Oregon's exports, based on through export bills of lading, at $70,208,381, an increase of $938,393 over the value of Oregon's 1928 domestic exports.

TACOMA, Aug. 17.—A large whale which cruised into Commencement Bay today provided excitement for water-front workers. The mammal made frequent appearances before it headed up sound.

The San Domingo from Baltimore and the Sacramento from New York were included in today's arrivals. The Jacob Luckenbach sailed at 2 p.m. for Mobile with general freight.

PRODUCING & REFINING

IN THE EARTH

PROBLEM IN TWO FIELDS

Present Activity May Extend Both Areas

Operators will Endeavor to Reduce Current Flow

Shell Now Equipped for Venice Crude

Although Santa Fe Springs has about eliminated itself as an oil industry problem, Signal Hill and Venice threaten to give the curtailment committee and the oil umpires plenty to think about during the next few weeks. It has been estimated that between them these two fields will add at least 20,000 barrels of new production to the State's daily oil output during the forthcoming thirty days.

A week ago, at Signal Hill, there were 112 drilling projects, the majority of them being in the southeasterly portion of the field and several at Los Cerritos. That number jumped to 121 drilling projects during the past week. The same situation prevails in the Venice field. Throughout that area there are nearly 100 active projects, at least fifty actively drilling and the remainder preparing to rig up to spud in.

At the last meeting of the fact-finding committee headed by W. E. Dunlap, Signal Hill's potential was set at 193,305 barrels, an increase of approximately 5000 barrels over the previous figure. The effective potential was set at 189,534 barrels daily, and the difference between the actual and effective potentials must be absorbed by the major companies. The same method of disposal has become effective in the Santa Fe Springs, Elwood, Ventura-avenue and the Venice fields.

The daily production in the Signal Hill field at present is 101,400 barrels of oil. Venice is producing at the rate of 19,500 barrels daily. Each of these fields has projects swabbing that are being watched with considerable interest as several are expected to extend already proven areas.

In the northerly portion of the Venice field the Star Petroleum Company's Venice No. 2 with bottom below 6100 feet continues to swab and should it come in would extend the field on either side of it by at least one-half mile. In the southwesterly portion a derrick is going up and will be drilling soon. It is located near the corner of Sixty-third avenue and the ocean front. The Ohio Oil Company's Del Rey No. 2 southeast of the discovery well swabbed recently with bottom below 6600 feet but sand troubles interferred with steady production.

Of the total daily production at Venice, the Shell Oil Company is understood to be handling 9000 barrels daily, and piping it to its refinery near Watson. Field reports state that the gas produced at Venice is yielding less than three gallons of gasoline to the 1000 cubic feet.

The Del Rey Oil and Refining Company's new casinghead gasoline plant located on the Union Oil Company's lease in the southeasterly portion of the Venice field, is expected to be in operation within a week. The company is said to have contracts to handle most of that district's production with exception of that handled by Ohio's absorption plant.

Ore Stored on Auburn Dumps Goes into Mill

AUBURN (Cal.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—With a large tonnage of profitable ore stored on the dumps, R. H. Rowland and C. W. Warmouth have placed a small mill in commission on the Auburn gold mine, twelve miles east of Mill City. Mr. Warmouth is general manager of the Seven Troughs Extension Company of Los Angeles. The Auburn was worked in the '70's and is said to contain substantial reserves of commercial ore which is free milling.

Building a twenty-five-mile railroad from Fallon to the properties of the Nevada Pure Salt Company is under consideration by the corporation. President William S. Thompson states that construction of a railway is necessary for economical operations. Building of a small refinery at the salt beds is proceeding. The company plans to ship 100,000 tons of pure salt this year.

Company Store Regarded with Greater Favor

AJO (Ariz.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive) Declaration is made that here there has been demonstration of the value to mine employees of the "company store," once notorious in mining history.

Locally, as well as in several other Arizona camps, has been maintenance of a large mercantile establishment, financed here by the New Cornelia branch of the Calumet and Arizona Mining Company. Semiannually there is return to employees of a dividend on their purchases, amounting to a substantial increase in pay. These "company stores," through the influence of the Arizona Industrial Congress, buy in Arizona to as large an extent as possible.

Local Arizona purchases amounted to $115,018 for the first half of 1930, this sum in addition to the mine's purchases in the State, with especial note of powder and lumber.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Three Specimens

LOS ANGELES, July 30.—Question: These samples come from near Yuma, Ariz. Please identify them and give an estimate as to their commercial value. E. M.

Answer: Sample A is hard to determine qualitatively. It probably belongs to the andalusite group, and may be cyanite. It is mixed with violet colored sericite schist, and reacts for more or less lithium. B is a decomposed granite rock with brown iron oxide. C is a violet-colored sericite schist. Commercial values problematical.

Rare Earth Mineral

VENICE, July 30.—Q.: Will you please let me know what this mineral is, and also what it is worth? I found this in Arizona, and there is more of it. I am anxious to have the sample classified. B.

A.: The specimen is Fergusonite. The United States Geological Survey publications refer to Fergusonite as: A metacolumbate and tantalate of yttrium, with erbium, cerium, uranium, etc. Found in pegmatites. Regarding commercial values of mineral represented by your sample, similar material should be quantitatively analyzed, and then sold on a basis of different percentages of elements present.

Salines

SAN FERNANDO, July 31.—Q.: The sample comes from the mine in this powdered form. I think it contains alunite, or sylvite and probably barium. C.

A.: Alunite, sylvite and barium absent. It appears to be a mixture of sodium chloride, sodium sulphate and probably magnesium sulphate. It represents doubtful commercial values.

A Mixture

YUCAIPA, July 31. — Q.: Please tell me what the heavy mineral is that trails behind like gold and what the rock is. Found in San Bernardino Mountains. G.

A.: The sample consists of four thumb specimens of altered rock. Iron oxides, quite a percentage of lime carbonate, with more or less micaschist found. Free gold absent. Commercial values doubtful.

Four Samples

UPLAND, July 31. — Q.: Sample No. 1 occurs near granite on Mojave Desert. Streaks of No. 2 are found in No. 1 formation. No. 3 is float found in San Bernardino Range—platinum group (?) No. 4 is green float from the San Bernardino range. K.

A.: No. 1 is a mixture of hornblende, magnetite and silica. No. 2 is hornblende with magnetite as part of the coating; the sample is partly altered to limonite. No. 3 is probably altered rock; reacting for sulphur anhydride traces, traces of micaceous iron and microscopic pyrite found. No. 4 is actinolite. It is probable that low-grade chromite occurs at the locality.

Not Radioactive

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1.—Q.: The three samples come from Sierra county, New Mexico. Please give me qualitative analysis on No. 1 for gold and radium minerals. No. 2 for pitchblende and No. 3 for gold, carnotite and bismuth. Thanking you. G.

A.: No. 1 is simply brown jasper. No. 2 is a blackish basalt rock showing traces of acicular, microscopic calcite, and No. 3 is calcite mixed with limonite (hydrous iron peroxide.)

Three Samples

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1.—Q.: The three samples come from a feldspar deposit near Mojave. I am particularly interested in No. 2, which I took to be silica, but a chemist here gave an analysis of only 85 per cent of silicon dioxide. Could it be beryl, or amblygonite? S.

A.: Sample No. 1 is a small, split beryl of no commercial value. No. 2 is white quartz and No. 3 is feldspar.

Clay

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—Q.: Occasionally I have to look for help and particularly in this case. I am sending you a sample of a free gold dump that consists of maybe 500,000 tons. The mine took out over $20,000,000 thirty years ago. I found that a top assay shows better than $1.50 per ton. I find in panning a long, white string of whitish color instead of the usual black sand. I would like your opinion as to what is the best and cheapest way to work this tailings dump. Lots of water; on the bank of a river, close to railroad, good roads, etc. X.

A.: There is probably no cheap way to work the "tailings dump" referred to by you, and the sample submitted seems to be a mixture of tailings, wall rocks, and other gangue matter.

The string remaining in the pan—after panning with water, shows aluminum silicate, baryte traces, silica, dolomite, sulphur anhydride, and bare traces of flour-gold.

The mining boys in the hills refer to samples on the order of those submitted by you as "thief clay," for the reason that, in placer working, such clay—"Robs the gold."

From the very beginning a skillful, reliable and experienced mining engineer should be employed by you. Your chief difficulty will probably be this sticky-clay, and the formation of slimes.

Such methods as sluice boxes, small stamp mills, placer machines of Russian iron with mercury in the pan, will practically result in but little saving of the gold, and limited space will not permit the full information that we would like to give. Be sure, however, to have about $50,000 in the treasury at the time of employing the high-grade mining engineer referred to.

Native Gold Absent

ROMOLAND, Aug. 3.—Q.: I am curious to know what the sample submitted is, and what it consists of. M.

A.: It is a siliceous rock and contains iron oxides, iron silicate, limonite, hematite, manganese and aluminum-magnesium silicate.

Impure Quartz

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—Q.: Under separate cover I am forwarding you a sample of sulphide ore occurring in quartz vein—in granite—from Riverside county. This sulphide has puzzled several engineers, and I want a classification of minerals contained. X.

A.: And, perhaps, by this qualitative analysis, some metal or mineral may have escaped the analyst. The vein is a fissure vein, and the sample contains a little pyrrhotite, (magnetic pyrite) more or less pyrite, arsenopyrite, blende, (zinc sulphide) and, unless similar rock will give returns for gold and silver by fire assays will probably represent doubtful commercial values.

Flake Platinum Absent

PASADENA, Aug. 6.—Q.: The three inclosed samples were found in Los Angeles county. Is the first chromite? The second and third came from the same rock, but appear to be of different formations. Please analyze the first for chromium and platinum, and the second and third for gold, silver, cobalt, nickel and tungsten. N.

A.: No. 1 is simply hornblende with some needle pyroxene. No. 2 is ferruginous, low-grade quartz; it is base-metal ore containing pyrite, with some blende and arsenopyrite. No. 3 is on the order of No. 2, but contains more arsenic. Copper not present, and for other gold-silver values please consult assayers.

TEXAS CURTAILMENT PLANS

Operations Suggest Slowing Down Drill; State Body Calls District Hearings

AUSTIN (Tex.) Aug. 18. (Exclusive)—It was estimated by oil operators who attended the recent hearing of the Railroad Commission on State-wide proration that the 136,000,000 barrels of oil in storage in Texas are worth an average of $1 a barrel, and that the cost of insurance and storage is 20 cents a barrel.

It was stated that oil in storage deteriorates as well as evaporates. The evaporation is about 3 per cent the first year of storage and leaves an inferior oil as the lighter part disappears into air. The lower grades bring less money. That is another serious loss in having such huge quantities of oil in storage.

It was the opinion of most of the oil operators that unless and until drilling is curtailed or the supply naturally materially decreases there will be no relief outside of proration. The commission can base proration only on actual wastage but that incidentally stops economic waste by the drop in price.

There is also a great waste of gas under present operating conditions.

Should the Railroad Commission seek to apply and enforce proration in the Gulf Coast fields or the Laredo district its authority to do so will probably be tested in the courts. At the recent hearing it was generally admitted that the commission could make no rules based entirely on economic waste through the depression in prices and that proration orders based on actual physical waste could be challenged under questions of fact as to particular wells or leases.

An order providing for State-wide oil production proration has been issued Thursday by the Railroad Commission. It provides for a minimum allowable daily production of 750,000 barrels. An average of 830,000 barrels daily now is being produced.

The order is effective August 28. On August 25 a hearing will be held by the Railroad Commission of any protests to the proposed allowable for fields in the Gulf Coast region, the Laredo district, and the West Texas fields, where the University of Texas owns extensive oil-producing lands.

Irrespective of the outcome of these prospective protests there will be little if any change made in the maximum allowable production for the entire State as provided in the new order, according to R. D. Parker, oil and gas supervisor of the Railroad Commission.

Deserted Camp is Revived by New Gold Find

AUSTIN (Nev.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Virtually abandoned last December, Camp McCoy has become one of the brightest gold spots on Nevada's mineral map. Approximately thirty sets of leases are at work in the district, and the new thirty-ton custom mill is scheduled to go into commission before the end of August. Shipments of rich ore are being made steadily from leased blocks on the Nevada Gold Dome property, controlled by H. W. Boyer and associates of Los Angeles, and the main shaft is being deepened from the 250-foot level.

F. M. Benedict, Los Angeles mining capitalist, is said to have acquired holdings in the field, and interests have also been secured by Idaho and Utah operators. Seven gasoline hoists are being installed by companies and leases. The McCoy Consolidated has started sinking of a shaft, and the Original McCoy and other corporations are preparing for vigorous work. A tentative option on some of the central claims is reported to have been taken by capitalists connected with the Nation Lead Company.

GOLD FEVER BLAZES HIGH NEAR TRONA

Prospector Starts Excitement with Report of Rich Find

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Report of a new gold strike in the Trona district east of Randsburg is told by E. L. Burney, well-known mining man and prospector, who was in Bakersfield yesterday.

Gold to the value of $30 to $600 a ton, free milling material, is claimed by this desert prospector, who has spent the last five months searching the wastes of the Randsburg district and who made the strike less than a week ago.

Several hundred tons of the ore have been piled up and ready for milling. Samples of the rock from the strike location, crushed and panned in Bakersfield today, show a string of gold half way around the pan, far greater showings than heretofore found in Kern prospects.

There are more than 100 locations at which such showings can be plucked from the earth, Burney claims. Today several prominent Bakersfield mining men are organizing a tour of inspection of the territory, led by Burney, who intends to develop the property at the earliest possible moment.

The strike is located approximately eight miles north of Trona, he reports, and in his opinion will eclipse any ever made in Kern county or Nevada. The material is the most valuable he ever has panned in his long career as a mining man, developer of properties and prospector.

A 285-foot water well, producing a six-inch stream, is in operation at the location, while similar preliminary construction work has been done at the site.

Failing Wins by Extracting Frozen Bailer

ROUND MOUNTAIN, Aug. 17.—(Exclusive)—Completion of Harry Failing's project on Section 1, 28-28, Round Mountain, for about 700 barrels daily, was reported here today by one of the owners. The flow, of undetermined quality, was reported from the 1759-foot level. The gravity will run around 16 deg., it is said, with no water at all.

Failing's well laid idle for some weeks recently while efforts were made to retrieve a frozen bailer stuck at bottom. With the angling job a success, completion of the well was effected.

Belridge Test Plan of Union

BELRIDGE, Aug. 17. (Exclusive) Union Oil Company will drill a well in the Belridge area, but whether it will be a deep test or a shallow drilling project has not been determined definitely by the operator.

The proposed project probably will be staked on the Bacon property on Sec. 27, 28-20, several miles from where Belridge Oil Company is drilling ahead on its Famous Fifteen project, and where Richfield is going deep in an effort to locate underlying production sands.

HOBBS HAILS GIANT WELL

Thousand Barrels Hourly is Official Estimate Given

Two Immense Oil Producers Stand Three Miles Apart

Three Other Projects Prepare for Production Test

ARTESIA (N. M.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Gusher production in the Hobbs district has been given a spread of at least three miles by the testing of Byers No. 1, recently completed on Sec. 4, 18-38, by the Midwest Refining Company.

G. C. Staley, proration umpire for the district, has given the Byers No. 1 a fixed potential flow of 24,000 barrels a day—1000 barrels an hour. It now rates as the biggest producer in New Mexico. Its nearest rival in quantity of output, is the Tidal Oil Company's Grimes No. 1, completed three weeks ago for approximately 21,000 barrels a day. The Byers well is putting out 40,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Three other wells in the Hobbs field are ready to be tested. State No. 1 of the California company, 990 feet from the north and east lines of Sec. 28, 18-38, is drilling deeper, after pulling tubing at 4170 feet, where a test revealed that the well might be somewhat of a disappointment. The largest gauge of the well was 150 barrels per hour.

The State No. 1-C of the Texas Production Company, 330 feet from the north and east lines of Sec. 25, 17-37, has run tubing to 4187 feet preparatory to making a test. The Ohio-Independent's State-Northrop No. 2, 660 feet from the south and east lines of Sec. 32, 18-38, will test for production at 4175 feet. The Humble Oil and Refining Company's Bowers No. 2, at the northwest corner of Sec. 30, 18-38, an offset to the discovery well of the pool, has drilled to 4208 feet and soon will be given a test.

Drilling Jobs Standing Idle All Over Kern

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Twelve drilling jobs in Kern county, not permanently abandoned or suspended, are temporarily on the idle list. Three of these are in the proven Kern fields, while the others are in territory classed as wildcat. The wells are as follows:

Kilmer & Abbot's Hibbard No. 1 on Sec. 25, 28-27 in the Kern River field. Bottom at 3215 feet.

Bruce Frame's Salisbury No. 1 on Sec. 26, 27-28 in the Poso Creek field, depth 1940 feet, and in the same field, on Sec. 13, 27-28, the West Coast Petroleum Combination's No. 1, depth 905 feet. Water troubles stopped work in these wells.

The nine idlers in unproven fields are:

J. H. Kennedy's drilling job at Belridge, on Sec. 5, 29-21, total depth of 2137 feet.

Tom Hannon's well on Sec. 25, 25-18 at Devil's Den, with a bottom of 2620 feet.

F. M. Sayre's project on Sec. 5, 30-29, at Edison, depth 4222 feet. A former producer, this well has run into several fishing and side-tracking jobs that have held up completion for months.

Two Gould Hills wells, known as Bomke & Ball Larson's No. 1, on Sec. 12, 29-20, depth 2767 fet; and the Casa Mira Oil Company's Theta No. 1, on Sec. 20, 28-28, depth 3665 feet.

The Hancock Oil Company's test of the Jaseine area, on Sec. 23, 25-27, near Delano, bottom at 2665 feet.

Wisecarver No. 1, the California Oil Producers' well taken over from H. L. Whiston. It is located on Sec. 30, 30-22, in the McKittrick field, has a depth of 5040 feet and is a former small producer of gas and oil.

Gerrard & Phillips's No. 1, on Sec. 32, 27-29 at Round Mountain, depth 1650 feet.

The Girard Oil Company's Watkins's No. 1, on Sec. 28, 26-18, in the Shale Hills, depth 910 feet.

Copper Region Turns Up Gold Vein Surprise

BISBEE (Ariz.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Something quite unusual in this camp is a find of gold ore, sampling $73 a ton, with a carload already shipped to the Copper Queen smelter.

The shipment was by the Del Norte Leasing Company, a local concern, operating Phelps Dodge ground from the old Hoatson shaft, in upper Lowell.

The formation is reported about the same as that from which have come vast quantities of the typical copper ore of the district. George E. Gilbert is president of the leasing company, which has been working for the past six years, in copper ores mainly.

Small Well on Maricopa Flat

On a twenty-hour test, Standard Oil Company got a flow of 129 barrels in its recently completed Fee No. 9-K project on Section 9, 11-23, at Maricopa Flat. Total depth is 3898 feet, considerably deeper than the level at which production generally is found at this field.

Gravity registered is 15.9 deg., with a 21 per cent cut.

COST LOW IN NEW FIELD IN TULARE

Drillers Find Terra Bella District Easy to Penetrate

Low cost of shallow drilling in the Terra Bella district in Tulare county and possibility of obtaining production between 900 and 1000 feet may result in a brisk drilling campaign there within the next thirty days.

Since completion a month ago of the Terra Bella Oil Company's Gardner No. 1 near Terra Bella, more than a dozen derricks have gone up and half of these are drilling ahead for the shallow producing formation. Terra Bella Oil's discovery well has been placed on the pump to improve the flow. Lately it has been yielding about ninety barrels of pure oil a day.

Sand has interfered with the plow in Terra Bella's first producer. Sucker rods are being pulled to clean out to bottom and it is expected that it soon will be restored to steady production.

On the Keene ten-acre lease, Terra Bella Oil is preparing to spud in another test. This lease embraces forty-six acres and is located less than one-half mile from the discovery well.

Southeast of Terra Bella's discovery well, Turney & DeVinney's Delano No. 1 is coring below 500 feet. Rapid progress has been made in this test. The Ford Alexander No. 1, due north of the new county road is down 550 feet and is coring every feet of the way. The Irvin Larson & Stanford's Paul Best No. 1 on Best ranch also is drilling ahead.

To assure the oil operators plenty of water, the Terra Bella irrigation district is co-operating by providing water for use in the mud pumps.

QUEEN CREEK MINE GIVING UP LEAD ORE

Property Owned by Belmont Operators Who Suspended on Copper

SUPERIOR (Ariz.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Fine lead ore, in galena, sampling about forty ounces silver, is being found in work on the Queen Creek property, near the Miami road, a short distance above Superior.

The shaft is following the ore and now is down about 200 feet, conditions bettering with depth, according to Secretary Arthur Smith, who was here this week from his office in Phoenix. The property is owned by the same interests that have been working the Belmont, on which operations have been suspended for a time, due to failure to develop copper ore expected at depth.

In the neighboring camp of Ray, the lower workings of the Ray branch of Nevada Consolidated for several days were flooded by surface water that came from a storm of great intensity. Caving operations on the Ray property have cracked and settled the hillside above, giving surface waters access to the workings. In normal times over 10,000 tons of ore a day are taken from these workings, for shipment to the company's mill at Hayden.

Bardeen Plans Greater Depth for Klipstein

MARICOPA, Aug. 17. (Exclusive) H. A. Bardeen intends to drill much deeper in his Klipstein well at Pattiway. He has moved in rotary equipment to take the place of the cable string that has been employed in drilling of the well to its present depth of 1185 feet. It is on Sec. 18, 10-23, and still is in the brown shale formation.

On Sec. 10, 10-23, where Bardeen is drilling his Ramsey No. 1, a total depth of 3310 feet has been drilled. Brown shale formation also is being drilled through at bottom of this well.

Wildcats Keep Drills Active

ARVIN, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Both drilling projects of the El Tejon district are making steady progress.

The Elmer Oil Company's Tejon No. 1 on Sec. 15, 30-30, is past 4900 feet and in the hard sandstone, while J. J. Ritchie has passed 1000 feet and is in the sandy shale formation on Sec. 33, 11-19.

OLD GOLD MINE STILL PAYS

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—The old Oro Plata mine in the Wallapai section is being worked by the Copperconda Mining Company, which is shipping gold ore to a Salt Lake smelter, with reported good returns. The property has had a life of over sixty years, with rich returns in the early days, when the surface product was worked in arastras. The operators had difficulty when base ores were encountered at depth, but base ores now are almost uniform in Northwestern Arizona, where the selective flotation idea has its strongest hold in the West.

Mining Engineer William Snow has been put in charge of the property of the Gold Reward Mining Company, in the Union Pass section. On the Brannock group the main shaft is to be deepened to 1000 feet, with cross-cutting on that level to the ore. Heavy surface equipment is to be installed, with inclusion of pumps to handle a heavy water flow expected.

The Chapin mines, below Signal, are declared to contain one of the largest manganese deposits in the United States, with very uniform surface value in the mineral. Profitable working now is impossible, owing to the distance from transportation and the low market value of the product. Development has demonstrated that percentage value betters with depth.

A four-foot vein that samples better than an ounce in gold to the ton, at 100 feet depth, is being worked at Cerbat by G. Warren Shufelt, who plans to ship the product. He states there also are material values in lead and silver.

VEIN FOUND UNDER TOWN

Gold Pay Streak Nine Feet Wide Beneath Oatman

Assays Running High as $500 Per Ton

Find Made in Tom Reed Territory, Believed New

OATMAN (Ariz.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—It appears probable that a new mine may be developed under the business section of Oatman. From this area Tom Siders and associates are sending to the Tom Reed mill a considerable tonnage of very rich ore. There is declaration that the vein that is being worked on the 100 level is a new one, with a width up to nine feet and with a pay streak that assays up to $500 in gold. All the ore across the vein is declared of milling grade.

On the same ground, on the 300-foot level, is the Eyster-James lease, whereon the same vein has been picked up, with announcement of good returns. This ground is owned by the Tom Reed and is close to the Tom Reed and Ben Harrison claims, which have been unworked for some time, while all attention has been given to the company's property on the east end of its holdings. There is speculation whether deeper development of the old Tom Reed workings may not bring good results.

In the newer Reed operations work is being centered on an upraise in the vein from the 1100 to the 850 level, this mainly for better ventilation, though also furnishing a safety outlet. At all points the ore is reported of excellent milling grade and to be in gratifying quantity.

United American also is upraising in its ore, from the 1000 level. Drifting on the vein has progressed about 150 feet, all in ore, with mill shipments stated to average $23 gold.

Helium Plant Far Ahead of Current Need

AMARILLO (Tex.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—With the completion of the second unit of the helium gas production plant near here, which is operated by the United States Bureau of Mines for the benefit of Army and Navy dirigibles, the capacity has been increased to 2,000,000 cubic feet a month. Monthly production is now approximately 1,500,000 cubic feet but this can be increased to meet any additional demand that may arise for the helium gas.

When the development of this noninflammable gas was begun in 1917 the cost of production was almost prohibitory. Through constant research by engineers this cost has been reduced until it is now well below 1 cent a cubic foot. The helium gas reserve in the fields adjacent to Amarillo is sufficient to last the Army and Navy for an indefinite period, according to official reports.

Carr Well is Going Forward at Capistrano

Having been refinanced during July, the old O. K. Carr wildcat well, near San Juan Capistrano, has resumed drilling, and now is down past 4300 feet. Reports Saturday were to the effect that the well was coring in the Sespe formation.

During 1927 the first wildcat in the vicinity of this well had a gas blowout, and then picked up eleven feet of oil sand at 3950 feet. There are a considerable number of oil operators who think that oil production might be developed in this district, so the Carr well will be a topic of considerable interest during the next few weeks.

Rich Cinnabar Strike is Made at Randsburg

An unusually rich cinnabar discovery is reported from Randsburg. E. B. Maginnis and A. B. Day, recently uncovered a promising deposit, which lies only half a mile from the Randsburg water works, two and one-half miles from the railroad and within a mile of the Southern Sierras Power line. A water line runs across the property.

The ore body is said to run 100 feet wide and has been opened up for 1500 feet, with good ore showing all the way. Some of the assays show $60 to the ton. If the deposit proves to be extensive from surface tests the owners will undertake to mine it by steamshovel methods.

GOLD CRAZE UPON MINES

Yellow Metal Properties of Mother Lode are Active

Operators Say Low Material Costs Permit Profits

Only One Copper Mine in State Shows Real Activity

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—The hunger for gold has speeded up activities throughout the great Mother Lode auriferous region of California, particularly in Amador, El Dorado, Calaveras and Tuolumne counties. The huge mills at the Argonaut, Central Eureka and Kennedy mines, in the Jackson-Sutter Creek field, are operating at capacity, with ore being hoisted from depths ranging from 2000 to 4800 vertical feet. Lower cost of machinery and supplies helps the companies to realize larger profits.

The Butte Mining Company has optioned placer properties in the Magalia district, near Chico, and also taken options on quartz mines in other California fields. The directors have levied a 3-cent assessment, and called a stockholders' meeting for September 15 to make the stock nonassessable. The pending assessment is said to be for the purpose of relieving the corporation of debt and completing payments on properties held in Calaveras county. Southern Californians are interested.

Officials of the North Star and Myra Divide companies, jointly working the Reed cinnabar mine in Napa county, state that commercial ore has been opened after about two years of persistent prospecting. It is said to show the full width of the drift, has been developed for fifty feet, and is of furnace grade.

With exception of the Walker Mining Company in Plumas county and the Greenhorn Company, west of Redding, production of copper in California has practically ceased. The Walker Mining, a subsidiary of Anaconda Copper, continues to produce heavily. The Greenhorn Company, controlled by Los Angeles capital, is making shipments of high-grade ore to the Tacoma smelter. Several small producers have recently discontinued work. The huge Blue Ledge deposit, Siskiyou county, is to be worked on a large scale shortly by the Consolidated Copper Company, and a 250-ton concentrating mill installed.

DEPRESSION NOT FELT IN MONTERREY

New School, Factories, Highway Keep Mexican City Humming

MONTERREY (Mex.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—More improvements are now being made in Monterrey than at any time since the administration of President Porfirio Diaz, according to statistics compiled by the local Chamber of Commerce. The formal opening of the new highway between Monterrey and Laredo, Tex., 155 miles, will take place September 10, and on October 5 the new State Industrial School here, which was erected at a cost of $350,000, will be dedicated. The new plant which the General Electric Company is constructing here for the manufacture of electric light bulbs will be completed in a few weeks. On July 8, an addition to the glass manufacturing plant here, costing $2,000,000, was placed in operation. It is devoted to manufacturing window glass. Many municipal improvements are under way, including the widening and paving of business streets and extending public utilities. The manufacturing plants and domestic consumers of Monterrey are now being supplied with natural gas from fields in the Laredo district of Texas. The availability of this cheap fuel has greatly stimulated industries of various kinds.

Texas Property Evaluated at Four Billions

AUSTIN (Tex.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Based on the reports of tax assessors of the counties of Texas, the State Comptroller has estimated that the total taxable value of all property in this State for 1930 is $4,280,498,578, an increase of $70,393,116 over that of last year. During the last eight years, the taxable wealth of Texas has increased at an average rate of more than $300,000,000 annually. The assessments for 1930 do not show any decrease of land values as compared with last year. On the contrary, in the new agricultural parts of Northwest Texas the value per acre of farm lands continues to show an upward trend.

State Reduces By-Pass Debt

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 17. (AP)—Within the past three months more than $4,000,000 has been applied to the reduction of indebtedness of the Sutter-Butte By-Pass Assessment No. 6 through purchase by the State of warrants against the project, Lyman M. King, director of finance, reports.

King called attention to approval by the State Reclamation Board of the most recent purchase of warrants, aggregating $210,909 in principal and interest at par, which were acquired at 50 per cent of that figure, the price fixed by the Finance Department when purchase of warrants was begun last May 7. The Sutter Basin Corporation was the principal seller, its total offering being $185,374.66, principal and accrued interest, for which it received $92,687.33.

The project includes lands in seven counties of the Sacramento Valley, those in Sutter and Colusa counties carrying the greater part of the obligation.

PAPER MILL GETS SODIUM

Arizona Mine Turns Out Quantities of Product

Deposit Made by Prehistoric Lake is Opinion

Most of Mine Work is Done by Mohave Apaches

CAMP VERDE (Ariz.) Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—Nearly 250 tons a day of thenardite, otherwise known as anhydrous sodium sulphate, is the daily production of the Arizona Chemical Company, a subsidiary of the Kalbfleisch Corporation of Delaware. R. A. Asbury is local manager.

About the only foreign matter is in small masses of gypsum and sodium chloride, needing washing and elimination in a crushing plant. Removal of the gypsum is by heating and screening. A fleet of ten heavy trucks hauls the product to the railhead at Clemenceau for shipment to various customers.

At present most of the output goes to the International Paper Company, a large southern manufacturer. It is declared that the sulphate is especially well suited to paper manufacture, through its freedom from acid. Its shipping qualities are improved by its almost entire absence of moisture, avoiding caking in transit.

About 125 men are employed, the common labor largely done by sturdy Mohave Apaches. Twenty-five miners are employed on each of two shifts, with stoping by means of seven 200-foot tunnels, connected by cross-cuts. Little timbering is needed. There also is open-pit extraction, aided by a dredge and a dragline. Electric power is from the lines of the Arizona Power Company, especially for operation of the compressors, with ten jackhammers used.

The sulphate deposit is the bed of a lake that dates before the Pleistocene period. Prehistoric man mined here, probably for common salt, and many ancient artifacts and a number of human mummies have been found in the modern operations. This village, on the site of a pioneer army post, now is knowing a season of prosperity, marked by a lack of housing accommodations.

Great Northern-Western Pacific Feeder Finished

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17. (Exclusive)—The McCloud River Railroad which will be one of the feeder lines to the Great Northern-Western Pacific "bridge" link in Northeastern California, has completed construction of a new line thirty three and one-half miles long from Hambone in Siskyou county to the Great Northern survey in Modoc county, it is announced by D. M. Swobe, president. Hitherto a small logging road, the McCloud River line is expected to develop into a vital lumber-hauling adjunct to the Great Northern-Western Pacific combination. It will be connected with the latter by a jointly owned line from the present McCloud River terminal five miles from Lookout to Bieber, the connecting point for the Great Northern and Western Pacific.

The McCloud River Railroad has a western connection with the Southern Pacific at Mt. Shasta City.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROFESOR R. GUERRERO
Encargado de la Sección Española de Este Diario

Sobre el canto, baile y música de los gitanos andaluces nos dice lo siguiente la Enciclopedia de Espasa: Esta manifestación artística, en extremo interesante, del pueblo gitano es designada con el título de "cantos flamencos", o, más vulgarmente, de "cante flamenco".

En términos generales, trátase de una clase especial de composiciones de indudable parentesco melódico y rítmico con la música propiamente árabe, y en las que predomina un sentimiento de honda melancolía. No existiendo entre los creadores de este género artístico, de indudable belleza, un sistema cualquiera semiográfico para conservarlo a través del tiempo, transmitiese entre sus cultivadores de igual modo que se ha perpetuado de siglo en siglo la música puramente árabe, o sea por la persistencia de las tradiciones.

El origen de los "cantos flamencos" ha sido objeto de empeñadas controversias, y se han ofrecido a la discusión numerosas hipótesis. Señalando sólo las tres principales, diremos que, a juicio de algunos investigadores, esa música doliente y extraña pudo ser importada a España por flamencos o descendientes de flamencos emigrados en otro tiempo en Bohemia, país originario de los gitanos o "tsiganos"; o bien los "cantos flamencos" llegaron a nuestro país durante el reinado de Carlos V por mediación de flamencos procedentes de los Países Bajos; o, por último, dicha música fue traída por flamencos "tsiganos" de los que vinieron con las tropas bohemias, y se adaptó luego a la modalidad sentimental del pueblo andaluz y levantino, hasta constituir un arte peculiar y característico de las citadas regiones españolas.

Un ilustre musicógrafo español, Felipe Pedrell, que se ocupa del asunto en sus "Estudios sobre folklore musical", y se mantiene en duda acerca de los motivos porque se llamen "cantos flamencos" las canciones y danzas gitanas, opina que en ellas hay algo que se remonta al origen de ese pueblo en otros tiempos errantes, origen que se ha dicho ser el Egipto Superior, y de ahí la designación de "gipsies" dada por los anglosajones a los gitanos; algo que acusa claramente un carácter siriaco, que, si no procede de las regiones de la misma Siria o de las vecinas, sin echar en olvido las moriscas, ha debido implantarse en España secundado por la liturgia mozárabe, impregnada de un carácter esencialmente oriental.

Esta procedencia oriental de los cantos flamencos puede apreciarse bien comparando algunas de sus muestras más típicas con los cantos y danzas tunecinos o con los cantos bohemios rusos. Como quiera que ello sea, los modos y ritmos ondulantes de la música "flamenca", su excesiva ornamentación, lo recargado del arabesco, la repetición insistente de los períodos, sus quejumbrosos giros melódicos y sus lánguidas inflexiones, así como ciertos detalles de su interpretación, tanto en los "cantaores" y "cantaoras", como en los "tocaores", acompañantes o solistas, todo ello acusa una relación muy próxima con el arte popular árabe, tal como éste, ya en su período de decadencia, se practicaba entre los siglos X y XV en todo el mundo musulmán.

Grande es la variedad de cantos y danzas del género flamenco, pues la inventiva y el sentimiento artístico de los profesionales, entre los que hay verdaderos "virtuosos" de la guitarra o el "cante", añade sin cesar nuevas canciones al repertorio que pudiera llamarse clásico. Los principales "cantos flamencos" pudieran clasificarse del siguiente modo: "Cantos sin guitarra", entre los que figuran la "debla" (considerada como el más antiguo); la emocionante "saeta", que pone una nota de infinita ternura y de honda emoción religiosa en las solemnidades de Semana Santa en Sevilla, Málaga y otras poblaciones andaluzas o levantinas; la "toná" (chica y grande); la "liviana" y el "martinete". Cantos con acompañamiento de guitarra, pero sin baile: la "petenera", "caña", "polo", "soleares", "seguidilla" o "seguirriya", "serranas", "rondeñas" y "javeras". Cantos llamados "por alegrías", para bailar: la "alegría", "sevillanas", "bulerías" y el "tango". Cantos flamencos llamados "de Levante": las "tarántulas", "malagueña", "murcianas", "cartageneras", "fandango" y "fandanguillo".

En mi Plática siguiente continuaré haciendo comentarios sobre el artículo de Spottorno y Topete, que nos viene dando material para discurrir sobre diversos temas.

BULL RING FANS RAZZ AMERICAN

Matador Franklin Jeered Because of Salmon Pink and White Costume

MADRID, Aug. 17. (AP) — Sidney Franklin of Brooklyn, N. Y., Spain's American matador, today returned to the ring after an absence of two months only to receive a razzing from the fans because of the color of his costume.

Franklin killed two bulls, but the ringsiders found his work with the cape hasty and conservative and his swordplay below standard, though he used only one thrust for each animal.

What bothered even Franklin's followers was a salmon pink suit embroidered with white lacings in which the American chose to make his reappearance.

This suit, defying fashion decrees and traditions of the Spanish arena, was considered the principal cause of jeering of Franklin's cape and sword work.

Traditions of the bullring decree that the well-dressed matador appear in the colors of the Spanish flag—a scarlet cape and gold braids.

London Dislikes Gangster Films

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 17. (AP)—American talking films are meeting with disfavor in London because of the continuous use of the night club-gangster theme, Miss Elsie Fogerty, director of the Central School of Speech, London, said here today.

"Londoners object to the depressing American crime picture," Miss Fogerty said. "The pictures represent your people as spending all their time in night clubs. I know Americans do not live that way and it seems to me Hollywood is foolish in continuing the production of that type of picture."

Bears Boast Huge List of Grid Scorers

BERKELEY, Aug. 17—The University of California football team may have lost an imposing list of letter men at the end of the 1929 season, but players who return for service this fall scored within one point of half of the Golden Bears' total of 155 points for the season, a check of scoring statistics shows. Nine men scored a total of seventy-seven points in varsity games.

Ralston (Rusty) Gill, fullback, leads the returning scorers with twenty-four points. Ellis Thornton, end, is next with twelve points, and Ed Griffiths, quarterback, garnered seven. "Moose" Garrity, Joe Hickingbotham and Ralph Seely, halfbacks; Ed Kirwan, quarter, and Fritz Cahn, tackle, each scored one touchdown. Ted Beckett, tackle, was successful in four tries for point.

Man Wanted Here Gives Self Up in Colorado

His conscience, along with being tired of a fugitive's existence, will bring P. O. Guy, 39-year-old Torrance resident, back to answer for a number of worthless checks. Guy walked into police headquarters at Denver yesterday and asked to be placed in a cell.

Today a warrant for his arrest and extradition will be forwarded by Torrance authorities, they said last night.

Guy told the Colorado authorities he is anxious to get back to his wife and children. He said he cashed worthless checks amounting to more than $800 in Torrance. He said he deposited the money in a Torrance bank, paid some debts with personal checks and then drew the money out of the bank. He lost the money, he said, on a gambling boat off the Coast.

Prisoner Foiled in Death Tries

Two attempts to die within thirty minutes by a 17-year-old prisoner in the Hollywood Jail were foiled early yesterday by shouts of other prisoners. The youth twice attempted to hang himself.

Sergt. Puckett first found the prisoner, James McMahan, of 429 Orange Grove avenue, with his belt around his neck and suspended from the top bars of the drunk cell. He was removed to another tank and the belt taken from him. A few minutes later jail officers again were called and found McMahan suspended from the bars of his cell by a blanket which he had torn into strips. He was then removed to Central Jail.

According to police McMahan was arrested on a drunk charge at Beverly Boulevard and Poinsettia avenue and said he tried to die because of fear of disgrace of arrest. Records show he had been arrested before on a similar charge, officers say.

Citrus Disease to be Studied

Farm Adviser Rounds announces a field meeting on the control of oak-root fungus of citrus to be held under auspices of the Agricultural Extension Service at the G. W. Brink orchard, Alexander and American avenues, Pomona, Tuesday at 9:30 a.m.

Many orchards in the county have trees or certain areas affected with oak-root fungus. The symptoms in the top of the tree are a constant dying back of healthy shoots and the dropping of leaves, although sometimes many of the leaves appear to be perfectly healthy. Checking the disease in the orchard, says Mr. Rounds, is a very important part of the treatment.

Comedian Wins Alimony Delay

Al St. John, film comedian, talked himself out of going to jail for alimony default again, it appeared from the records of Superior Judge Archbald's court Saturday.

"We'd rather see this man work than lay out time in jail," said Attorney Harry Chamberlin, for Mrs. St. John, "but every time we threaten him with the old gow, he digs down somewhere and produces the coin."

St. John suggested that perhaps Attorney Chamberlin, too, could scare up money if jail portals yawned, and then went on to say that he had several jobs coming up, but none available immediately. Judge Archbald continued the case three weeks.

Camp's Theater Near Completion

Work on the new Nature Theater which is being built at Big Pines, one of Los Angeles county's recreation camps in the mountains, is nearing completion, according to Virgil Dahl, county recreation director.

The building will have a seating capacity of 2000 persons, a stage 40 by 60 feet and will cost $2500. Sloping hills on which the seats are built make a natural amphitheater.

Big Pines was one of the popular county resorts during July for 19,846 persons visited the place, according to reports to the Board of Supervisors.

Bat Battalino of Hartford, featherweight champion, engages in another of his frequent nontitular affairs, when he tangles with Bud Taylor, the Terre Haute (Ind.) terror Monday night at the usual place, Hartford.

Other bouts on the national schedule include:

DOROTHY POYNTON COPS GIRLS' DIVING LAURELS

Three of the country's best amateur divers featured the aquatic carnival at the Ambassador Hotel plunge yesterday afternoon. Farid Simaika of the Hollywood Athletic Club, Harold (Dutch) Smith, and Johnny Riley of Los Angeles A. C., performed from springboards and high platforms in a series of beautiful somersaults that held the gallery spellbound.

Dorothy Poynton, young feminine diver from Pasadena Athletic and Country Club, won the girls' ten-foot diving event, with a new Los Angeles Athletic Club protege, Betty Bayes, in second place. Marion Dale of Lake Norconian Club, who placed in the national high-diving championships at Long Beach recently, was third.

The men's 500-yard free style was captured by Ed Robertson of L.A.A.C., who won by nearly a full length of the twenty-five-yard pool from Duke Callaghan of the Hollywood A.C.

Norman Skeete of Deauville A. C., fought Callaghan over the last two laps and finished a good third. Tom Meddlicott of Deauville, was forced out on the eighth lap by stomach cramps.

Mercury Club mermaids ran away with the women's events; the century dash going to Olive Hatch in 1m. 5s., and the back stroke 100-yard event to Josephine McKim, in the exceptionally good time of 1m. 16s. Second and third in the free style were Louise Waugh and Phyllis Bell of Lake Norconian Club, while in the latter, Miss Hatch and Eunice Berman of Norco, were second and third.

Other results follow:

100 yards, free style for men—Won by MacGowan Miller (Hollywood A.C.;) Bob Bond (Ambassador S.C.,) second; Tom Meddlicott (Deauville A.C.,) third. Time, 58s.

50 yards free style for girls 14 and under—Won by Jack Murray (Ambassador S.C.;) Jerry Rose (Ambassador S.C.,) second; Jack Meddlicott (Deauville A.C.,) third. Time, 34 3-5s.

50 yards free style for girls 14 and under—Won by Edna Hayson (Lake Norconian Club;) Rush Nurmi (Fresno S.C.,) second; Evelyn Block (Surf and Sand Club, Hermosa Beach,) third. Time, 31s.

Exhibitions from ten-foot springboard by 4-year-old Joy Crew, member of the Los Angeles A.C., drew rounds of applause from the grandstand.

CUPID GETS BUCK FEVER

Aim Falters and State Marriage Total Slumps in First Six Months; Los Angeles Gains

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 17. (AP)—Los Angeles county showed a gain in marriages during the first half of this year, while the State total fell seventy-four short of the 1929 first-half figure, Dr. Walter M. Dickie, State director of public health, has announced.

Los Angeles county figures were given as follows:

First half of 1930, 9030; first half of 1929, 8991; gain 39.

The State total for the first half of this year was 24,002, compared with 24,076 couples who took the vows during the first half of last year. Contrary to custom, June was not the big month for Cupid this year, comparatively speaking, the month's total showing a decline from last year. February and March showed marked gains, but the other months showed losses.

The first six months of 1926 and 1927 brought the greatest number of marriages ever performed during similar periods of time in California, with 26,680 and 27,939 weddings, respectively. In 1928, with inauguration of the three-day license law, the number fell to 21,789. Last year, with 24,076, the upword trend began.

"The 1930 total indicates there will be no conspicuous gain in the number of marriages this year," Dr. Dickie said.

Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Mateo, Napa, Kings and Humboldt counties showed the greatest gain in number of marriages performed. The most conspicuous losses occurred in Orange, Riverside, San Francisco, San Joaquin, Imperial, Butte, Santa Clara and Alameda counties.

FIVE CHINESE WOUNDED

CARELESSNESS FLAUNTS SOS

Park Guardian Roasted Brown 'Cause He Hoisted His Ensign Union-Down

Old Glory waved from its lofty mast in Westlake Park as a woman passed, and the woman stared with a puzzled frown as she saw the flag was upside down! Her eyes shot patriotic fire as she sought the watchman to inquire why in the name of goodness he didn't hang it up as it ought to be. The watchman looked and he scraped and bowed and he hung his head as he disavowed he'd hung it that way purposely. "I'll fix it right away," said he. So down it came and up it went in the way our country's fathers meant the flag should fly and now you'll see Old Glory hung as it ought to be.

CHINA HOOK-UP AIM OF NATIONS

America and Europe Vie for Connections There

Future Trade Profits Hang on Communications

Around the Dial with Local Programs of Merit

THE TIMES FORUM, KHJ, AT 1:30 P.M.
Radio drama by Stuart Buchanan, Mary Duckett and Joe Sauers.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Tremendous rivalry is being displayed between the United States and European countries for radio connections with China in anticipation of the return of normal conditions in the future, and the resumption of trade on a large scale. China being one of the most important markets of the world for a variety of products, as well as a source of supply for many important commodities, the countries having direct communications services will naturally benefit more than those whose communications must pass under the scrutiny of a competitor.

While American interests, in cooperation with Chinese, are planning to open a transoceanic radio service to China within the next few months, Germany is bending effort to built up a similar service and has laid the groundwork not only for a service to China, but for one to Japan, as well. At the same time it is proposed to establish a service with France, so that China will have direct communication with San Francisco, Paris and Berlin.

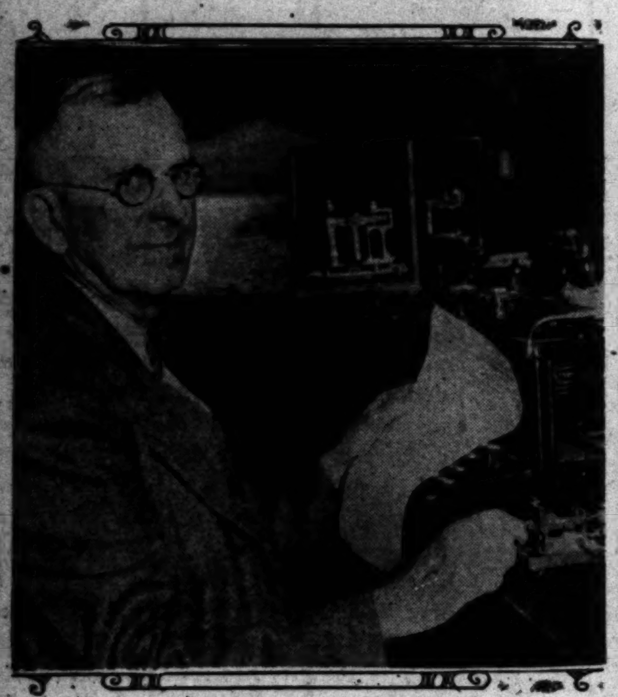
NEWS-WIRE VETERAN RETIRES

McWatty on Postal's Pension List



Operator at "The Times" Signs Off

EDWARD P. McWATTY, veteran newspaper telegraph operator of wide experience in the West, has just been retired on a pension at the age of 70 years by the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company. He had been stationed with The Times for his company during a quarter of a century and was one of four men who escaped from the editorial floor of The Times Building when it was dynamited in 1910.

For years McWatty's instrument clicked into his ear stories great and small from all over the country and he sent out to eastern correspondents the best of the news breaks here. Some of the livest stories that ever went on the first pages of such papers as the New York Times, Chicago Tribune and Los Angeles Times went through "Mac's" wire.

McWatty grew up around Kenerdell, Pa., and "picked up" the knack of telegraphing at the railroad office there. His first telegraph job was with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad at Mason City, Iowa. Once he was with the Missouri Pacific Railroad in Kansas, Indian Territory, and then as train dispatcher in a Texas town.

It was in 1897 that McWatty did his first newspaper telegraphing, in Kansas City for Associated Press. Then followed fourteen years in charge of Kansas City Star's news telegraph. He left it to come to Los Angeles and has been with the Postal in The Times Building since 1905.

On the night of the dynamiting of The Times, among the six men on the editorial floor at 1:07 a.m., the time of the explosion, were Harry L. Crane, assistant telegraph editor; R. L. Sawyer, Western Union operator, and McWatty. McWatty was the only one of the three who was not burned to death. He and three of the others of the six got out alive, but he was injured in falling from the third floor. One of the others died of his injuries and another was crippled for life.

Oddly enough, the man who now handles "Mac's" old trick on Postal for The Times is one who at the time of the outrage was a Western Union operator sometimes assigned to The Times, but on that particular night he chanced to be absent from The Times instrument. He is Harry Moore.

McWatty, it appeared for a time, was likely, because of his expertness and efficiency, to prove an exception to Postal's rule to retire on pension its men who reach 70 years of age. However, the rule prevailed and now he is taking it easy for the present at least at his home, 2515 East Third street.

DISTRICT APPROVED

The tentative assessment district map for the extension of Second avenue in Venice from the north city boundary at Main street to Venice Way has been approved by the City Council.

COLISEUM CONTRACT EXPECTED

Board Scheduled to Sign Papers Today for Work on Last Unit of Structure

The contract for Unit B, the final job on the Coliseum, is expected to be awarded this morning by the Board of Public Works to Edwards, Wildey & Dixon Company, contractors.

This will mean that the last technicality standing in the way of the ultimate completion of the structure has been surmounted and concludes a campaign conducted by leading organizations and citizens for several years.

Not only will the Coliseum seat 105,000 persons for the great Olympic Games of 1932, but the full seating capacity, it is hoped, will be prepared for the final big games of the coming football season.

The cost of the contract for Unit B is $454,000, shared equally by the city and county. The contracting company recently completed the work for Unit A, which reconstructed the upper part of the bowl, originally built of wooden supports and seats.

When completed the Coliseum will be the finest bowl in the world, although it will seat slightly fewer than can be accommodated at Soldier Field, Chicago. The sanitary, lighting and press arrangements are credited with being the most modern in the country, while handling the crowds will be simplified.

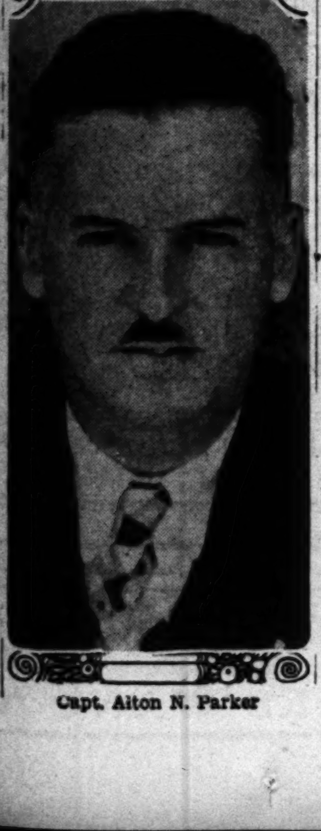
The Coliseum will be under the control of the Community Development Association until the end of 1932, the Olympic year. The bowl originally was built by the association and financed and operated by it, the city and county gradually, over a period of eight years, refinancing the job.

The structure has been operated by Zack Farmer, secretary of the association, and many millions of persons have been accommodated for football, track and other athletic events, memorial services, commencements, conventions and spectacles, until its fame has spread throughout the world.

LIGHTING MAP SUBMITTED

Street Lighting Engineer Lauer has submitted to the City Council the assessment district map for the installation of an ornamental lighting system in Main street between One Hundred Eighth and One Hundred Twelfth streets. It was transmitted to the Traffic and Street Lighting Committee.

BYRD ASKS FLYING CROSS FOR CAPT. ALTON PARKER



Capt. Alton N. Parker

For meritorious and daring service with Admiral Richard E. Byrd at the North and South Poles, Capt. Alton N. Parker, now a Western Air Express pilot here, has been recommended by the admiral for the Distinguished Flying Cross, it was learned yesterday.

Due to the fact that Parker represented the United States Marine Corps Reserve on the Antarctic exploit, Admiral Byrd addressed his recommendation to the Secretary of the Navy. His letter reads in part:

"I recommend the award of the Distinguished Flying Cross for the participation of the above-named officer in the eastern flight of the exploration over the unexplored regions of Antarctica December 5, 1929.

"The exceptional qualifications as a pilot that Capt. Parker demonstrated on the North Pole expedition led me to select him as a member of the Antarctic expedition and for the flight of exploration over the unexplored region to the eastward of King Edward VII Land.

"At 10:30 a.m. on December 5, 1928, the airplane Floyd Bennett took off from our base at Little America, Antarctica, with Capt. Parker at the controls, in company with three others, and flew to the eastward over the unexplored regions of the Antarctic, where they discovered a great new land 300 miles from Little America. WOMEN START AERIAL DERBY

Six Hop Off at Long Beach as 20,000 Persons Cheer

Only One Has Any Trouble; Chicago's Final Goal

Gladys O'Donnell First to End San Diego Lap

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 17. (AP)—Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach was the first of the woman derbyists to land at Lindbergh Field on the first lap of the race to Chicago. She landed at 4:04:51 p.m. She was followed by Margery Doig of Danbury, Ct., who landed at 4:05:03.

Third to arrive was Ruth Barron of Hollywood, who crossed the landing-line at 4:22:04. She was followed by Mrs. Mildred Morgan of Beverly Hills, who landed at 4:25:29.

Jean La Rene of Kansas City landed fifth at 4:30:16. She was followed by Ruth Stewart of St. Louis, whose landing-time was 4:31:09.

More than 15,000 spectators lined Lindbergh Field and the surrounding hills for the arrival of the lady birds, who, at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning will hop to Phoenix, Ariz., with a stop in Imperial Valley for fuel and lunch.

Immediately after Miss O'Donnell landed and reported a motorhead gasket blown out, the necessary repairs were started. The plane will be on the starting-line tomorrow morning.

Miss La Rene said she was delayed eight minutes at Long Beach because her ship had not been serviced with fuel.

LARGE CROWD SEES WOMEN START LONG TRIP

A pistol shot fired in Chicago and transmitted to Long Beach over telephone wires yesterday sent six outstanding women flyers winging on their way to the Illinois city as contestants in the second annual women's air derby.

Margery Doig, a Danbury (Ct.) society girl, was first off the ground. While 20,000 persons, including many leaders in aviation, cheered, she lifted her Pitcairn Sport Mailwing off the ground at Long Beach Municipal Airport at 3:31 p.m. One minute later Mrs. Gladys O'Donnell, Long Beach aviatrix and mother of three children, arose in her taper-wing Waco biplane powered with a 225-horsepower Wright J-6-7 motor.

At 3:33 p.m. Joe Nikrent, official starter for the National Aeronautical Association, dropped the flag that was supposed to send Jean La Rene of Kansas City away but she was unable to get the motor of her American Eagle phaeton started on schedule and she lost eight minutes while the remaining contestants in the field were roaring away from the airport in the following order:

Ruth Stewart, St. Louis, in a Curtiss Robin powered by a Curtiss Challenger motor.

Mildred Morgan, Beverly Hills, in a Travel Air with a Wright J-5 motor.

Ruth Barron, Hollywood High School girl, in a Buhl plane powered by a Wright J-5 motor.

As the six flyers took the air, with Miss Doig in the lead, they first flew a short distance north, then banked and turned and struck out for San Diego, the first night-control station on the 2365-mile route to the Windy City. Mrs. O'Donnell provided a thrill to the crowd by putting her plane into a dangerous vertical bank when but fifty feet from the ground.

ESCORTS START

A moment after the women disappeared toward the south, three other planes hopped off to act as an escort on the way to Chicago. In one of these was C. F. Lienesch, manager of the race, accompanied by his sister, Miss Ruth Lienesch. In another were Roy Harding and Earl Ovington, official timers; and in the third Frank M. Gorey and Leo Root, Legionnaires, who term themselves "the flying hoboes" and are making the trip to win a $2000 wager with a Long Beach man.

A fourth escorting plane flown by J. F. Grainger, accompanied by Mrs. Grainger, will leave today and join the field at Phoenix.

For several hours preceding the actual start the spectators were treated to a spectacular air carnival in which noted flyers stunted. Among them were Col. Roscoe Turner, Col. Art Goebel and Florence Lowe Barnes. The latter flew her Travel Air "mystery ship," in which she recently attained a speed of 196 miles an hour, and which was ruled out of the contest when it failed to meet qualifying conditions. Mrs. Barnes allowed her sister flyers to get well started toward San Diego; then set out in pursuit, but as a noncontestant.

AIRPORT DEDICATED

While the impromptu air circus was in progress, James Collins officiated at dedication ceremonies, which resulted in the airport being dedicated to Earl Daugherty, pioneer flyer who was killed about two years ago. Collins presented the late pilot's father with a floral piece to be given to Mrs. Daugherty.

As the contestants lined up for the start to await the sound of the gun fired in Chicago. Gov. Young presented each with a bouquet and handed to Lienesch a letter addressed to the Illinois Governor. The winner of the race will present it on behalf of Gov. Young.

The route to be covered by the derby flyers will include stops at eighteen cities and take them over all manner of terrain. The arrival in Chicago will be in conjunction with the National Air Races there from the 23rd to the 30th inst.

The race is sponsored by the Long Beach Aviation Industrial Jubilee Committee, of which Charles Bland is chairman. It is serving as a prelude to the aviation exposition to be held at Long Beach beginning Thursday.

TRAFFIC CASUALTIES HEAVY

One Dead, Six Gravely Hurt and Another Crippled in Week-End Roster of Accidents

One man is dead, six other persons are reported as gravely injured and a sixth victim likely will be a permanent cripple as the result of injuries received in week-end traffic accidents. Hit-and-run drivers figured in three of the cases, two of whom were captured, and three were charged with driving while intoxicated.

The man killed was Leo Wellingham, 39 years of age, of 1338 Beechwood Drive, who died at Glendale Emergency Hospital of injuries received in an automobile crash at Central avenue and Los Feliz Boulevard, Glendale.

RIDGE ROUTE WRECK

Crushed under the wreckage of their automobile after it plunged off the Ridge Route about two miles north of Castaic, Sevariana Salzar and his wife of Tipton were injured very seriously, and their three children painfully cut and bruised. The parents, taken by motorists to the Newhall Emergency Hospital, were both suffering from skull fractures, according to a Sheriff's office report.

In a collision between the automobile in which she was riding with her husband and another machine Mrs. Frances Blakeney of 1025 Grand avenue, Rosemead, received a skull fracture which may cause her death. After receiving emergency treatment at the San Gabriel Health Center she was transferred to the General Hospital.

The accident occurred at Las Tunas Drive and San Gabriel Boulevard. Harry Blakeney, the husband, was reported not seriously hurt. The other machine was driven by R. H. Swinney of 3586 Foothill Boulevard. He was not injured, according to deputies who investigated the crash.

AT BLIND CORNER

Two machines, crashing together at Twenty-fourth street and Grammercy Place, described by police as a "blind" intersection, resulted in probable fatal injuries to Mrs. Zelma Mitchell, 24, of 1325 North Brand Boulevard, Glendale. She suffered a crushed chest, possible internal injuries, concussion of the brain and a fractured left ankle.

Mrs. Mitchell was riding in a car driven by her brother, Harmon Bunting, 19. With them were Oswald Bunting, 17, and Miss Laurel Rumble, 24, of 737 South Westlake avenue, a recent arrival from Martinez. Oswald Bunting suffered an injury to his left knee which, police surgeons stated, may leave him a permanent cripple.

His brother and Miss Rumble were painfully lacerated and bruised. All were treated at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

The other car was driven by Fred C. Walker of 2227 West Twenty-fifth street who, police reported, was not hurt.

A hit-and-run driver struck two persons at San Fernando Road and Lankershim Boulevard last night as they crossed the highway. One man, Ira Haskins, 45, of 1912 Walnut street, Long Beach, is in the North Hollywood Receiving Hospital with a basal skull fracture and probably will die. His companion, Charles Scanlan, 35, of 1429 Rice street, suffered severe bruises.

HIT-RUN VICTIM

Victim of an asserted hit-and-run driver at Clara and Macy streets, Joe Melendez, 42, of 4254 Mission Road, was probably fatally hurt. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital suffering internal injuries.

An automobile hurled as a missile by a street car following a collision last night sent three people to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for treatment. At Eighth street and Hobart Boulevard an automobile driven by Miss Evelyn Westwater, 1451 West Sixty-first street, collided with an N car in charge of Motorman Lewis. The machine was turned on its side and hurled some distance, striking Miss Charlotte Heaton, 18, 836 South Harvard Representatives of every section of the State will attend the Buron Fitts dinner rally tomorrow night at the Chamber of Commerce Building. This gathering, which will bring to a climax the gubernatorial candidacy of Fitts in the Southland, promises to be one of the most ambitious political meetings undertaken during the campaign.

The meeting is open to the public and in addition to this general invitation 5000 men and women recognized as leaders in the Republican party have been especially invited to attend. Speakers will review the issues of the campaign, particularly stressing the contention that Southern California is entitled to the Governor of this State in the forthcoming election.

Joseph Scott, Republican leader of Los Angeles, will act as toastmaster. Other speakers will include Mrs. Torrey Everett, Pasadena club and political leader; Judge Robert M. Clarke, Councilman Thomas Williams of the Twelfth District, the largest in the city; Dr. George Winfield Scott and Mrs. C. A. Bass, editor of the California Eagle, one of the largest Negro newspapers in the nation.

The entire proceedings will be broadcast by remote control from Station KNX. It was first planned to repeat the broadcast through key stations in other cities of the State but time schedules will prevent this. KNX will be the only station carrying the program.

Entenza, past National Commander of Spanish-American War Veterans; George Breslin, Isidore Isner, William Keck, S. C. Graham, Stewart P. MacLenon, Judge Thomas P. RAIL CHIEF SAYS COAST CROPS GOOD

Conditions in California Best in Santa Fe Territory, President Storey States

"Business conditions in California are slightly better than they are elsewhere in our territory," said W. B. Storey, president of the Santa Fe Railway, upon his arrival in Los Angeles late yesterday afternoon.

W. B. STOREY

"Speaking for our territory as a whole traffic is under that of last year. Freight traffic is showing a little reduction, as is passenger traffic but we are expecting some improvement during the last half of the year.

"It is hard to estimate the damage done the crops in the Middle West by the drought. In our territory the damage is spotty. Some districts are hit badly and again others relatively close are not damaged at all.

"The Kansas wheat crop is as big as it was last year and it has been harvested. The crop movement, however, is slow, owing to the low price. I find California nearly normal, with crops in fine shape and depression much less noticeable than in the East."

"We will do our part in relief work if called upon,' he added. "We may be asked to haul corn or cattle. So far no request has been made."

Mr. Storey has been spending part of a vacation in the vicinity of San Francisco, his native haunt, and will be in Los Angeles two or three days before returning to his headquarters in Chicago. He is stopping at the Biltmore.

Lost Pigeons Given New Aid

The telephone in the office of D. S. Nettle rang yesterday. He listened for a moment, smiled, and said: "Certainly. Send it along. I'll return it to its owner."

"It" was a banded carrier pigeon. Every once in a while these feathered voyagers, for all their usually unerring instinct, get lost. Some resident in Los Angeles will find the bewildered air traveler, and not know what to do about it.

To meet the emergency the Los Angeles Carrier Pigeon Association has established a unique office. It is that of official returner of lost birds.

Mr. Nettle is in charge of it. If you should happen to find a lost banded carrier pigeon call MO. 17836, and Mr. Nettle will return it to its owner.

Council Gets Noise Protests

Two complaints against noise, and from widely separated causes, have been filed with the City Council, and both were referred to the Police and Fire Committee to see what can be done about it.

One complaint was against a noisy loud-speaker in a golf course at 821 Palm avenue, Gardena, and the other was against loud preaching from a gospel tent at Santa Barbara and Arlington avenues.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THE highway from San Diego to San Francisco has become the greatest tourist trail in the world. The hotels are taking on color and charm.

There is one hotel in Santa Barbara where the tourist millionaire can have a bungalow built to his own order. During the period that he is not occupying it, the bungalow is rented and he receives dividends from the hotel company.

HOTEL DO-DADS

Another hotel, at Santa Maria, makes a specialty of cut flowers. The dining-room is like a superb flower show throughout the year—a blaze of color and beauty.

Another hotel in the Santa Ynez Valley has gained fame for its lack of elegance. It is a comfortable country home with wonderful beds and food that has become famous.

Still another hotel farther north is run by a dairy company where they serve cream so thick it almost has to be cut.

In many of the hotels, each suite has a kitchenette where the personal servants of the millionaire can prepare late suppers. And take things out of the ice boxes.

WHY THE STRUGGLE?

The other day I saw the photograph of a man of some celebrity whom I have not seen since he was a fresh, brash boy 15 years of age. I was shocked at the sadness in his face. That is almost always the case.

We have made life easy in many ways with automobiles and patent ice boxes and heat that turns on and off by a button. We have made of it an intolerable struggle in other ways.

I think this is partly due to the change in family life. In older California days, big families lived in one establishment. Sons brought home their wives and an addition was built to the house. The father took care of the sons when they were young—serene in the consciousness that they would take care of him. The members of the family were branches of a living and growing tree.

Now is is everybody for himself in a terrific struggle—that need not be.

A WORK OF ART

The talking picture 'Holiday" is a contradiction of the theories of the "best minds."

Just when the producers had decided that the public demands action, galloping hoofs, bawling steers and bang-bang-bangs from smoking revolvers, along comes this quiet play without any action and knocks them for a riot.

It shows you that anything really fine will appeal. And this is one of the finest pictures ever made. Ann Harding is one of the few great artists of the modern stage or screen. She hasn't the unique personality of Greta Garbo but she is a finer artiste. Pathe earns the gratitude of the public for this picture. It is brilliant, sincere, natural, convincing and played by finished actors.

Of course, I can't deny that there is the usual fly in the ointment; you have to suffer from a jazz orchestra playing "blues."

BORES

Among the things that do not interest me—in addition to jazz orchestras playing blues—are endurance contests. I am willing to admit that some young gentleman will finally remain a million hours up in an airplane; but I will be darned if I am going to read any more about it.

FLINT SLAYER'S CASE ON TODAY

Keaton will Withdraw Plea and Assert Insanity

Testimony of Alienists to be Feature of His Trial

Defense to Have Task of Proving Sick Mind

On the testimony of a number of alienists coupled with the facts and circumstances surrounding the slaying of Motley H. Flint will hang the fate of Frank D. Keaton, the banker's slayer, when his case is called this morning by Superior Judge Schauer.

Keaton, who walked into Superior Judge Collier's court some weeks ago and shot Flint dead as the latter stepped from the witness stand after giving testimony in a civil action, according to Defense Counsel D'Orr and Reynolds today, will withdraw his plea of not guilty to the charge of murder now against him and make a bid for his life on a plea of insanity.

PROOF BURDEN SHIFTS

Contrary to the ordinary criminal trial procedure Keaton, through his attorneys and alienists, must assume the burden of proof and establish in the minds of the jurors that he was insane at the time that he slew Flint. The test of legal insanity, according to Dep. Dist.-Attys. Burgess and Russell, who will prosecute the case, is whether or not the criminal knew the difference between right and wrong at the time the criminal act was accomplished.

Listed among the witnesses to be called during the trial are Drs. Edson H. Steele, Charles L. Allen and F. J. Van Meter, alienists appointed by the court, and Drs. T. J. Orbison and Victor Parkin, selected by the prosecution. A number of other alienists will testify for the defense.

PROSECUTING WITNESSES

According to Burgess and Russell the prosecution witnesses also will include Assistant Autopsy Surgeon John H. Schaefer, Dr. Ben Blank of the County Hospital, Superior Judge Collier, in whose courtroom Flint was shot; Court Clerk W. R. Fisher, Bailiff O. A. Challlie, L. J. Selznick and his wife, Court Reporter A. E. Anderson, Blayney Matthews, chief of the bureau of investigation of the District Attorney's office, and Police Detectives Romero and Filkas. For the defense, as well as the alienists, several members of Keaton's family, now on their way here from the East, and persons known to have done business with him before the slaying will be questioned regarding his actions before the tragedy.

About two days for jury selection and more than a week of testimony, according to both defense and prosecution counsel, will be required to finish the trial.

SUNDAY MOTOR CRASHES MANY

Boulevard, as she was crossing the street and breaking her arm. Miss Westwater and her sister Nellie, 10, who were in the machine, were badly cut and bruised.

Byran Goodloe, 410 North Normandie avenue, is at the Hollywood Receiving Hospital in a critical condition as the result of a crash early yesterday at Vermont and Fountain avenues, when Goodloe drove his car into a standing street car. According to Officers Ruppers and Towne, the heavy sedan struck the street car with such force that the body of the street car was knocked from the trucks.

After he is said to have hit Harold Holmberg of 4501 Venice Boulevard with his automobile at Pico street and Westmoreland avenue, Roy C. Stohr, 37, a merchant of 431 South Cummings street, was chased and captured by a citizen and later held for driving while intoxicated and failing to stop to render aid. The citizen who chased him was F. P. Lockwood, a county surveyor. Holmberg was not seriously hurt.

DRUNK-DRIVER CHARGE

Disregarding a signal at Adams street and Maple avenue and later crashing his car into a parked machine when chased by Officers Bricker and Luke, Vemer B. Walker, 42, of 1131 West Eighty-fourth Place, was arrested for driving while intoxicated and for possession of liquor.

A third chase after a motorist occurred at Seventh street and Wilshire Place after Reece R. Munro, 21, no address given, was said by Officers Cullens and Mudd to have driven through a crowd of churchgoing pedestrians. He was arrested for driving while intoxicated. Lloyd A. Hess, 22, of 516 South St. Andrews Place, a companion, was charged with breaking glass in the street. The officers reported he threw a bottle out of the car just before the arrest was made.

New Model Felines

Group of the odd cats which look just like any others in front, and (below) one of them in side position to show strange hindquarters and "hare" tail.

A STRANGE litter of short-tailed kittens — kittens that have long hind legs, turned-up tails; kittens that hop like rabbits yet mew and drink milk like any ordinary pussy, are the property of T. D. McCall, 2622 East One Hundred and Eleventh Place, Lynwood.

The kittens are the offspring of a normal tabby-cat that has been the McCall pet for some years. McCall says their strange gait seems to distress the mother cat.

The little furry animals are three weeks old and ever since they have been able to walk, Mr. McCall avers, the felines have hopped in perfect imitation of a bunny. Mother cat and kittens are all healthy specimens of something or other, Mr. McCall said, with the exception that the mother cat is showing nerve strain.

FITTS GETS ADDITIONAL SUPPORTERS

Improvement Associations of County Among Groups to Help His Campaign

The Improvement Associations of Los Angeles county will campaign for Buron Fitts, Republican candidate for Governor, according to J. E. Lambert, president. In a letter received yesterday by Fitts headquarters, Mr. Lambert says:

"During the incumbency of Gov. Young, the small home owner will be called on to meet obligations that will be hard to meet due to the fact that Gov. Young in the signing of many bills has created a hardship upon the small-home owner. Consequently the Affiliated Improvement Associations of the city and county of Los Angeles, in regular session, wholeheartedly indorse the candidacy of Buron Fitts for Governor."

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Buena Park unanimously indorsed the candidacy of Fitts at its last meeting.

The Fisherman's Co-operative Association of San Pedro also will campaign for Fitts, according to indorsement received yesterday. The indorsement read, "This will advice you that at our regular meeting held August 11, 1930, our association, the Fisherman's Co-operative Association of San Pedro, unanimously indorses your candidacy for Governor of the State of California.

The Jugo-Slav Club of San Pedro also has indorsed Fitts, according to Mark Suglin, secretary.

SHUTTLE SERVICE BY STREET CAR ALLOWED

Operation on West Thirty-ninth street between Vermont and Western avenues of a shuttle service by the Los Angeles Railway instead of a through "U" car has been agreed to by the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation. The service was inaugurated July 9, but the company did not request a permit until after it began. According to the board's engineers, the change is part of an economy program under which the service is being materially cut, but it is held that while there has been some objection to the shuttle service by patrons, the light travel appears to justify it.

FILM HEARING STARTS TODAY

Eleven Companies Charged with Trade Restraint

Action Instituted January of Last Year

Defendants Expect Trial to Bring Vindication

The action for conspiracy in restrain of trade instituted by the Federal government in January of last year against West Coast Theaters, Inc., and ten motion-picture companies will come to trial this morning before United States Judge Cosgrave in the local District Court. The case will be prosecuted by Acting United States District-Attorney Gallagher with the aid of two special assistants to the United States Attorney-General, John Harlan Amen and Albert J. Law, both of whom arrived here last week from Washington.

The co-defendants, with the theater corporation, are: Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Distributing Corporation, First National Pictures, Inc., Universal Film Exchanges, Inc., United Artists Corporation, Fox Film Corporation, Pathe Exchange, Inc., Vitagraph, Inc., Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., and Vitagraph Company of California, Inc.

BASIS OF CASE

Assertedly illegal agreements between the theater company and the motion-picture companies by which the former was assured a priority in the showing of the latter's feature pictures in Southern California form the basis of the government's case. The agreements are also asserted to have protected the theater company from competitive showing of the other defendants' feature films by independent exhibitors.

In commenting on the action Harold B. Franklin, president of Fox West Coast Theaters, said:

EXPECTS VINDICATION

"We face the coming trial with the knowledge that it will result in a complete vindication of the methods and practices of our organization. We, of course, assume that the present action results from a total misapprehension on the part of the plaintiff's representatives of the character and necessities of the motion-picture business, as it is only through such a misapprehension and misunderstanding that the commencement of this case can be justified."

MEDAL SOUGHT FOR BYRD AIDE

flight from the scientific standpoint, is one of the outstanding accomplishments of the expedition, as the new land was claimed in the name of the United States of America and one of the mysteries of the Antarctic was solved in the discovery of a new mountain range running generally north and south at about 147 degrees west longitude, forming the east boundary of Ross Sea.

"Capt. Parker in piloting the plane throughout the flight again demonstrated his exceptional ability as a pilot and showed a high degree of courage in flying far from base over land and sea, where in places it was apparent that a forced landing would have meant disaster. Even if the personnel had not been injured on a forced landing, it would have been impossible to have walked back to base because of the impassible crevasses between the newly discovered land and Little America.

"He met every emergency in flight, executing orders with quickness and determination, and showed throughout a fearlessness and courage that upheld in every way the highest traditions of the service."

John Erskine Visiting Here

John Erskine, noted author, who wrote "Adam and Eve," "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," and other recent successes, is a Los Angeles visitor this week. He is staying at the home of his friend, William De Mille.

At present he is at work on a new book which he has named "Cinderella's Daughter." He also is writing a novel concerning Diane De Poitiers, who flourished in France during the reign of Francis I.

GRAND OPERA SEAT SALE ANNOUNCED

The general ticket sale for seats to the local season of grand opera in the Shrine Auditorium, September 29 to October 13, next, will start September 2, it was announced yesterday by Merle Armitage, manager of the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association. The tickets will be available at Barker Brothers, and all seats not taken up by advance reservations will be placed on sale. The reservations to date already have exceeded all previous records, according to the reports of William Eric Fowler, chairman of the general seat-sale committee. More than $50,000 has been received.

HIGH COURT ADOPTS ABBREVIATED OPINIONS

Brevity, besides being the soul of wit, has become the soul of many Appellate Court decisions.

Shorter opinions have been advocated by the Judicial Council of California, which pointed to the success of a memorandum form of opinion in New York, and recent terse opinions handed down by the District Court of Appeals here indicate that California courts are interested in availing themselves of the new form.

The proposal that the justices of the District Court of Appeal and the Supreme Court shorten their opinions has been widely discussed among members of the legal fraternity here, with two Appellate Court justices among the speakers on the subject at a recent meeting of the State Bar of California.

Under the application of the new principle, the court in its recent brief decisions has stated the grounds of its decision, following this with references to authorities. Formerly, in almost all cases, the courts went into lengthy analyses of the points raised.

Justice Houser of Division One, District Court of Appeal, wrote the first two opinions handed down in the new form.

The youths, the detectives say, confessed holding up Roy Waycox of 8618 Hickory street, and a woman friend at Sixty-second street and Avalon Boulevard, after a watch and purse taken from the woman were found in their possession.

CITY PUBLIC WORKS REPORT REVEALS UPWARD TREND

While public improvements during the past fiscal year fell off 30 per cent as compared to 1928-29, a decided upward trend set in last February, it is noted in the annual report of the Board of Public Works, submitted by President McGuire.

The total cost of sewers, pavements, drains, bridges and other work during the year is set at $14,000,000. During the year the board accepted 110 miles of concrete paving, twenty-five miles asphaltic concrete, thirty-one miles of other types, forty-seven miles of oiled roadway, 205 miles of curbs, 159 miles of sidewalks, thirty-seven miles of storm drains and 132 miles of sewers.

The Myra avenue-Sunset Boulevard grade separation, the La Cienega Boulevard grade separation, the Soto-street separation and a bridge over the Los Angeles River and Tujunga Wash were completed, while bridge projects amounting to $2,626,734 were started. These include the Fourth-street viaduct, the Elysian Park tunnels and Sepulveda Boulevard tunnel. The contract for the first unit of the Sixth-street viaduct has been awarded, while plans are being made for the grade separation at Beverly Boulevard and Glendale Boulevard.

The present area of the city is 441.69 square miles. The city extends forty-four miles north and south and twenty-five miles east and west. The beach frontage is thirteen miles, eight of which are suitable for bathing. Two small additions aggregating .43 of a square mile were added during the year.

GUILTY PLEA REFUSED BY JUST JUDGE

Youth Goes Free When He Admits Offense Charged in Error by Officer

Jack R. McIntosh, 18 years of age, of Torrance, pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Ballard of violating the Penal Code by breaking a bottle of liquor on the highway after being stopped by a county motorcycle officer. He asked for immediate sentence.

"I have no report on this, your honor," Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman reported, "but Officer Heywood, who made the arrest, is here."

The motorcycle officer said that McIntosh, being told to pull in to the curb at Western avenue and Riverside-Redondo Boulevard, did so and broke a bottle of liquor before the officer could reach his car. "He broke it on the floor of the car and it fell through to the pavement," the officer said.

As McIntosh was charged with breaking glass on the pavement, Judge Ballard ordered him to change his plea to not guilty, and dismissed the case.

Flyer Mendell in Court Today

Loren W. Mendell, former joint holder of the endurance flight record, who is scheduled to start another attempt to break the record on Wednesday, must appear today before United States District Judge Cosgrave to plead to an indictment charging him with having aided in the smuggling of Japanese across the border.

His arraignment has already been postponed several times. Before entering his plea today, his attorney, Richard Cantillon, will also ask the judge to rule on his motion, made a month ago, for a bill of particulars. Granting of this motion might aid in setting further ahead the date of the aviator's trial.

BUSINESS MEN PLAN ART CLUB

Chicagoan Promotes Plan to Form Organization of Amateur Painters Here

Fred A. Cady, swimming coach of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, is one of a group of business and professional men of this city contemplating the launching of a Business Men's Art Club, patterned after the one successfully functioning in Chicago.

Elbert G. Drew of Chicago, who retired as secretary of the Bell Telephone Company two years ago to devote himself to travel and painting, is the promoter of the venture. He is here with his family on a visit and has interested a number of men who paint as a hobby. In addition to Cady those who have agreed to become charter members are Dr. S. R. Monaco, Harry F. Marshall, insurance man; Russell Wilson, architect; Cliff Arne, broker; Henry H. Johnson, jeweler; Charles E. Wirch, E. M. Astle and C. W. Champion, salesman.

At 12:15 p.m. tomorrow the undertaking will be discussed at a luncheon at L'Allene Restaurant, 527 West Seventh street.

The plans for the club include an evening class in drawing and painting from a draped model; outdoor sketching jaunts, monthly dinners and other attractions, intended for men more than 30 years of age who do not follow art as a vocation. Similar clubs are functioning in Chicago, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Denver. Temporary office in Los Angeles is at 730 South Hill street.

Southlander to be Featured in Concert at Bowl

Henry Eichheim, Southern California musician and composer, will conduct the Hollywood Bowl orchestra the 28th inst., having accepted an invitation to direct his own composition, "Burma," Glenn M. Tindall, business manager of the Bowl, announced yesterday.

Eichheim, a resident of Montecito, wrote the selection after a trip to the Orient, basing it on native music. Eichheim will be featured on the regular program to be directed by Enrique Arbos.

Pietro Cimini will conduct the Bowl orchestra tomorrow night. Cimini is well known here through previous appearances in the Bowl, as well as through his association with the Los Angeles Grand Opera.

The Italian maestro is to conduct only one concert. He will be followed on Thursday by Arbos, who will finish out the season, which ends the 30th inst.

Plans Revealed for Renewal of Plaza Fiestas

The old Plaza of Los Angeles will be the scene for the re-enactment of the colorful fiestas held on the spot more than a century ago, according to newly announced details of the program for the observance of the one hundred and forty-ninth birthday anniversary of Los Angeles, September 4 and 5.

Three stages will be erected at different points in the Plaza, each presenting dancers and musicians, and booths will be scattered around the circle where the celebrants may buy cascaronnes or Mexican confetti and other novelties as well as Latin food dishes.

According to Director Phil Whiting, in charge of La Fiesta de Los Angeles, the recently re-created old Mexican street, El Paso de Los Angeles, also will be the scene of colorful entertainment.

Airport Aide to Visit East

Woodruff De Silva, assistant director of the Los Angeles Airport, will leave today for Chicago where he will attend the annual convention of the National Aeronautic Association from the 22nd to 25th inst. De Silva has been named chairman of the Los Angeles chapter's delegation, and as such will lead the fight for a larger Pacific Coast representation on the national contest committee which supervises all aviation contests in the United States.

The Los Angeles delegation also will seek to amend the association's by-laws to prevent awarding the national air races for more than two years in advance. The delegation is expecting to place Robert J. Pritchard of Los Angeles in nomination for the office of national secretary.

De Silva will return to Los Angeles about September 20, after an extended visit in other parts of the East.

PARK VISITORS

During the week ended July 12 there was a total of 1,313,933 visitors to the country's various national parks. This is the high mark of all time and supplies conclusive proof that Americans are looking their country over and not forgetting its scenic marvels.

NOT PLANE SAILING

The plane-production plant which turned out Col. Lindbergh's Spirit of St. Louis has closed down by reason of business depression and nobody knows when it will start up again. It is believed that even Lindy would have some hesitation in undertaking another Paris flight in his same old ship.

NIGHT OWLS

Now that night football has made its appearance there is no reason why folks should go to bed at all. They can get everything the soul or body can crave if they sit up long enough. It is predicted that within a short time we shall become a race of night owls and will be recognized only by our hoots.

TRYING TO REPEAT

Gov. Roosevelt is to run again in New York. He will have what they call a soaking wet platform and he is not going to carry an umbrella either. He probably will be placed in nomination by Alfred E. Smith. These boys are accustomed to doing this nomination stunt for each other anyhow. Roosevelt is genuinely popular in the Empire State and any Republican will have to be right speedy to overtake him.

KEEP YOUR COAT ON

During the recent fiery spell over 200 New York taxi drivers were arrested for going without their coats. It seems that in Gotham the taxi men must cling to their uniforms even when their uniforms cling to them, and if they shed a necktie they are likely to be jacked up. When the mercury is around 100 it is prettty tough to button Jehu up in a strait-jacket. The Knickerbockers are putting on a lot of dog.

SLAVES OF WASHINGTON

Judge Armstrong of Princeton, who is a noted collector of Washingtoniana, has just added to his collection an original list of George Washington's slaves as compiled by his own hand. There are 317 of them and their locations and duties are named. George had several farms and could make good use of his help. At that time he was probably the leading slave-holder of the country. He and Abraham Lincoln should have some pretty good arguments on the other side.

POLICE RADIO

Detroit police wanted a criminal and when two officers went to arrest him he shot them both. Within a minute the crime was reported to headquarters and went on the air. Within two minutes other officers were on the scene in a car and the murderer was traced to an attic. Within two more minutes another squad of police was on the ground with a machine gun and after a pitched battle captured the desperate fugitive.

Radio did it!

When the wide net of the air is flung about him and he is enmeshed in a description broadcast for hundreds of miles, it is made harder for a scamp to escape.

Detroit has demonstrated its worth and other great centers are definitely considering the installation of similar systems. If no other assassin were taken for a long time, this one has justified the expense involved. Radio is good for something besides grand opera, jazz, political speeches and slander.

Detroit is but a lap ahead of Los Angeles in population. It is not a vain hope to pass her in a very few years. Are we also to overtake her in efficiency in law enforcement? Is she to have alertness to take up new ideas and ingenuity for self-protection which others lack? While Chicago is driving out her gangsters, do not other large cities need to exercise extra precaution for their citizenry and institutions?

Greater swiftness in pursuit of the underworld and speedy execution of penalties will have a wholesome effect upon lawbreakers in general. If Los Angeles had a police radio system, she might not have so many unsolved murder mysteries.

PLUMMER FOR SHERIFF

A phenomenal rise in the police department, won by ability, an exceptional record of efficiency in a difficult county post and a lifetime of personal integrity and clean personal living qualify Capt. Clyde Plummer for the office of Sheriff of Los Angeles county. The office is not an easy one to fill; its requirements are far beyond the ordinary, the county being so large, so populous, so wealthy and so varied in the origin of its residents as to make its safeguarding a job for a first-class intelligence. This, judging by his record, Plummer seems to have in a degree well above that of the other contenders for the same office.

Few officers without political influence—and Plummer never had any—could rise to sergeant in two years, lieutenant in nine, captain in twelve, and deputy chief shortly afterward. Plummer did this on the Los Angeles Police Department, keeping at all times the respect and confidence of his superiors and the loyalty of his subordinates. In every post, and he was given some difficult ones, he made good and more than good. Outstanding among his achievements was the handling of an I. W. W. strike at Los Angeles Harbor in 1923, without a single injury to strikers or police, or any destruction of property. Water-front strikes are notoriously productive of violence and especially so when the Communist Wobblies are concerned in them. Yet Plummer's men prevented all clashes, riots and sabotage. On another occasion, Capt. Plummer with only two other officers went on board a ship where hundreds of Hindu passengers, angered at not being allowed to land, were rioting, calmed the disturbance and got the ship under way without having to strike a blow.

In twenty years of police service Plummer was never sued for false arrest and never accused of striking a prisoner. He served, from February, 1929, to June 30, last, as chief of the District Attorney's dry enforcement division. His first yearly report showed 1649 arrests with 1187 convictions and only 202 acquittals and dismissals; $144,391 collected in fines and 47,899 days in jail for delinquents.

Former Chief of Police Vollmer said this about Plummer's candidacy for Sheriff: "Clyde Plummer is a man of rare moral courage and a public executive of exceptional ability. His honesty, his sobriety, his intelligence and his character mark him as an outstanding police executive, capable of undertaking any type of work which requires highly desirable qualities. He has the courage of his convictions. I take pleasure in recommending this splendid and rare official."

Plummer's platform is a pledge to enforce and to observe the law, to make it impossible for organized crime to operate safely in Los Angeles county, to decline to compromise with racketeers and to co-operate fully with the police departments of the various county communities and with the District Attorney. Knowing Plummer, it is impossible to doubt that he means every word of it, and that if elected Sheriff he will do just that.

And just that is what the people of Los Angeles county want. They will not be satisfied with less.

THE PHELAN BEQUESTS

It was characteristic of the generous, public-spirited James D. Phelan, who all his life was a giver of gifts, that in dying he should have bestowed such a large share of his great wealth upon worthy public institutions and to artists and experts in different fields.

This philanthropic Californian had in his possession up to the time of his death the large fortune of $10,000,000, the greater portion of which he willed to the San Francisco Art Association, to churches and to charitable institutions. The largest single bequest, $1,000,000, is for the creation of the James D. Phelan Foundation, the main purpose of which is for the nursing of the poor of San Francisco, where Mr. Phelan was born. This very considerate and worthy charity will be a blessing to many needy persons who, had it not been provided, might have suffered for lack of proper care.

His gift of a small fortune to Gertrude Atherton bespeaks his deep interest in literature and another substantial bequest to Helen Wills Moody indicates his appreciation of her winning the tennis championship for California. There is a question as to whether Mrs. Moody's standing as an amateur will be endangered by the acceptance of the money, but it would seem to the average mind that this is raising too fine a point in connection with what constitutes an amateur or a professional. Most people will be pleased to learn of Helen's acceptance of the bequest in any event.

That Mr. Phelan should have added to his reputation for philanthropy by these donations seems as natural as it was gracious. The act has completed the symmetry of a career largely devoted to good works.

WORM WOOL

While the Turk is defezzing himself and unveiling his women, China is appealing to her people to refuse western ideas in dress and return to their ancient national costumes.

The Chinese dress is both picturesque and sentimental in its appeal. The Occident applauds; for the native apparel of any country usually has climatic reason and is generally better suited to the habitat of the people than any imported European dress. Travelers prefer to see the people in their native garments. The world is intriguing in that it lacks standardization.

Outside of a few commercially minded people, the individuality of any people is more attractive. The makers of modes naturally prefer all the world to wear their creations. Parisian modistes could hardly be expected to applaud any nationalism in clothes.

The sentimental has much to do with native costumes. It helps maintain a nation's esprit de corps. Who with any art in his soul would have everybody arrayed like the inmates of an orphan asylum or prison, or dwell in the same model house built by a syndicate? Syndicate sameness is death to sentiment and art.

However, it must be confessed that the new movement in China to return to the pajamas of the fathers arises neither from an artistic nor sentimental source. It is on a commercial basis. The silks of China are suffering from the short skirt and no-stocking craze of America. The appeal to the patriotism of the orientals is to save the silk industry of the East from disaster.

The worm wool of her growers has been suffering further in competition with the rayon of the East and the silk culture of California. Something had to be done. So Chinese business men are asking their people to return to silk wear.

The Chinese may never be surpassed in silk culture. It has been their enthusiasm and study for centuries and they will likely always lead in this highly specialized industry.

THIS FREEDOM

Although Paris is still rather insistent upon the long skirt the women of this country are still demanding the freedom of the knees and no treaty or pact is going to deprive them of it.

THE DUCK BILLED PLATYPUS

By James J. Montague

The duck billed platypus you'll find
Is several sorts of creature kind.

His bill is bony, flat and black,
And, though it doesn't, ought to quack.

His coat is mingled hair and spines
Somewhat like wolves' and porcupines'.

His tail is something like a squirrel's
Although with fewer twists and curls.

And all the funny feet of him
Are neatly webbed, so he can swim.

When evolution heaped the hill
And shaped the valley to its will,

And bade the flowers and the grapes
And other things take various shapes,

Through eons endlessly it planned
The beasts of sea and air and land,

And then each several creature sent
To its especial element.

But for this brute, the platypus,
It did not seem to care a cuss,

But, being in a rush, perhaps,
Constructed him of orts and scraps.

And yet he prospered and increased
Though neither fish nor bird nor beast,

But something doomed through life to be
A shamefaced, sneaking pot-pourri.

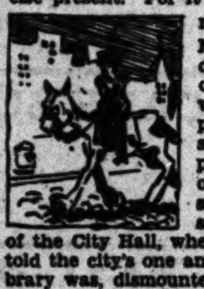
THE LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

THE dedication of the John Muir branch library the other day was presided over by Mrs. Frances Harmon Zahn and the event probably meant more to her than to anyone else present. For it has not been so many years since Mrs. Zahn rode down Broadway on horseback with all her surplus books strapped on the pillion behind her or hanging in saddle bags. She stopped in front of the City Hall, where she had been told the city's one and only public library was, dismounted as gracefully as a woman could who was wearing a voluminous bifurcated trailing skirt "with enough yardage to have clothed an entire family of girls in last year's styles," tied her horse to a hitching post, entered the building and found the room which was the main part of the library, and offered her books as a gift.



The gift was most acceptable, for it practically doubled the number of volumes, other than reference works, in the Los Angeles Public Library of that day!

Today Los Angeles has fifty public libraries—the great main library fronting on Grand avenue, Fifth, Flower and Hope streets, and forty-nine branches—the least of which is many times as big and well equipped as was the city's only library thirty-odd years ago.

Mrs. Zahn then was struck by the devotion of the librarians, who were striving enthusiastically to serve the public for salaries of about $30 a month. She took to dropping in occasionally to help them, for nothing. In 1914 she was made a member of the board of directors and has been one ever since.

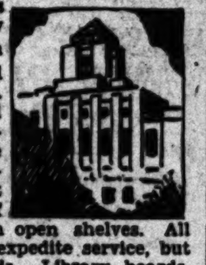
Realtors, developers and advertisers have brought about the physical growth of Los Angeles. But its intellectual growth mainly is due to people like that. They are the builders without which no city could ever be worth a whoop.

Humble Beginnings

But Mrs. Zahn was one of the comparative newcomers. That dedication of the John Muir Library brought out other reminiscences which impress one with the marvelous swiftness of the development of this city. Miss Mary Foy, who was librarian from 1880 to 1884, tells of much cruder times. Then Gov. Downey gave the use of reading rooms in the old Downey Block, but only those who paid $5 a year into the city treasury were privileged to make use of their facilities. Paper money was unknown here in those days—the Californians wouldn't recognize it as real money—and Miss Foy had to carry her bag of gold and silver to the city treasurer at frequent intervals.

Los Angeles Originated Open Shelves

But the librarians of Los Angeles always have been progressive. Harriet Child Wadleigh, librarian from 1897 to 1900, is believed to have been the first librarian in the country to put books on open shelves. Before that, library patrons had to look through long catalogues or card indexes and write down the numbers of books desired. As the library grew that system greatly hampered service and Mrs. Wadleigh talked with other librarians at State and national conventions about the advisability of putting books on open shelves. All agreed it would expedite service, but shook their heads. Library boards, as a rule, were inclined to resent novelties and innovations. Might as well suggest to a bank that it put its reserves on open shelves and let its customers pick out what they wanted. But Mrs. Wadleigh had the support of the board here, and Los Angeles started the modern system which practically all American libraries follow.



Nearly 10,000,000 a Year

The Los Angeles Public Library was housed in the upper floors of a department store when Everett R. Perry, our present librarian, came to Los Angeles in 1911, and they do say that when one asked for "The Man in the Iron Mask" he was likely to be referred to the hardware department. The city was growing by leaps and bounds and the demand for books by yawps and yells. To meet the demand the number of books had to be increased rapidly and then there wasn't room for both the customers and the books. The library had to move to the Metropolitan Building, where rooms were rented to house it. That was by far the best public library Los Angeles had had up to that time, yet that period of rented rooms and no branch buildings can hardly be realized when one looks at the fine central plant and forty-nine branches of today, which annually lend a total of 9,500,000 books, in addition to sheet music, pictures for art students, books and magazines for the blind, periodicals from all important foreign countries, latest data and pictures of patents and many tons of valuable reference material which is not allowed to leave the library.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

FOREST SAVING

[Santa Barbara Press]

Word from Washington that Frederick H. Cowles of Santa Barbara, who has been working for many years for the preservation of the national forests, has succeeded in interesting President Hoover in the plan of the American Green Cross, is good news.

The West needs the assistance of the entire country in fighting forest fires and ruthless waste of its timber tracts, and some organization operated by men really interested in the work ought to be given a national standing that will be of genuine service to it in its campaign. Mr. Cowles hopes to have the government give such recognition to the work of the Green Cross that its services will be as valuable to forestry and forestation as the Red Cross has been to humanity. Incidentally the Green Cross, if it carries out its very ambitious plans, will be of tremendous service to humanity, for the preservation of the forests is vital to the preservation of the country.

It is not difficult for men and women now living to recall when there were dozens of streams in Santa Barbara county that flowed the year round and furnished fine fishing and plenty of water for cattle and horses. Now there are few streams of water to be found in this section anywhere, a few weeks after the winter rains have ceased. In various parts of the country, old maps show many locations of what once bore the dignified names of rivers that are no longer in existence. Disappearance of the forests is the explanation. Weather changes, the experts tell us, as the trees are cut and the earth is left bare. Less and less rain falls in that particular area, and when it falls the water rushes over the ground and cuts it to pieces.

The forests and their preservation are a serious national problem, particularly serious to the West. Let us not forget that nature never makes a mistake. Nature planted the forests on the Pacific Slope for a reason. Wipe them out and everything will be changed.

CONSERVATION ADVANCES

[New York Evening Post]

To the credit of the recent session of Congress is to be placed some of the most important legislation relating to conservation of natural resources which is to be found on the statute book. At the head of this new legislation is the law withdrawing all remaining public-domain lands in Northern Minnesota from entry. This law is significant in that it recognizes scenic and recreational values. Its passage facilitates protection of the great lake and timber region extending over the Canadian border. Another measure of great importance provides for a parkway plan along the Potomac which will include and thus preserve the Great Falls of that river. Other bills initiate a five-year fisheries program sponsored by the Izaak Walton League in accordance with which nearly $2,000,000 will be spent during the next five years, principally in producing game fishes; restore 300 square miles of water-fowl-wintering and bass-producing area on the Atlantic Coast, provide for a comprehensive forest-planting program for national forests east of the Rockies and create a commission on public lands to devise plans for the protection and the proper use of our remaining public-domain lands. This is an excellent record.

AND HOW HE TALKS THEN!

[New York Sun.]

The way to make Bishop Cannon talk is to call him for twenty points more margin.

THE WASHINGTON WASH

BY STRICKLAND GILLILAN

The number of grains of sand in the Sahara Desert may some day be counted and individually registered by name; the number of fleas in Southern Italy may be ultimately approximated by some earnest statistician. But there is one thing that will never be fully estimated—the canniness of one Calvin Coolidge, whilom President of these States that were fairly well united until Col. Mann spoke up.

I know I have spoken of Calvin previously, but I just can't get over him. He's so everlastingly cute and astute he keeps my wondering mind focussed on him. The way that sly rascal knew when to stand from under ranks him beyond all others as a long-range political weather forecaster. He even foresaw the drought.

When he twanged out, after profound thought and unsuspected conferences with people who didn't know they were conferring (although they were) knowledge on Cal; when through a sixth sense as unerring and mysterious as that which tells a hog a storm is coming and starts him carrying mouthfuls of straw and cornshucks panickily around the lot—I say when through this super-goosebone ability to foretell flurries, Coolidge said, "I do not choose to run," he did what every prisoner yearns to do—left a sentence uncompleted. He could have finished that sentence truthfully in several ways, among which are these:

"I do not wish to run into a hornet's nest."

"I do not wish to run anything but a wise-cracking department in a newspaper."

"I do not wish to run any risks."

As for the others, roll your own. I've given you the start and you have the idea.

Mr. Coolidge is more active out of office even than he was in. As for his successor whom he so greatly helped to elect by "inadvertently" saying "President Hoover" in the presence of the press of the nation ("inadvertent" me eye! The idea of Cal ever doing anything inadvertently! He is the most chronically advertent man in history)—as for his successor, I say he has got Cal all sidestepped. He has taken it on the point of the jaw, on the nose, in the eye and in the midriff, to say nothing of a lot of them below the belt, and several rabbit punches. Anyone's speaking of "making trouble for Mr. Hoover" reminds somebody of the impolite story of the man on the train, for whom no trouble could be made. Mr. Hoover has had them all. Accustomed to the sorrows of the world as the savior of starving children in the war, he probably did not expect to run into a job anything like that, as President. But has he had it? Did he step in front of a fast freight? And is it providential that he above all others should be our chief in the time of our dilemma?

Some day,
When Job meets Herbert Hoover
on the sunny Golden Strand, Old Job will be so jealous he will gripe to beat the band.
They'll meet upon the heavenly street, and Job will show his spleen,
Declaring he's been double-crossed—betrayed is what I mean.
"I used to have," old Job will growl, "a champeen reputation
For patience in affliction borne —grief was my steady ration.
I had a lot of trouble with my flocks and herds and such,
I lost my blooming children, had some boils I dassent touch.
The devil had been told to do the worst he could, and see
If he could make a rotten sport and squealer out of me.
But all the things I had to bear were love-and-kisses to The things that fate and circumstance have saddled on to you!
I never had a Senate and a panic on my hands;
I never had to foster peace between pugnacious lands;
I never had a two months drought to smack me in the pan;
I had no Claudius Huston nor a vengeful Col. Mann.
And therefore, Bert, I yield the palm, sans fear of contradiction,
To you that's shown and known far more of patience and affliction."

The weather department in this town has also gone goofy; crazy with the heat. No wonder. If I had been handing out as terrific weather as the government weather bureau has been furnishing this summer, I'd be occupying a padded cell or at least picking at the coverlet.

Just recently in its prediction for the day it said "Not much change except for the risk of thunderstorms this afternoon." Risk! Get that, would you? He calls it a risk! He may be right.

Maybe the prospect of a good, brisk squall accompanied by honest-to-goodness wet rain would have been a threat to us rather than a boon, at that. It is as if a starving man were told "Not much change except for the danger of your getting a square meal soon."

The President has given up all idea of a regular vacation. We are on his mind—and his heart; his heart that he tries so industriously to conceal from us.

The cause of Mr. Borah's illness is easy to conjecture—he led an affirmative movement for the entire duration of that naval pact fight in the Senate. Agreeing doesn't agree with him. He has some active ferninsting to tackle now—or will soon find some—and that tonic will brace him right up.

There is of course in Washington as well as elsewhere the usual talk now of the end of the world. I was raised on that, and so were you. If rain held off too long or it rained too long when it started, the world was coming to an end.

It makes me think of a Negro soldier overseas. He had been swizzling the visible supply of vin blanc, vin rouge or what vins have you, till he was in a complete vin trance. And when consciousness began struggling back in blind search of her ebon throne, he found himself in a cemetery late at night—a very black night—just as an air raid set in. An old he air raid. Things were dropping mysteriously out of the roar-filled sky, striking the graves about him, bursting them open and sending, in the glare of uncanny and sulphurous light, the grisly bones hurtling here, there and yonder. 'Rastus knew that was the end of the world. Always had he carried in the back of his mind exactly that picture of the final accounting. He couldn't be mistaken.

Reaching hurriedly into his pants pocket he took out two galloping cubical bones—loaded ones, at that, and threw them as far as he could throw them, saying:

"Git away, ev'dence! Come on, Massa Gabr'el!"

If you have any evidence about you that would embarrass you in the final judgment, it would be well to get rid of it at once, whether or not the actual end of the world is coming. And remember all droughts end with a good, soaking rain—nothing else will stop them.

This has no political significance; it is merely human nature. But all intelligent people knew what the South would do at its first opportunity, after it had yielded to a fit of emotionalism and voted sincerely for a man on the Republican ticket. Whole communities almost put on mourning the day after the latest Presidential election, to see what they'd done. Ever since that time the good old congenital Democrats have been Democraticker than ever. The most ardent teetotaller in the world is the man with the next morning head and hangover. So Col. Mann has a real movement to lead. He can find enough people down south who regret having voted a Republican ticket, to make an army, who will follow him right up to the polls. What they'll do then depends on many things, but mostly on what they will do then. The South is far and away prouder of one other thing than it is of its granite-ribbed Democracy, and that is its right to do as it dee pleases. Democracy is only its deputy ruling passion. Refusing-to-be-bossedness is the sacredest cow in the entire Southern dairy herd.

Heh, heh, heh! If you think this a time of gloom, ask the man who owns a laundry or a soda fountain!

Game, B'gosh

No matter to what length the drought may go,
I'll not exude a single yip of woe!
Yes, if the whole world puckers like a prune
And every ocean bed becomes a dune,
They'll find my shriveled-up remains some place
With a dehydrated grin upon my face.

TOO HIGHBROW

By The Foothill Philosopher

"It has come to a pretty pass when a person can't express an appreciation of good music, decent drama and big books without being accused of being "highbrow" or of "high-hatting" somebody.

On a street car, recently, as I sat quietly, trying to collect my thoughts in preparation for a big day's work, a fellow next to me suddenly looked up from the book he was reading and asked: "Jever read this western story?"

My reply in the negative brought the information that my seat companion had read everything a certain author had ever written and that I didn't "know what I was missing" by not sousing my mind in those intoxicating thrillers.

I told him that had not had the advantage of a liberal education and that when I have time I try to improve my mind by reading the best books. I told him I have not read all of Shakespeare, nor the translations of Homer, Aeschylus, Dante and other masters, that I am not intimately acquainted even with the Bible and that I haven't time to wade through the works of all modern writers.

"You're too highbrow for me," he commented as he turned his attention to his book.

An old colored woman went to the library and asked for a book called "The Curse of an Aching Heart." Informed that there was no such book in the library, the woman sighed and said: "Well, in dat case, I guess I'll have to read 'De Rise an' Fall of de Roman Umpire.'"

I must confess to almost an equal ignorance of literature, both modern and ancient. However, I am not proud of my ignorance, especially of the classics, and I take every possible opportunity of acquainting myself with the great minds of history. As to modern literature (although no doubt much of it is worth while, if one could only know what is worth while before having to read it all) I am like Abe, who, when his teacher asked, "What is the interest on $90 for two years, at 3 per cent?" replied, "Please, teacher for 3 per cent I am not interested."

[illegible] great dangers which face the worker in Chris[illegible] today is that of false teachers and false teach[illegible] C. Bell told his congregation yesterday at Sal[illegible]

We [illegible] We need to overcome [illegible] of the world. We need [illegible] worldly stratagem. [illegible] "REMEDIES" [illegible] WORSE THAN ILLS

[illegible] business methods and [illegible] far from perfect, are [illegible] any of the economic [illegible] by radicals, ac[illegible] the opinion expressed [illegible] Dr. Carl S. Knopf of [illegible] of Southern California in his sermon at Messiah Congregational Church.

Preaching on "Economic Trends and the Mind of Christ," Dr. Knopf spoke in part as follows:

"The attempt to get some 'system' that would solve all our economic problems has led to the vagaries of Socialism, syndicalism and Bolshevism, all uniting in the assertion that something is wrong, but suggesting remedies as disquieting as the disease. Jesus thought more about attitudes than systems. No economic 'system,' even the one branded 'capitalistic,' is in itself a guarantee of weal or woe. Any political or economic system is but a tool in the hands of human beings, and folks are the explosive element in any scheme of life.

"Economic life is made up of human desires, the production of goods that satisfy such desires and the mutual exchange of these goods. Time was when it was assumed that in any exchange some one got the worst of it. As long as all business was deemed frankly predatory and selfish there was little hope of a new day when Christian ethics might be applied to it. Modern business has discovered genuine social values. Without revolutionary vagaries, an element of constructive socialization has crept in. Large-scale production, with cheaper products, has enabled more people to enjoy them. The automobile, radio, household appliances no longer mark the favored class. A new economic order has lifted the whole level of living.

"Business administration is being socialized in the combining of great industries and distribution of their stock. At certain points, government commissions supervise and guard public interests. It is as though society and industry have gone into partnership. All of this bespeaks a proper progress, safe, sane and productive of good will. There are dangers. Busy-ness is not business. To transport people and goods from one spot to another may add actual value. However, mere movement of goods and people is not necessarily productive. We are yet experimenting with the results of putting everything and everybody on wheels. If our automobile industry should pass beyond the point of adding transportation value and simply be a means of movement, then production would be curtailed, no wealth would be created, and financial panic would grow out of our greatest industry.

"Destruction of food, when people are hungry, seems contrary to the best interests of society. It grows out of a false economic theory that measures everything in terms of price and profit margin. Fewer sales at higher price may make money for a few, yet two of America's greatest fortunes were built on the opposite theory. It is a problem in distribution. With proper production, distribution and selling, there are too many folks in the world for any surplus of anything.

"Modern industry has grown to the extent that it has considered the human factor. Its dangers lie in the direction of ignoring that human element. The mind of Jesus was ever busy with the problems of eating, laughing, suffering, hating, loving human beings. To feed, to clothe, to heal, in order that a sound body might serve a righteous spirit, was His practical gospel. To the extent that our economic order makes this possible for all men, to that extent only has it achieved its ultimate goal."

GIRL FLEES REDS TO COME HERE

News Writer Interviews Living Buddha

She'll Become Southland Co-ed
Tamara Andreeva holding beads she says Buddha gave her.

FIVE years of wandering, part of the time in flight from Russian Bolsheviks, and part on journeys through Mongolia and Tibet as a correspondent for American newspapers, have ended, at least temporarily, for Miss Tamara Andreeva, a Russian girl originally from Leningrad, who has come to Los Angeles to enter Occidental College.

Miss Andreeva left Russia in 1927 after a restless wandering in that nation fleeing from soviet authorities and finally reached Harbin, in Manchuria. From Harbin Miss Andreeva made a number of trips into Upper Mongolia and yesterday related how she traveled into the forbidden city of Lassa and as a newspaper correspondent talked with the Dalai-Lama, the living Buddha.

For the next four years Miss Andreeva will remain here as a student at Occidental. She is now the house guest of Miss Rena Vale, a publicity writer.

"PREFACE TO MORALS" REVIEWED BY SPEAKER

Discussing "Morality as the Wisdom of Vitality," Edgcumb Pinchon reviewed Walter Lippmann's "A Preface to Morals" in his address yesterday at Beaux Arts Building. Mr. Pinchon said in part:

"Not concerned with the 'why' of evil but with the 'how' of its elimination in terms of a serene and fortified mind, the author, in the last section, establishes his ultimate thesis. It is not new. Indeed, new truth in this realm we cannot have, but restatement of immemorial truth we must have or we perish. Thus, searching through and beyond the theological sanctions which no longer illumine but obscure the human path, Walter Lippmann comes upon, and modern intelligence everywhere is coming upon, new spiritual discoveries which turn out to be the reborn morning wisdom of the world. It is becoming evident that happiness, which all men seek, comes not by possession, but by self-possession; that in seeking his goal man may reconstruct his world, but that it will remain a frustrate adventure unless he also reconstruct himself."

HAPPINESS DECLARED BEST OF RELIGIONS

"The religion which gives man happiness and proves most helpful to the individual is the best of religions," declared Rabbi Julius A. Leibert in his Sabbath sermon at Temple Emanu-El. "However, the purely individual equation is to be shunned," said Dr. Leibert. "For instance, the thief might be helped in his antisocial activities by religion, especially by certain peculiarly conceived notions of religion, but his religion thus becomes irreligion and his morality immorality. Religion derives its strength and happiness from its qualities of sentiment."

HEALING BY JESUS CITED IN SERMON

"Lead me in Thy truth and teach me; for Thou art the God of my salvation; on Thee do I wait all the day." These words of the Psalmist were included in the Responsive Reading in the Lesson-Sermon on "Soul" Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. One of the Scripture selections presented the following verses from the gospel of Matthew: "And great multitudes came unto Him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus's feet; and He healed them: insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel." A citation from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "A demonstration of the facts of Soul in Jesus's way resolves the dark visions of material sense into harmony and immortality."

Husband Faces Trial on Shot

William Brown, former attorney, must stand trial by Superior Court on charges of assault with a deadly weapon, according to a decision handed down by Municipal Judge Frederickson. Brown's bail was set at $5000.

Brown is accused of going, with his brother, Charles Brown, to the home of his estranged wife at 2630 South Hobart Boulevard and, after breaking down the door to gain admission, firing a shot at her with a revolver. Testimony at the preliminary hearing disclosed that Mrs. Brown was talking to Henry J. Tipton, a Garnett rancher, when Brown entered. On the witness stand both Brown and his brother denied that the accused man fired the shot, which, they said, was fired by Tipton.

Champion Girl Diver Shown in Late News Reel

The difficult two-and-a-half dive as executed by Georgia Coleman, national diving champion from California, is shown in the current issue of The Times-Universal Newsreel now on view at Southern California theaters. Performed at Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., the feat was photographed in slow motion and is described in detail by Graham McNamee, talking reporter.

Other scenes in the reel show the first flight of the Lindberghs since the birth of their baby, a visit of Boy Scouts to President Hoover, a polo match at Westbury in which America defeated Australia, a timbermen's log-rolling joust in Washington and a girls' baseball game at Niles.

The schedule may be obtained by phoning Newsreel Book at REpublic 3171 and inquiring about Newsreel No. 65.

RACE WINNER ALSO LOSER

Because C. M. Therbault, 1184 West Manchester avenue, was racing the stork to his home when he was arrested for speeding on Moneta avenue, his wife, instead of the city, will get the usual $5 fine imposed in speed cases, according to an order by Municipal Judge Northrup, presiding in traffic court.

Appearing in court Therbault admitted traveling at a rate of forty-four miles an hour in a twenty-mile zone, but produced a letter from a doctor as proof that he was the father of a boy, born the day following his arrest.

"The $5 fine is suspended on condition that you give that amount to your wife," Judge Northrup said. "She deserves it."

DISTRICT MAP APPROVED

The City Council has approved the assessment district map for the improvement of Gardner street between Sunset Boulevard and Fountain avenue.

HANGAR MAY BE RENTED

Director of Airports Barnitz has requested the authority of the City Council to rent the west hangar of Unit 1 of the Municipal Airport to Slade Hulbert for $300 per month. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Straw hats exported from Ecuador last year were valued at $1,154,079.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

The lure of foreign travel still attracts many of our prominent society folk and a recent letter from Mrs. John T. Cooper of 500 North Rossmore avenue tells of interesting outings. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper with their family Miss Phyllis, John Dean and Harry Brand Cooper left immediately after Miss Phyllis was graduated from Marlborough School and have had many delightful as well as interesting experiences.

They traveled through Norway and Sweden using all kinds of transportation excepting submarines, traveling four hours in pony carts through Norway, then flying in a trimotor seaplane from Hamburg to Helsingfors, Finland, over the Baltic Sea, a three hours' journey.

They then went by train to Leningrad, visiting the palace of the late Czar of Russia as well as his winter palace. After viewing the marvelous paintings at the Hermitage Museum, they left for Moscow, stopping five days, and then on through Poland, back to Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Paris before starting on the homeward trip.

They will pass some days in Berlin and Munich and, although their trip has been one of unusual experience they still believe that America is the very best country in the whole wide world, especially to Americans.

Visiting Mother

Mrs. Walter P. Fishleigh of Detroit is visiting her mother, Mrs. R. P. Jeans, and sister, Mrs. Stanley Matthews of Los Feliz Hills. Numerous charmingly appointed affairs are being given in honor of Mrs. Fishleigh as well as motor trips to the near-by beaches and mountain resorts.

Colorful Wedding

The marriage of Miss Louise Hardison, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hardison of Santa Paula, to Lafe Todd Browne, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Browne, was solemnized Sunday afternoon, the 3rd inst., the ceremony taking place at 5 o'clock in the Universalist Church, with Rev. Edson Reifsnider officiating, assisted by Rev. G. A. Miller.

Large baskets of dahlias, zinnias and delphiniums interspersed with bamboo branches were used in the rostrum. Miss Arlie Mott presided at the organ. Mr. Hardison gave his daughter in marriage. The bride was charming in a gown of white lace with veil of tulle held in place by a crescent-shaped coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a sheaf of golden Janan lilies tied with wide white satin ribbons.

Miss Ruth Hardison assisted her sister as maid of honor in flowered chiffon and carrying an armful of harmonizing peach blow hibiscus tied with rainbow-tinted tulle.

Misses Dora Sharp, Janette Hardison, Elizabeth Hardison and Evelyn Hurlburt, bridesmaids, wore frocks of chiffon in pastel shades, carrying harmonizing flowers tied with rainbow maline. Miss Sharp was in yellow and carried rainbow asters in orchid, pink and crimson, with maidenhair ferns and gypsophila, while Miss Janette Hardison wore blue and carried baby zinnias and maidenhair ferns. Miss Hurlburt wore figured chiffon over green and carried pink flowers, while Miss Elizabeth Hardison also wore figured chiffon over peach and carried ostrich plume asters with lavender predominating.

Dr. Philip Shumaker of San Francisco served as best man and Milton Teague, Robert Hardison, Gilbert McDermont and Howard Sheldon ushered. A reception at the home of the bride's parents in West Main street followed the ceremony, Mrs. Hardison receiving her friends in gray chiffon with corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley, while Mrs. I. P. Browne was in green lace over peach and green chiffon, also wearing a corsage of orchids and valley lilies.

Mrs. Dora Todd, grandmother of the bridegroom, wore poudre blue lace over American Beauty with orchids and lilies of the valley corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Browne motored to Ojai on their honeymoon, returning to Santa Paula for a luncheon given in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Browne, after which they left with Mr. and Mrs. Lafe Todd of San Luis Obispo for an extended wedding trip to the High Sierras.

Here for Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dewart of Boston are visiting the former's mother who has taken a cottage for the summer at Long Beach.

Wedding Announced

The wedding of Miss Gladys A. Fowler of Cambridge and Edwin G. Franke of Los Angeles was recently announced, the ceremony having taken place June 4 at the home of Rev. Edward A. Elliott in Cambridge with just a few friends attending.

The bride is the daughter of Henry L. Fowler of Cambridge and received her schooling there while Mr. Franke was graduated from the University of Southern California and attended Harvard Law School. He is a member of Phi Nu Delta, Pi Sigma Alpha and Justinian fraternities.

After September 8, Mr. and Mrs. Franke will return to make their home here.

For Bride-Elect

A delightfully appointed garden bridge-tea was given Saturday afternoon by Miss Katherine Spangler and Mrs. Elberta Somers Young at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. E. S. Somers, 707 North Crescent Drive, Beverly Hills, honoring Miss Jane Howells, whose engagement to Glenn Turquand was recently announced.

The hostesses, the honoree and the majority of the guests are members of Beta Alpha Tau. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Barclay, 352 North Orlando avenue. Mr. Turquand was graduated from the University of Southern California and claims membership in Delta Chi. He now is residing in San Francisco where the couple will make their home.

The wedding will be an event of October 9.

Evening Wedding

Miss Blanche Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Turner, 1200 Mullen avenue, became the bride of Herman Kuhlman Saturday evening at the home of her parents. The bride wore yellow organdie and carried yellow rosebuds and lilies of the valley. Miss Loretta McGinley, maid of honor, wore peach organdie and carried a bouquet of harmonizing colors. Miss Louise Cave and Miss Madge Rees, bridesmaids, wore pastel shades of organdie.

Ray Martin served the bridegroom as best man and the ushers were Francis Coppell and Karl Apponyi. Music was provided by Prof. Henry Vetter and Mrs. Anna R. Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuhlman will honeymoon at Catalina.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

IMPY KNOWS WHEN TO SIT STILL

For learning there is small excuse
If knowledge be not put to use.
—Old Mother Nature.

Striped Chipmunk had a son whose coat was all black. His name was Impy. From the tip of his tail to the tip of his nose Imp was black. He couldn't have been blacker. Now, this meant that Imp had to be smart. Had he been otherwise, he would not have lived long. You see, the rules of life for a chipmunk with a striped coat would not always be the right rules for one with a black coat. There were times and places where, if his father, Striped Chipmunk, sat perfectly still, there would be little danger of his being seen. That was because his striped coat would look so like the surroundings that only the very keenest eyes would ever notice it.

But under the same conditions Impy would be noticed right away. That black coat wouldn't be at all like the surroundings. It would stand right out. On the other hand, there were times and places where Striped Chipmunk would be seen and Impy would not. So Impy had to learn these differences. Yes, sir, Impy had to learn a whole set of rules just for himself. No one could teach them to him except experience. So if Impy hadn't been smart he wouldn't have lived very long.

Impy soon found that he had to watch out most sharply when he was out in the full sun. No matter what his surroundings were in the full sun he could easily be seen. However, where there was a deep, dark shadow he was comparatively safe. That was because the shadow was black and he was black. So Impy took to looking for shadows. Then, too, he liked the late afternoon, when black shadows began to creep across the old stone wall. His father, Striped Chipmunk, and his mother and brothers and sisters didn't like that time of day so well, and they all went to bed earlier than Impy. Sometimes he would stay out quite late, for he felt safer and was safer than at any other time of day; all because he could not so easily be seen.

One day Impy and Striped Chipmunk were running along the old stone wall with Striped Chipmunk in the lead. He was quite a little distance ahead. Suddenly he dived down between the stones of the old wall and disappeared. Impy knew instantly that Striped Chipmunk had seen an enemy of some sort; but just who that enemy was he didn't know, for he couldn't see the enemy himself. Now Impy might have also dodged down between the stones of the old wall, but he did nothing of the kind. In the first place, he wanted to find out what the danger was so he might be prepared for it another time. If he dodged down into the old wall he wouldn't be able to see who the enemy was.

He didn't move as much as a whisker

Now the sun was shining brightly. Just in front of Impy was a big stone. On one side was a heavy shadow. What do you think Impy did? In the twinkling of an eye he jumped into that shadow and stopped. Yes, sir, he stopped. There he sat perfectly still. Just back of him was an opening between the stones. That was a black opening, for it, too, was in the shadow. So everything around Impy was black, or at least almost black. He didn't move so much as a whisker. In a moment who should appear but Sharpshin the Hawk. Impy held his breath. He knew how swiftly Sharpshin could strike; he knew how keen were the eyes of Sharpshin. So Impy held his breath and kept perfectly still.

Sharpshin didn't see him at all. In a moment he had passed and was on his way to hunt elsewhere. Then Impy kicked up his heels and frisked along the top of the old stone wall to join his father. He had known when to keep still and had kept still.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

TRAVELING MADE COMFORTABLE FOR BABY

"I'd love to visit mother, but what shall I do with Ellen Louise? It's so much trouble and so hot. She's better off at home."

Train trips are necessary sometimes, if only to get away from situations which are more uncomfortable for baby than the trip, but they are nevertheless tremendous bugaboos unless by practice the mother has learned the art of traveling comfortably with baby.

The nursing baby is the most cheerful of travelers. His food arrives on schedule and with no digestive novelties the constant motion of the train usually keeps him snoozing most of the time.

It is the bottle baby who is an eternal problem. Changes of food and water are always dangerous, and when these changes are combined with the excitement of the journey, the worry as to their effect is sufficient to prevent a mother leaving the safety represented by home.

For a short journey the baby's formula may be mixed and boiled for ten minutes, put into a sterilized glass jar, cooled rapidly and packed in ice.

ALLOW FOR EVAPORATION OF BOTH MILK AND WATER

For longer journeys it has been found most successful to accustom baby beforehand to one or the other of the milks most used for traveling . . . unsweetened evaporated milk, or dried milk. These can be procured everywhere and are the same under all climatic conditions. If small cans of the evaporated milk are used, one for each feeding, no ice is necessary. Cans of the dried milk can be kept without ice for several days. Both dried and unsweetened evaporated milk are to be mixed when ready for use with boiled water, and if the water is boiled and put into the thermos bottle while hot, no further heating of the formula is necessary.

Our leaflet on evaporated-milk feedings will be sent any reader for the usual self-addressed and stamped envelope. Directions for feeding dried milk can be secured from your physician.

CARRY TWO BAGS

It is most convenient to carry two bags, one to contain baby's toilet articles, dresses sufficient to keep baby clean, a lightweight cover, small pillow, cap and stockings, plenty of diapers (paper and cheesecloth ones are the most successful as the first can be thrown away and the latter most easily washed and dried) and some light toys useful for wakeful or fretful periods.

The second bag can contain everything necessary for the feeding, sterilized bottles and nipples, can of sugar, small pan, and long-handled spoon, oranges and squeezer if baby takes orange juice, small jars of vegetable soup or sieved vegetables made just for baby's use and small enough so that a can is used at each feeding, salt, and cups or plates for the feeding.

Cereal can be procured in the diner for the older child and the milk formula used over it. Baked potato at night can be used in place of the more familiar cereal and may be easier to get at that hour. A ripe, sieved banana can always be used to replace cooked cereal.

Journeys need not be a bugaboo. It is only the mother who depends upon friendly passengers to aid her in amusing the children, or a porter to solve her feeding difficulties, who goes down to defeat.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

The Times' free cooking school conducted by Chef Wyman has been discontinued for the summer. Date for resuming has not been set but will be announced later.

CHOPPED BEEF AND CABBAGE LEAVES

One pound of lean, raw beef, chopped fine, a seasoning of salt and paprika, two tablespoonfuls of onion juice, one-half cupful of cooked rice, two large tomatoes, one onion chopped, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, or lemon juice, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, eight large cabbage leaves. Season the meat highly with the salt and paprika, add the onion juice and rice, soak the cabbage leaves in boiling water for five minutes, lay one of them on a board, lay a portion of the meat in each leaf, roll up and tie, place them in a saucepan, add a little water, the tomatoes, chopped onion, vinegar and the sugar. They can be placed in the oven and allow to bake until the cabbage is tender, or place on the top of the stove and allowed to simmer slowly.

COFFEE JELLY

Two tablespoonfuls of gelatine, one-half a cupful of water, two cupfuls of strong, boiling coffee, three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, half a cupful of boiling water and one-fourth cupful of sweet cooking sherry. Soak the gelatine in the cold water, add the boiling coffee and sugar, and stir until dissolved, then add the boiling water and allow to cool, add the wine, strain into a mold, when hard turn out and serve with whipped cream.

BANANA CROQUETTES

Select small ripe bananas, remove the peel and scrape off the coarse threads, trim off the ends to make each banana a cylinder shape, beat one egg and add to it two or three tablespoonfuls of milk, roll the bananas, in the egg, cover completely, then roll in soft, sifted bread crumbs. Fry them in deep-hot shortening, and drain them on soft paper. Serve as a vegetable with beef or lamb or a hot sweet sauce may be poured over them to be used as a dessert.

BERNAISE SAUCE FOR VEGETABLES

Cream one-half a cupful of butter until it is fluffy and light; then add a little at a time, a little of the vegetable broth that the sauce is going to be used with, and continue the beating until the butter mixture has doubled in bulk, adding it cold. Be careful to mix it in slowly so the butter will not lose its fluffiness, cover the vegetables with this sauce and serve at once.

QUICK PARKER HOUSE ROLLS

Four cupfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, six level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, four tablespoonfuls of shortening, one and one-half cupfuls of milk. Sift the flour, salt, and baking powder together add the melted shortening to the milk, and slowly add to the dry ingredients, stir until smooth, place on a well-floured board and knead lightly, roll out one-half inch thick, cut with a biscuit cutter, crease each circle with the back of the knife in the center, brush with melted butter and fold over place rather far apart in an oiled pan, allow to stand fifteen minutes in a warm place, brush with melted butter and bake in a hot oven fifteen to twenty minutes.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

LAST OF VACATION

For school children there now remains only about another month of vacation before the strenuous studies of the school year begin. Every moment of this last month should be spent by the child in health-building activities. Sunbathing and swimming should be freely indulged in. Almost all of the play should be outdoors. Children should be discouraged from playing indoor games at this season of the year when there is such an abundance of good to be received from sunshine and outdoor air.

MORE VEGETABLES NOW

This is the time when children should be encouraged to eat plenty of the fresh green vegetables which are so abundant everywhere at this time of the year. The good effects from literally stuffing on these vegetables now will last well into the winter months. The fresh vegetables of August and September are loaded with vitamins and bone-building material. These foods also contain the largest amounts of those elements which nourish the nervous system. Here is a list of some of the vegetables which are now so plentiful and also inexpensive. Carrots, turnips, parsnips, beets, celery, spinach, lettuce, tomatoes, chard, kale, okra, summer squash, cress, salsify.

Then there are so many fine fruits, such as cherries, apples, peaches, apricots, plums and all of the luscious berries and melons.

Now is the time to get the good out of these valuable foods, as many of them are not available in a fresh form during the winter months and are also a great deal more expensive.

Children should be encouraged to drink plenty of water during the summer months, as this helps bodily elimination of wastes, and extra water is needed during the warm months, as much more is naturally lost through perspiration.

To encourage skin elimination, children should also have two or three cold shower baths a day if they do not go in swimming.

Summer is a splendid time for taking care of any minor defects that the child may have. Most children suffer from some slight defects, and during the summer is the best time to correct them. If the child needs attention to his teeth, take him to a dentist. If he is bothered with enlarged tonsils, now is a good time to put him on a suitable diet for reducing them. If the child's eyes need attention, take him to your optometrist. If he has fallen arches, have him take exercises for correcting this defect, and let him go barefooted, as this aids in strengthening the muscles of the feet.

See that your children get the most good out of this last month of vacation by having them practice healthful habits which will more likely assure health during the winter, and continued health through the adult years of their lives.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

by Honore Booth
FASHION EXPERT OF HARPER'S BAZAAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. (Exclusive) It is erroneous to think that so practical a piece of jewelry as a watch has no fashion aspect. The bejeweled dress watch is as sensitive to changes in the color scheme as a barometer. The sports watch is constantly being developed in new and amusing ways. I have seen two lately which I thought particularly delightful. Both were from the famous old Paris leather house, Hermes. One, for golfers, is concealed, when closed, in the buckle of a smart leather belt. Open, it remains attached to the buckle at the base, the top drops forward so that the entire watch is at a right angle to the belt, parallel to the ground. The dial is arranged so that it may be read by the wearer, from above. The other is a traveling clock in a case the shape and size of a miniature kodak. It opens in a clever way, so that it stands with part of the case as a base.

"Crystal," as applied to a watch, is frequently a misnomer nowadays. For crystals are, in many exotic timepieces, slivers of precious stones. Some years ago, someone thought that a diamond would make a far harder protection for the dial than the materials commonly used. The idea was developed, and the diamond was followed by the colored stones. A lovely effect, as though you are looking into crystalline waters, is had by making an emerald serve as a watch crystal. A topaz or yellow diamond is brilliant.

Rings on Her Fingers

Do not feel that if you cannot have real jewelry you should wear none. Gone are the days when artificial gems were frowned upon. Only one rule must guide you in your choice of costume rings, bracelets, etc. They must be frankly what they are. Let them be purely decorative, worn for their color or novelty. Do not ape the precious stones. There is a definite scope for each. An example of this is the costume "ruby." This is, in many cases, a tomato red, not considered a good color for a real ruby, but definitely attractive in the other type of stones.

Rings are particularly charming. Crystal and crystal rings with flat rectangular plaques in the front are made to be worn plain or monogrammed. Even an entire short name may be used on such a ring. Another in silver has a huge pearl-shaped ball of silver set between two triangular-shaped bits of black onyx, set in fine silver beading. Another ring of metal rather whiter than silver, widens toward the center front and bulges, but it has no definite outline. Big round silver bracelets are being made also to go with these rings which Paris sponsors.

A delightful novelty, and one that I feel certain will solve many a woman's problem as to what to give to the men of her family and among her friends for birthdays, is a tie clip and a crystal with the insignia of his yacht cut into it and developed in colors. This idea may be elaborated, clips for women who yacht, cuff links, etc. And the same pieces may be made with monograms rather than flags.

Fashion DecreeS

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

The Outgrown Dress

If the little girl's dress fits everywhere except in length and you have no more of the material, buy plain material in a blending shade. Let down the hem and apply the new material in a false hem to the bottom of the skirt. Use more of the plain material at the sleeves and make a little tie or bow for the neck. It will finish out the little dress in a very pleasing way.

Chamois Gloves

The rinse water for chamois gloves should be clean but just as soapy as the water in which they were washed in order for them to dry nice and soft. Slip them off your hands, squeeze them in a towel, blow out the fingers and hang in a current of air to dry.

Less Breakage

Rubber tips for sink faucets can be purchased for a few pennies and they certainly save breakage in dishes, for somehow that sharp nickel edge of the spigot just will come in contact with a good dish or glass now and then, try as we will.

Pasted Fast

The Duplicate List

There is something irritating about that duplicate list we must make when sending clothes to the laundry. This can be avoided if you will just put a piece of carbon paper between your two sheets of paper and keep the carbon copy for yourself, sending the original to the laundry.

RESPONSE FOR COMEDY KEEN

Audience Gives Approval to "The Champion"

Grant Mitchell Receives Lively Tribute

Excellent Portrayals are Mark of Play

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Enthusiastic applause caused "The Champion" to be an event of the theater last evening, with Grant Mitchell as the specially nominated hero. A responsive audience gave this stage piece by A. E. Thomas and Thomas Louden a royal welcome at the Hollywood Playhouse, and lavished a tribute on its leading actor. Claude King as the director and David H. Thompson as the producer gained their proportion of the honors.

"The Champion" is not a new play, but it is an eminently amusing one, and it is presented by a cast that avail themselves of its latitude for comedy—one might also say its longitude, since there is a large geographical angle. That's to say this piece effectively stresses the British viewpoint on things American, and the American viewpoint on things British, not wholly unlike "So This is London."

Here is the situation, which, as it happens, is entirely different from the Cohan comedy of "Hands Across the Seas."

The leading character in "The Champion," as the title infers, is a prize fighter. He has been a lightweight title-holder. He has retired from the ring, and is now in the legal profession and in politics.

English by birth, he decides to return to his former home, which he had left in his youth because of differences with his father. He comes to the paternal mansion, to find his family socially ambitious and the parent whom he had crossed swords with, more hidebound than ever. One of his brothers has entered the ministry, the other is running for Parliament on the (very) conservative ticket. Everything is most strictly polite, conventional and snobbish.

It is scarcely the ideal atmosphere for an ex-pugilist to invade too suddenly. The son had meant to keep his sporting life a secret, but he is recognized by the town's innkeeper, who tells his wife, who in turn relates the news to the world. Whereupon there are headlines in the papers, and the family, at least several of them, think they are irrevocably disgraced.

Before the play is over it is proved that they are not disgraced but famous on account of their son. The home which had all the aspects of a quiet English country mansion, is turned into a veritable art museum of the manly art of self-defense, and becomes the scene of banqueting and goodfellowship such as it had never known before.

The plot of "The Champion" creaks here and there, but the mirth of its situations lives on gayly enough, and there is such a zestful production of the piece that it is doubly enjoyed.

Not for one minute could you make me believe that Mitchell himself was an ex-lightweight boxer, but he has a style of playing and a personality that are immensely winning of popular favor. Many will remember him for his fine performance of the serious genre in "The Hero." His work in "The Champion" is as light as that was somber. He will I am sure, be liked greatly by those who see the play, because of his personal qualities and his comedy ability. The need for a perfect type characterization in such a play as "The Champion" is not entirely a requisite for a pleasant entertainment.

Mitchell was called before the curtain for a speech, and remarked that few Californians who had ever visited the locale of the play, had remarked on the sunkissed audiences of Los Angeles. He thus expressed his appreciation of the applause. He introduced King, who also said a few words of thanks, and Thompson.

One could spend some time on the individual merits of such players as Herbert Bunston, Claud Allister, Richard Whorf, Evan Thomas and others as evidenced in this play. The work of Bunston and Allister was notably delightful.

Doris Lloyd, who is the leading woman, is not cast for brilliance but niceness on this occasion, and she is to be preferred naturally in the former environment.

Lucy Beaumont, Charles Coleman, Nenette Vallon and others qualify acceptably.

Ann Harding to be Hostess at Carthay Circle

Ann Harding, beautiful and talented star of "Holiday," current at the Carthay Circle, will personally attend the theater this afternoon and act as hostess to a group of prominent Southern California club women.

ANN HARDING

The club women, most of whom are on the film reviewing board of the California Federated Women's Clubs, will be met by Miss Harding when they enter the theater. They will be given corsages to commemorate the occasion.

Delegates who will attend represent the Wilshire Women's Club, the Women's Club of Hollywood, the Catholic Women's Club, the Friday Morning Club, the California Women of the Golden West, the Beverly Hills Women's Club, the Cosmos Club, the Native Daughters of the Golden West, the Ebell Club and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

NEWS-REEL HOUSE PLANNED

A theater devoted exclusively to the showing of news reels is the latest addition to the local rialto, according to an announcement made recently by Harold B. Franklin, president of Fox West Coast Theaters.

Crews of workmen are now transforming the President Theater, which formerly housed the Henry Duffy Players, into a modern motion-picture house, which, when it opens Saturday, will be known as the News-Reel Theater.

Although a house of this type is a distinct novelty in the West, it has already proven its popularity in New York, where the Embassy Theater has been playing for nearly a year.

It is the purpose of the news-reel theater to present to its patrons a program consisting of the latest happenings chronicled in the daily newspapers, particularly emphasizing local events. News of national and international importance will also be shown.

The plans of transforming the former stage theater into a modern motion-picture house are quite elaborate, it is stated. Work is being rushed in the renovation and redecoration and the installation of the newest type of sound equipment.

'Blue Peacock' Tops Plays at Theater Mart

BY ELENA BOLAND

A feeling of personal friendliness was evinced in the appreciation accorded a program of four one-act plays presented Wednesday evening at the intimate Theater Mart.

Set and costumed to artistic value, "The Blue Peacock" was the first on the list. An original idea, a psychological slant on the eternal triangle, has been treated with partial effectiveness by the authoress, Katherine T. Von Blon. That toward the end the play bordered on heroism was felt to be a concession rather than the authoress's intention.

A peacock, standing for superstition and bad luck, is the basis of the theme. Its presence in the home of Laurens Neilson impeded the romance between Neilson and the third party, Nadya. Yet, in reverse order the peacock restored Neilson to his patient wife.

Miami Alvarez lent a dynamic note to the playlet, her poise being chiefly noticed. Her role of the rejected and thwarted Nadya was sometimes difficult to keep within the bounds of sincerity. That Miss Alvarez almost convinced is a compliment to her ability.

Dayton Lummis, Dorothy Seay and Shizu Okajima completed the cast. Lummis with more restraint would have commanded the situation as he should. His positiveness, however, was a commendable feature. Miss Okajima's pantomime added a note of quaintness to her performance.

"The Dear Unfair Sex" offered a welcome note of comedy to the rather unrelieved seriousness of the evening. Morals or moose seemed to be the problem which prompted John Hendell to write this. Justina Wayne effervesced through her role of a self-saturated club woman bent on moral improvement. Her competency was outstanding. John Manning now and then got in a word about his moose, but altogether appeared rather unsatisfied with his opportunity.

Another surprise catch came in "The Unexpected," by Adeline Marshall Durlin. Mistaken identity and two friends in love with the same man were the thesis. The most noteworthy element in the affair was Janice Joyce. Unmistakable talent is hers, which direction would bring out. Her singing was one of the nicest notes on the program. Justina Wayne portrayed a trifle too uncertainly the friend.

At first, one expected "The Beauty Contest" to be satirical. But too soon it developed into a bitter conflict, ending with the last survivor on the floor. Don L. Brodie, in a small bit, showed the professional attitude. Dorothy West, as a daughter taught only to be beautiful, was agreeable throughout and had moments of real power. Emily Straube in her emotional scenes was excellent. In writing this, Madeline Blackmore injected intelmittent lines of clever comedy.

Jacksons Play Detectives; One on Screen Only

While Thomas E. Jackson is giving his convincing portrayals of police detectives on the screen, such as that of Daly in "For the Defense" at the Paramount, his older brother is actually living what Tom enacts in make-believe. William Jackson is an honor member of New York's homicide squad, the gold badge of distinction having been conferred upon him several years ago for the daring capture of a radio burglar.

Jackson, the actor, is not limited to detective roles, however, as his long record of comedy roles on the eastern Broadway gives evidence of his versatility.

'WISE CHILD' DUE TONIGHT AT BELASCO

Author of Piece and Stars of Stage and Screen Plan Theater Parties

David Belasco's original New York cast of "It's a Wise Child" will make its local bow tonight at the Belasco Theater. The occasion, according to reports, will be an outstanding social and theatrical event.

Pauline Frederick is arranging a large party, as is Ann Harding. Laurence Johnson, the author of the play, is also entertaining a party of studio stars. Robert Milton, Dorothy Burgess, Frank Borzage, Frank Lloyd, Rufus Le Maire, Huntly Gordon, Marie Wells and others have made reservations.

The engagement of "It's a Wise Child" at the Belasco is limited, as the company must return shortly to resume its eastern season.

London to Have Novel Premiere

A unique premiere, in which a play will be seen for the first time as a stage production and a talking picture simultaneously, will occur in London tonight, when "Let Us Be Gay," in which Norma Shearer starred in films, will open as a stage play, this to be followed by the first showing of the picture itself.

The event will take place at the Lyric Theater. The stage production of the Rachel Crothers play will star Tallulah Bankhead. At midnight the picture, as produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, with Norma Shearer as the star, will have its London premiere, being shown to a specially invited audience.

CONDUCTOR LAYS DOWN BOWL BATON

Molinari Conducts His Last Concert of Current Season Here

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Saturday evening concert of Hollywood Bowl Orchestra marked Bernardino Molinari's last appearance as conductor of the season. The program consisted of Bach's "Air for the G string," the "New World Symphony," by Dvorak; the Strauss "Don Juan" and the overture to "Cleopatra," by Mancinelli.

A comparatively small audience gathered to hear the program. Its lack in numbers was compensated for by vociferous applause and the orchestra greeted the departing leader with a fanfare at the opening of the concert.

The effectiveness and beauty of the Bach number was increased immeasurably by being played in its original form, with the celebrated "Air" given to the soprano or first violins. The first violin section outdid itself in fine phrasing.

Molinari's conception of the Dvorak symphony, which is a prime favorite with American audiences and always a success in the out-of-doors, is light. He takes the tempi faster than most conductors and gives it a certain surface brilliance thereby. Vincent Schipilitti distinguished himself in the Largo which has a famous French-horn part.

The "Don Juan" tone poem by Richard Strauss was another triumph in program music for Molinari, who conducted it with the fire and enthusiasm he invariably devotes to Strauss; and one remembers that it was Richard Strauss who first drew attention to the merit of Molinari as a conductor and paved the way for his appointment as leader of the Augusteum Orchestra at Rome, where he has made a world reputation.

Molinari concluded his month's reign at the Hollywood Bowl with a gesture toward his countryman Luigi Mancinelli, whose overture to the drama "Cleopatra" he played. The overture is tuneful and has an attractive strain of Italian melody.

'GOOD NEWS' ANNOUNCED AT LOEW'S

Collegiate Film Starts Thursday; Rube Wolf on Stage Program

"Good News" on the screen and Rube Wolf's return to the local stage is the program lined up for Loew's State Theater, starting Thursday.

"Good News" is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film based on the stage musical comedy but treated directorially as a collegiate and romantic comedy. The cast, featuring Bessie Love, Mary Lawlor, Cliff Edwards, Stanley Smith and Gus Shy, enact a story of romance on the campus, spirited fun, football and thrills. Joe Farnham's dialogue adds to the comedy. Frances Marion wrote the continuity and Edgar J. MacGregor and Nick Grinde directed.

Rube Wolf has recently returned from Broadway, where he proved quite a success, it is said. He is planning a gala show for his opening appearance.

"Candlelight" Seat Sale to Start Today

The seat sale starts today for the two-weeks' engagement of "Candlelight," gay Viennese comedy, which will usher in the new season at the Biltmore Theater on Monday, the 25th inst.

Eugenie Leontovich, noted Russian actress, heads the cast of "Candlelight," which is a sparkling harlequinade, revealing the adventures of a maid who poses as her mistress to win the love of a prince, who turns out to be only a valet. Reginald Owen, Alan Mowbray and others are also in the cast.

Gilbert Miller's original production of "Candlelight" comes direct from an eight months' run at the Empire Theater, New York.

WESTERN FILM OPENS

"A Man from Wyoming," with Gary Cooper in the starring role, starts today at the Uptown Theater as the second attraction of Greater Talkie Season.

COUNTY BUDGET TO BE SLASHED

Tax Rate May be Kept Even Below Last Year's

Supervisors Indicate Cutting All Along Line

No Reduction Scheduled in Employees' Salaries

Not only will there be reductions in the proposed expenditures listed in the preliminary budget of Los Angeles county for the fiscal year of 1930-31, to keep the county tax rate down to 88 cents, the same as last year, but there is a possibility of sufficient cutting to make the rate even lower.

This was the assertion of a majority of the members of the Board of Supervisors, including Chairman Graves and Supervisor Wright, chairman of the Budget Committee, last night on the eve of the hearings of the budget, which will begin at 10 a.m. today.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

The hearings are public wherein taxpayers are afforded opportunity to appear before the board and present arguments relative to proposed county expenditures. Under the law the hearings do not last more than ten days. Following the hearings the board fixes the tax rate. This will be done on September 2, next.

The general county-revenue budget as outlined in the preliminary document for the fiscal year of 1930-31 calls for expenditures totaling $62,729,789 as compared with last year's final figure adopted amounting to $58,248,586.

Of this year's estimated expenditures the Supervisors calculate a total of $35,366,723 will be raised by taxation as against a total of $32,624,823 raised by taxation during the last fiscal year.

FIGURES LISTED

Last year the special district revenue budgets totaled $8,980,046, of which $5,777,276 was raised by taxation. In 1930-31 this special districts' total is $12,255,165, of which $9,010,065 is to be raised by taxation. These budget allowances are distinct from the general county budget, being applicable to the special districts affected such as acquisition and improvement districts, drainage improvements, fire protection, flood control and garbage disposal.

"There is a determination on the part of the board," Chairman Graves declared yesterday, "to make as many reductions this year as possible to keep the tax rate down to 88 cents, or even lower, without impairing the efficiency of the county government."

NO SALARY CUTS

Both Supervisors Graves and Wright declared there will be reductions all along the line aside from the major ones announced several days ago. These included the eliminating of the item of $350,000 for at new nurses' home at the General Hospital; one of $250,000 for new voting machines; another one of $210,000 for the leasing of an airport and $107,000 for a new building in connection with Juvenile Hall.

Salaries of county employees are to be kept intact, the Supervisors indicated. Efforts will be made to make the reductions in proposed improvements that can be deferred until times get somewhat better, the officials said.

EXCESS GOATS CAUSE ARREST

Health Officials Complain Woman Has Seventeen With Limit Two

Seventeen goats are too many, according to city health officials who arrested Mrs. Fannie Patten, 4116 Eagle Rock Boulevard, for keeping that many at her home. Mrs. Patten pleaded not guilty to violating the city ordinances before Municipal Judge Curtis and was released without bail pending trial. When she failed to appear for trial, however, Judge Curtis ordered a bench warrant for arrest, setting bail on the warrant at $100 and giving it to police officers to serve.

The city ordinances allow only two goats to be kept within the city limits, according to Deputy City Prosecutor Hall.

CITY LURES ANOTHER OF SCHINDLERS

New Yorker Joins Father and Brother Here to Open Investigation Office

John B. Schindler, one of the officers of the R. C. Schindler Corporation of New York City, investigating firm, has arrived in Los Angeles to be Pacific Coast manager of the concern with offices in the Title Insurance Building on Spring street. The company is best known for its activity in the exposures of San Francisco and Atlantic graft cases in years gone by.

JOHN B. SCHINDLER

Mr. Schindler was accompanied to the Coast by his wife and twin girls.

"We are not entirely strangers in California," Schindler declared last night. "My father, John Schindler, Sr., was chairman of the committee appointed to select an airport for Los Angeles and has been active in the business life of this city for a number of years. My brother Raymond Schindler also is well known in your city where he has been called upon to handle investigations for large financial institutions.

"Nothing has impressed me more here than your schools. They are splendid. I believe that the personnel of your educational institutions is higher in every way than in any place I have ever been. And I have found this opinion exists all over. It seems to be a world-wide conviction that nowhere are there finer educational facilities than in Los Angeles.

"During my recent trips abroad I was astounded at the tremendous interest everywhere in California. It seemed to me that everybody in Europe whom I met, and particularly in England and Italy, were gazing toward California."

MORE RADIO CONCERNS ENGAGE SHOW SPACE

Officials of the eighth annual Los Angeles National Radio Show, to be held at Ambassador Auditorium September 1 to 6, said yesterday that more than a score of eastern makers of radio sets and equipment, who have never before exhibited their products at Los Angeles shows, have engaged space at the coming event. The enlistment of the newcomers will put the Los Angeles radio show on an equal footing with similar events in New York and Chicago, heretofore considered the foremost in the country, officials declared.

REQUEST FILED

A request for a petition to be circulated for the extension of Burlington avenue between Twelfth street and Pico street has been filed with the City Council by the Burlington Avenue Association and referred to the City Engineer for attention.

POLITICS

THE WATCHMAN

Trend of Political Thought and Action

—BY THE SENTRY ON HIS BEAT—

Political support for Senator J. W. McKinley, candidate for re-election to the State Senate, is greatly increasing, according to Mrs. W. S. Sanderson, civic leader of Venice, who has sponsored Senator McKinley's campaign. Among those actively engaged in working for the election of Senator McKinley and to get out a heavy vote in the bay district are Mrs. Susan F. Hickman, Mrs. W. F. Fair, Mrs. Isabelle M. Curran, Mrs. Bertha M. Blowers, Mrs. Mary Ward McKenney, Mrs. F. J. McKenney, Mrs. F. J. House of Venice, Mrs. Lea A. Tranter of Ocean Park, Mrs. Lena L. Dunn, Mrs. J. G. Fisk, Mrs. Lester Keller and Mrs. F. H. Maurer of Santa Monica and the Pacific Palisades. Neighborhood meetings are being held in all the bay district cities and the women declare that Senator McKinley's record in the last session of the Legislature is being cited as the proof of his ability to represent Los Angeles county with credit to the community.

Strong indorsement of the candidacy of Buron Fitts for Governor is contained in a letter written by H. G. Redwine, local attorney. "Having watched his course of action in public life in this city for many years, I am certain that it has been such as to deserve the hearty commendation of all law-abiding citizens," Mr. Redwine writes. "He reluctantly resigned the high office of Lieutenont-Governor to take over the onerous duties of District Attorney of this county. The political atmosphere of this county has been so greatly purified by his administration that the State cannot do a wiser thing than to obtain his services on a larger scale."

Among recent indorsements of the candidacy of Sidney T. Graves for re-election to the Board of Supervisors are: The Southern California Retail Druggists' Association, the Progressive Chiropractors' Association, the War Veterans' League, the California Naturopathic Association, the Osteopathic Association, and the California State Spiritualist Association.

Among the principles for which Frank M. Smith, Republican candidate for Attorney-General, stands are the following: Legal decisions—not political policies; return of the powers of the Attorney-General, taken away for political purposes; just and equitable taxation; curbing special assessments and eliminating special privileges; jsut representation for Southern California; just legislative appropriations; and an ever-increasing effort to build up and solidify the principles of true Republicanism.

"Keeping books for a business the annual transactions of which involve $153,000,000," is the way Ray L. Riley, candidate for re-election as State Controller, characterizes the work of the office. Collection of State taxes is another phase. He pointed out that last year his office collected approximately $50,000,000 franchise taxes, $32,000,000 gasoline taxes, $10,500,000 inheritance taxes, $5,500,000 corporation income taxes, and $1,500,000 motor truck transportation taxes.

Col. Warren Bovard, vice-president of the University of Southern California and vice-chairman of Senator Harry A. Chamberlin's Southern California committee for Lieutenant Governor, is in the north conducting a campaign in behalf of the Senator.

Among those indorsing Raymond Tremaine, candidate for the Assembly from the Fifty-seventh District, are: Judge Louis W. Myers, Frank J. Finlayson, Mrs. A. B. Cooke, ex-Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, Thomas C. Ridgeway, Mrs. William Read, Andrew J. Copp, Jr.; Roy A. Stockton, Mrs. Harry Leigh Bentley, A. C. Denman, Kennedy Ellsworth, Raymond L. Haight and LeRoy D. Owen.

Supporters of Ed W. Hopkins for re-election as County Assessor continue to drive home to the voters the fact that there are three other Hopkinses on the ticket with him, put there apparently by political enemies hoping to confuse the voters.

Latest indorsers of Hugh A. Thatcher, candidate for Supervisor from the First District, are: Municipal League, San Gabriel Valley Taxpayers' League, City Taxpayers' League of Los Angeles, Harbor Branch of the Los Angeles County Medical Association, Pomona Valley Medical Association and the Woman's Club of Alhambra.

Harry Lyons, candidate for re-election to the Assembly from the Sixty-fourth District, reports the following indorsements: Republican County Central Committee of the Sixty-Fourth District, Sixty-fourth Assembly Republican Club, Women's Republican Club of the same district, Northwest Improvement Association, Federated Voters of the Los Angeles Amusement Organization, Steuben Society of America, Veterans' Republican League, Disabled War Veterans, Northwest Anti-Assessment League and Los Angeles County Council, United Veterans of the Republic.

At the last meeting of the Citizens' and Taxpayers' Protective League on July 31, last, the members went on record as indorsing the candidacy of Capt. Clyde Plummer for Sheriff of Los Angeles county. As individuals and as an organization the league asks all public officials for honesty and justice in the conduct of the affairs of their offices.

The Ninth District Republican Congressional Committee is sponsoring a huge reunion Republican rally and basket picnic to be held next Saturday at Recreation Park, Long Beach. Automobile caravans are scheduled to leave each Assembly District and proceed to Long Beach so as to arrive at the park about 11 a.m. Under the direction of the Long Beach committee on arrangements, composed of Galen H. The monthly allowance for Mrs. Edna R. Vogel, widow of R. Fred Vogel, millionaire business man, was increased from $1000 to $2500 by order of Superior Judge Dunne, on file yesterday, despite the objection of Mrs. Amanda Meter Salter, sister of the deceased. Mrs. Vogel asserted the increase was necessary to meet assessments on property. Mrs. Salter contends that Mrs. Vogel, who sued for divorce and obtained a property settlement of $1000 a month, is not entitled to any more. The Vogel estate was said to be worth $2,225,000, yielding $90,000 a year. By terms of the will most of the estate goes to Mrs. Vogel and her two sons, John and Fred.

ATTIC MURDER DEFENSE NEAR

State to Rest Oesterreich Case Early Today

Counsel of Widow Expected to Move Dismissal

No Hints Yet Given She will Take Stand

Defense of Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, charged with murdering her wealthy husband eight years ago, is scheduled to begin in Superior Judge Hardy's court this morning.

When court adjourned for the week-end last Thursday, Dep. Dist.-Attys. Costello and Russell announced that the State's case is practically complete and that they intend to rest after calling one more witness, whose testimony will be brief.

Defense Attorneys Jerry Geisler, Le Compte Davis and Willner held a lengthy conference Saturday, but declined to comment upon what steps they intend to pursue. It is considered likely, however, that as soon as the prosecution rests they will ask that the charges be dismissed against Mrs. Oesterreich on the ground that the evidence has not directly connected Mrs. Oesterreich with the shooting of her husband and that, under the law, such evidence cannot support verdicts of first-degree murder, second-degree murder or manslaughtre, the only three verdicts allowed under a murder charge.

The Oesterreich trial will enter its third week today and indications are that the case will go to the jury before Friday, the defense having informed the court that their witnesses probably will not consume much more than one day. Whether Mrs. Oesterreich will take the stand in her own defense has not been definitely announced by her attorneys.

PLEA DENIED FOR RETRIAL OF OIL SUIT

Rio Grande Company Wins Contract Dispute with Eureka Petroleum

Of interest to all oil companies is a recent opinion of Superior Judge Yankwich refusing to grant a new trial in the controversy between the Rio Grande Oil Company and the Eureka Petroleum Corporation over the effect of a contract involving the sale and delivery of gasoline.

Judge Yankwich's decision gives judgment to the Rio Grande company in the sum of $15,737, on account of gasoline sold Eureka between January 1 and May 6, 1928. Each concern sued the other, Eureka suing Rio Grande for asserted breach of contract. Eureka pleaded a contract whereby Rio Grande agreed to sell a minimum of fifteen and a maximum of thirty tank cars of gasoline a day at 10 cents per gallon, including the 3-cent State tax, and that by tank cars the parties meant cars of 12,000 gallons.

Following a price rise to 10 1-4 cents a gallon, Eureka complained, deliveries were cut, although 12,000-gallon cars were demanded, and that when the contract terminated a shortage of 705,000 gallons was shown on deliveries. Asserting that at that time the market price was 15 1-2 cents a gallon, Eureka asked for $37,012 damages. Rio Grande sued for $15,737 asserted to be due for gasoline sold and not paid for.

Judge Yankwich held that there was no breach of contract on the part of Rio Grande, but that the agreement was properly cancelled because of the Eureka company's failure to pay for the gasoline.

The opinion discusses the question as to which has the say about the amount of gasoline to be delivered in a contract which designates a maximum and a minimum. Judge Yankwich held that, from the nature of the contract, the Rio Grande company was bound to deliver only the minimum. He wrote:

"We cannot say that the Rio Grande Oil Company chose by this contract to leave to the Eureka Petroleum Corporation the determination of the maximum quantity of gasoline that they were to buy. If you place such an interpretation upon the contract we would find the Rio Grande company in a position where it would have, at all times, to keep in storage, irrespective of market fluctuations, 50 per cent of its product to abide by the wishes and needs of buyers who were themselves reselling the product in the open market. We believe that by the agreement the Rio Grande Oil Company bound itself to deliver the minimum."

FIFTY-SIX DIE BY SUICIDE

Self-Inflicted Deaths in County During July Exceed Those Caused by Traffic

During the month of July fifty-six persons in Los Angeles county committed suicide, it was revealed yesterday in the monthly report of Coroner Nance. This number, according to available records, is the largest for any one month in the history of the local Coroner's office.

Deaths from traffic mishaps in the county during July totaled fifty-three, of which twenty-eight were within the city of Los Angeles and twenty-five in county territory. Three of the deaths in county territory occurred as the result of accidents outside Los Angeles county.

DEATH AGENCIES

Of the fifty-six suicides, thirty-three were in the city of Los Angeles and twenty-three in county territory. Forty-nine of the acts of self-destruction were committed by persons between 20 and 65 years of age. Forty-one of the total suicides were males and fifteen were females. Shooting was the method of death in nineteen instances and strangulation in ten. Ill health, financial troubles and domestic difficulties are given as the outstanding causes.

Of the total traffic accidents in the county, collisions between automobiles caused fourteen deaths, the most of any one classification. Incompetent handling of automobiles and exceeding the speed limit are cited as the two outstanding causes of the accidents resulting in deaths. Twenty-seven of the victims were between the ages of 20 and 45. Twelve females and forty-one males comprise the total.

INDUSTRIAL DEATHS

Industrial accidents during July resulted in nine deaths and miscellaneous mishaps in thirty-three, of which nine were from infection and seven each from drowning and burns. Ten of the miscellaneous-accident victims, of the largest number of any age classification, were between 10 and 20 years of age.

Only five homicides, the least number in recent months, are listed in the report. One of the homicides is termed justifiable. Five persons died as the result of airplane accidents. Coroner Nance reported further that during July his office performed 277 autopsies, conducted fifty-six inquests and made eight chemical analyses and eighty-nine investigations.

Woman Changes Her Mind About Going to Jail

Mrs. Sofia Glutz, 25 years of age, changed her mind about wanting to go to jail after seeing Central Police Station, according to officers who arrested her, and subsequent proceedings in Municipal Judge Marchant's court.

Policemen McWilliams and De Armond reported they answered a telephone complaint from an apartment at 616 South Bixel street regarding a drunken woman. Arriving, they found Mrs. Glutz, who said she had made the complaint and wanted to be taken to jail. The officers endeavored to dissuade her, telling her to go to bed and "sleep it off," but she insisted. While being booked, however, she regarded the ancient police station with disfavor and then asked whether she could get out on bail. Posting a $100 bill as bail, she was released after being ordered to report for trial next day.

In Judge Marchant's court she failed to appear and the $100 bail was ordered forfeited. Inasmuch as the bail forfeited was five times the usual $20 fine in drunk cases, Judge Marchant did not order a warrant for her arrest.

Chamber Praised by Grape Leader

The success of the Federal Farm Board plan for the stabilization of the California grape industry was largely due to the support of the commercial groups of the State, according to Wylie Giffen, grape industry leader.

In a recent letter to A. G. Arnoll, secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Giffen declared that the local chamber is responsible for the fine showing made in Southern California in the drive for membership in the board plan and also for assistance in the grower education program utilized throughout the State. He was chairman of the grower's organization committee which effected an 85 per cent control of the grape acreage of the State.
